A LARGE VOTE POLLED.

Such is the Report from the Large Cities.

SNIDER BEING CUT AT ST. PAUL.

Minneapolis Has Its First Trial of the Australian System; News from Other Cities.

St. PAUL, Nov. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The election is progressing quietly. Governor Merriam will not run ahead of his ticket. Considerable scratching is being done, especially on Snider. The county will probably go democratic from 2000 to 3000. Owen has developed some strength, and both parties are shy of the alliance vote.

ITS FIRST TRIAL.

The Australian System Working Beautifully in Minneapolis.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 4.—Today was the first general trial of the Australian ballot system in Minnesota. From all accounts at this early hour it works beautifully and a large vote is being polled.

Merriam is being scratched considerably for governor mostly in favor of Owen, the alliance candidate. It is probable that Wilson will also lose many votes to Owen.

A close fight for mayor is being made. Snider, republican for congress, is considered sure of an election. The weather is ideal. Up to 10 o'clock 17,000 votes had been cast.

CHICAGO'S STRUGGLE.

The Principle Contests Are For The Shrivert and Congress.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—The day is cloudless and well suited for drawing out a large vote and the indications are that the polling will be heavy. Everybody is at sea as to the final result. An unusually large vest pocket vote is being polled and all tickets are being heavily scratched.

In the hour from 6 to 7 about 10 per cent of the total registered vote was cast. From 7 to 12 o'clock the voting was heavy, and judging by the vote a large proportion of the registered vote will be cast.

Politicians who had figured on the result calculated that 165,000 ballots would be cast today.

Reports from all parts of the city up to 11:30 o'clock this afternoon received by the City Press association seem to indicate democratic gains. The chief fight in the city is over the shrivert and the results thus far seem to indicate that ex-Congressman Frank Lawler (dem.) is running ahead of his ticket. On the other hand it appears that Mrs. Gen. Mulligan for president of schools is losing votes to Albert G. Lane (rep.).

In the fourth congressional district, Congressman Adams seems to be having a hard fight against his democratic opponent, Gen. Walter C. Newberry, and in the first, Congressman Taylor (republican) appears to be having a similar experience in the race against W. G. Ewing.

Returns from the Second and Third districts do not yet indicate the drift of sentiment.

AT PHILADELPHIA.

An Exciting Congressional Contest in the Quaker City.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—The weather today is bright and clear and election division officers report an average full vote cast up to noon throughout the city. Any statement of results by the charter election officers in the various voting precincts would be merely guess work as under the state laws they are not allowed to open the ballot boxes or make any count of the votes cast until the polls are closed at 7 p. m.

An exciting contest is progressing in the third congressional district which was so many years represented by the late Samuel J. Randall. Richard Vaux was at the time of Mr. Randall's death elected to serve the unexpired term, but was defeated in the democratic nomination convention for the full term. Wm. McAlleer receiving the nomination.

Mr. Vaux's friends, however, placed him in nomination as an independent candidate and the republican party made no nomination.

The district comprises eight of the wards in the southern and central part of the city, and in 1888 gave Randall 17,642 votes against 112 scattering, there being no regular candidate against him.

McAlleer and Vaux each have a strong following, and the voters are persistently importuned by each faction to cast their votes for the respective favorite.

A shooting affray occurred in the district this morning in a quarrel at one of the voting places in the fourth ward, the result of a dispute between adherents of the two candidates. Four shots were fired but no one seriously injured.

A man named Bryan was shot in the hip. The wound was dressed at the Pennsylvania hospital. No arrests were made. It is said that much scratching and trading is being indulged in throughout the district.

Several Arrests at New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Many arrests have been made during the day for illegally registering and voting and for destroying ballots given out to vote. A number of saloon keepers were arrested and held for trial for keeping open their places in too near proximity to polling places. At Mayor Grant's headquarters it was said this forenoon that voting was proceeding in an intelligent manner and with but little delay.

LIVELY AT PITTSBURGH.

The Heaviest Vote in the History of the City Being Polled.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—From present indications the vote polled today will be the heaviest ever known here and great interest is being manifested in the election and both parties are exerting themselves to the utmost to get out every voter and so far the Pattison vote in Allegheny and Alleghany City is not as large as expected. Scratching is being done but not so generally as was expected. The indications are that the republican ticket will pull through with a reduced majority.

The fears of the election is the severe tearing of Congressman Dole (republican) is receiving. His majority, however, is so large that there is no danger of his defeat. Charges of fraud and illegal voting are being made by both parties.

In the first ward United States marshals have been placed at the polls. The feeling is intensely bitter, particularly within the precincts of the republican party but so far no trouble has been reported. The day is cloudy and raw. Nothing has been received from the interior of the county.

A POLITICAL SENSATION.

A Scheme to Flood Pittsburgh With Bogus Tax Receipts.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 4.—A political sensation has developed here, which has greatly exercised the local politicians. It is claimed that a scheme was concocted to flood the city with bogus tax receipts for the use of illegal voters. These were distributed, it is stated, from the club rooms of a well known political organization.

The persons who figure in the alleged plot are prominent in politics. Harry O'Toole, a clerk in the delinquent tax collector's office, claims that a large number of receipts were shown him by a member of the republican county committee, which bore the alleged signature of O'Toole. These he pronounced a forgery.

It is claimed that 15,000 of these bogus receipts have been given out. Democrats and independents have discredited the above report, branding it as a scheme on the part of the republican county committee to secure the reapportionment of republican United States marshals at the polls.

SHOULD VOTE EARLY.

President Harrison Seems to Have Neglected His Duty.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 4.—President Harrison and Attorney General Miller arrived in this city at 10 o'clock this morning on the limited Pan Handle train. The President and party were not expected until 11:30, but at Richmond, Ind., a sleeper was attached to the limited train thus getting the distinguished gentlemen in ahead of time.

The President was met at the Union station by his son-in-law, J. R. McKee, and at once driven to his residence on North Tennessee street. Up to 1 o'clock the President had not voted.

Tennessee's Reduced Vote.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 4.—The day is clear. Owing to the enforcement of the Dorch and registration laws, it is expected that the total number of votes will be reduced from that of 1888. Everything is quiet at the polls.

Not Surprising.

ROANOKE, Va., Nov. 4.—The weather is clear and cool. The voting is light and almost entirely democratic.

At Harrison's Home.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 4.—The weather today is almost perfect for voting. The air is crisp and cool, but the sun shines brightly, and it is almost a perfect autumn day. Everywhere there is great interest in the workings of the new election law.

Ohio's Bitter Struggle.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 4.—The weather is clear and cold and a heavy vote is being polled in every precinct of Toledo. Advice from our Sixth and Seventh congressional districts show that a bitter struggle over the two congressmen, and the vote will be nearly as large as on a Presidential year.

A Democratic Walk-over.

DANVILLE, Va., Nov. 4.—The weather is fair and balmy. The election is going off without interest. Lester (dem.) for congress, has no opposition except from Adams (prob.). Adams has not received half a dozen votes and the republicans are not voting at all. Lester will have a walk over in the district.

Large Vote at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 4.—Early this morning there was an inch of snow on the ground, which soon melted, leaving the streets in a slushy condition. The clouds cleared by noon and the sun shone brightly. The voting under the new law progressed smoothly except in rare instances, and the indications are that a large vote will be polled.

Small Colored Vote at Richmond.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 4.—Clear, pleasant weather prevails generally throughout the state, and the election is progressing quietly. The democrats are polling about the usual votes in the cities of Richmond and Manchester for George G. Wise for congress, who has no opposition. A notable feature of the election is the absence of colored voters at the polls.

Detroit Polling a Large Vote.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 4.—The weather cold and threatens rain or snow. There was a slight fall of snow last night and in consequence, the roads are muddy. These may have the effect of cutting down the votes in the rural districts. A large vote is being polled in the city.

McKinley Receives Cheers.

CANTON, Ohio, Nov. 4.—The weather is disagreeable, there was snow, rain and fog in the morning with indications of a heavy storm. A heavy ticket is being polled.

ing polled. Major McKinley was heartily cheered when he approached the polls at 9 o'clock and voted. So far as party managers can exert themselves, every vote will be polled. Warwicks friends are confident of defeating McKinley.

Indications are that an unusually full vote is being polled throughout the district. Fully three-quarters of the total vote had been cast by noon.

There seems to be less scratching than reported, although the republicans claim that Warrick is losing votes to McKinley. Democrats, on the other hand, claim that McKinley will run but little ahead of his ticket.

Interest in the outcome of the election is so general that business is practically suspended. Major McKinley expresses himself as confident of his election.

AT NEW YORK.

Many Lost Their Votes Through Ignorance of the Law.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The polls opened promptly at six o'clock this morning in every election district in this city, and the work of voting under the new ballot law began without delay.

The voting in consequence of the new law proceeded more slowly than usual, but with greater steadiness, and at noon a greater proportion of the registered voters than is customary at that hour had cast their ballots.

The new ballot law did not seem to interfere to any extent with the voting in the tenement house districts. They had all been diligently instructed in the use of pasters, and far more of them than of original official ballots were used.

In almost every district, however, some citizens lost their votes through failure to comply with the provisions of the law within the prescribed ten minutes. A large number of those who thus lost their votes were citizens possessing education and intelligence, but who had failed to acquaint themselves with the details of the law.

MISSOURI DEMOCRATIC.

Present Indications are, That the Democrats Will Win.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 4.—The election is passing off very quietly, and notwithstanding the new method of voting, an unusually large vote had been polled up to noon. Deep interest is being taken in the congressional contest. Mr. Kinzey, republican candidate in the Vesta district, is running unexpectedly well in the city part of that district.

In the Ninth district, Cobb (democrat) and Prosser (republican) are having a close contest, and in the Eighth, John J. O'Neill (democrat) is said to be leading Charles E. (republican). The republicans, however, claim the city ticket.

Nothing has been received from the interior of the state, but leading democrats claim that Judge Fyan (democrat) is being elected over Wade (republican) in the Thirtieth district.

Senator Vest arrived here this morning from a scamping tour of the state, and says the legislature of the state will not only be democratic but the state will go democratic.

It Is Their Privilege.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Secretaries Proctor, Tracy and Rusk, Postmaster General Wanamaker and Attorney-General Miller will vote today in their respective states. The newspaper offices were surrounded with crowds this morning, principally by office holders.

A Dead Man Voted.

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 4.—The weather throughout the state is favorable for a voting day and the indications are that a full vote will be polled. P. H. Ryan was arrested at precinct 1, ward 16, on the charge of voting on a dead man's name.

Light Vote at Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 4.—At this hour (11 a. m.) the election in this city is passing off quietly. There has been no disturbance whatever at the polling places, which were promptly opened at the appointed hour. The vote is very light. The weather is fair and warm.

Full Vote at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 4.—The weather is fine, bracing air affording every facility for bringing out a full vote. The voting is progressing quietly and with such rapidity a full vote is almost certain to be cast. In many precincts two-thirds of the registered vote was in before 9 o'clock.

This Is Expected.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 4.—The election is going on quietly and orderly throughout the state. The democratic ticket is winning in every district reported.

Foster Is All Right.

TEPPE, Ohio, Nov. 4.—Indications are that Congressman Foster is running slightly ahead of his ticket. There is little scratching. Foster will probably have about 800 majority in this city and 800 in the county.

Down in Providence.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 4.—Bright, but crisp is the weather today. From 6:30, voting has been carried on throughout the city and is quiet, but brisk. Owing to the scratch tickets it is impossible to predict the outcome.

In the Nutmeg State.

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 4.—The weather is fine today. A large vote is being polled. All is quiet and ordinary at the polls.

Quiet at Augusta.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 4.—The weather is fine but the vote is light. In the Tenth district T. E. Watson (democrat) has practically no opposition. The election is quiet in South Carolina.

Quiet at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 4.—The weather is cool. Election is progressing quietly. Twenty acres in sw $\frac{1}{4}$ of 24-48-14, \$125 per acre; one-third cash. W. T. BARKER & Co., 318 Chamber of Commerce bldg.

THIS IS ELECTION DAY,

And Voters Turn Out to Save Their Country.

A HEAVY VOTE BEING POLLED.

Of Course All is Guess Work, but the Republicans Have no Cause for Fear.

An election never took place when the weather was any fairer than it was today. The day has been mild and pleasant, not only at the head of the lakes, but all over the state. And in consequence the vote will, in all probability, approximate close to the full registration list.

Considering the extreme bitterness of the campaign, the day has passed very quietly, the Australian system doing entirely away with the usual excitement at the polls. Yet, nevertheless, candidates and the committeemen of the various parties have been out in full force, gathering henchmen to the polls and working hard for party victory.

Under the present system of voting it is an extremely difficult matter to judge of, and the way of the election mind is merely guess work. The polls opened at 6 o'clock, and a large laboring vote was in by 9. Up to noon about one-third the entire registration was voted in the Third and Fourth wards, while in the First, Second, Fifth and Sixth the number cast probably made up about one-half the list. The new way of voting proved somewhat puzzling to many of the foreign voters, which accounts for the slowness of balloting in some of the precincts.

To all appearances the alliance vote was not quite so large as conservative estimates yesterday made it. Merriam so it is said, has been cut to a small extent in the city, while Wilson has probably received the regular democratic vote, allowing for that portion that would naturally go to Owen.

The regular state tickets, outside of governor, have received straight party support. In the congressional contest Comstock has probably gotten nearly the republican vote, and Whitman has evidently not made the inroads into his support that the democracy expected.

Halvorsen will get, so politicians say, one-third less votes than Owen. Early in the day there was some talk of cutting Kendall, but he will, beyond a doubt, be elected by a small majority. The county ticket is being voted on straight party lines, but it is evidently a close race between Green and Tear for county attorney, and the friends of both men claim victory.

Notes.

The saloons were ordered closed from 5 a. m. until 8 p. m.

Most of the offices, and all the banks took a holiday.

There was no meeting of the chamber of commerce because of election today.

There was no session of the board of trade and consequently no market report appears in The Herald.

Returns will be received at several places tonight. The results will be announced from the Temple stage during the performance of "Shane-ne-Lawn."

The Kitchie Gammie club has arranged to receive returns at the club house on West Second street.

The Tribune will furnish the figures of the election by use of the stereopticon, which will be placed opposite the Spaulding.

The republican and democratic headquarters will also be places to which returns will be sent.

So much scratching and cutting has been done that it will probably be morning before any definite figures on the result can be received.

A MISSING CONTRACTOR.

Friends and Creditors of Jos. Hagenkamp Anxiously Inquiring For Him.

The continued absence from the city of Joseph Hagenkamp the well-known contractor is exciting a good deal of comment among his friends and creditors some of the latter being quite anxious to interview him. He left home about 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon armed with his rifle and leaving word that he was off for a hunting trip and would return Sunday. He has not been seen since.

Numerous sub-contractors and a number of workmen to whom he is indebted in various sums would give him a cordial welcome were he to come back. The missing man secured the job of building Turner hall. Last Saturday he received the amount of his estimate of $2300 from the Turner society and is supposed to have collected about $2700 more on three or four contracts outstanding, making a total in all of about $5000 in cash. Saturday morning he informed his workmen that he would pay them on the evening of that day, but in this he failed.

His debts it is estimated amount to, considerably more than he took away with him. Hagenkamp's reputation has been of the very best and there are many who look for his return to clear up the peculiar and suspicious circumstances surrounding his departure.

Nothing had been heard from Hagenkamp at a late hour this afternoon. A meeting of the building committee of the Turner society will be held tomorrow morning, at which plans will be discussed for carrying on the work of building the new hall. It is probable that the bondsmen of the missing contractor will be held responsible for his liabilities.

CANADA KICKS BACK.

She Will Adopt a Vigorous Foreign Trade Policy.

WILL TAKE IMMEDIATE STEPS.

The Minister of Finance Going to the West Indies and Bahamas on a Trade Mission.

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 4.—The Dominion government has decided to adopt a vigorous foreign trade policy now that the McKinley bill will divert Canadian trade from the United States. After a full discussion of the subject it has been decided by the government to take immediate steps to promote closer trade relations between Canada and the West Indies.

Hon. George E. Foster, minister of finance, goes to the West Indies this week on a trade mission. He sails from New York Wednesday afternoon. Barbados will be first visited by him and then Trinidad and Demerara.

Coming northward Mr. Foster will disembark at Jamaica, where he will make a considerable stay, and then he will go to the Bahamas and Bermuda. His mission, it is expected, will result successfully, as the government has given him considerable authority to discuss the question of closer trade relations with British colonies. Mr. Foster expects to return here about Christmas.

CZAREWITZ'S TRIP.

He Will Go Around the World to Fit Himself for the Throne.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg says that the reluctance of the czar's son, the Czarowitch, to make a voyage around the world would prove a valuable experience in fitting him for the future sovereignty of Russia.

The Czarowitch will not, however, visit Constantinople, Athens being the starting point of his journey. He will in all probability cross the Pacific, after visiting India and China, to San Francisco. It has not yet been determined whether the American part of the journey shall be overland or around the southern part of the continent. The prince will travel as such under the guardianship of a trusted officer of the imperial staff, who will be held responsible for his personal safety.

NOT YET SATISFIED.

The London Dock Laborers are not Pleased with Their Condition.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—The scheme submitted to the Dock Laborers union by the directors of the dock companies provides for the establishment of a piece-work system to take the place of the agreement, under which the men have been working for a year past, and which expired yesterday.

They generally do not favor the new scheme and much discontent exists among them. Although more of the men worked together yesterday pending a decision on the direct proposition, it was feared that a strike might be inaugurated any moment. Early this morning Messrs. Tillet and Mann, the labor leaders, visited the various docks and exhorted the men not to quit work.

Their advice was followed in most cases and the men resumed work though in numerous instances a sullen disposition was shown by the laborers.

Unquiet Hollanders.

THE HAGUE, Nov. 4.—Notwithstanding the quieting reports, reliable advice from Amsterdam is to the effect that the situation causes serious anxiety among the substantial classes. The people, rich and poor, are attached to the House of Orange, and it is believed that there will be trouble should the king's daughter and heir, Princess Wilhelmina, survive, but disorder is apprehended in the event of the direct succession becoming extinct.

Osman on Route.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—That often-killed and as often-resurrected chieftain, Osman, Digna, is represented by dispatches from Cairo to be advancing upon Suakin at the head of a large army of well-armed men. This information is obtained from natives who have arrived at Suakin within the last two days. Osman is said also to be recruiting his already formidable force from the tribes through whose country he passes.

Rough Weather.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—The steamship Pennsylvania, Captain Thomas of the American line, from Philadelphia Oct. 22, arrived at Queenstown yesterday. Captain Thomas reports that during the voyage the Pennsylvania passed through a hurricane that lasted four days. Once the vessel was boarded by a heavy sea which smashed one of her lifeboats.

Contemptible Contempt.

TIPPERARY, Nov. 4.—During the proceedings in the conspiracy trial yesterday Patrick O'Brien attempted to photograph a witness. He was taken into custody and arraigned before the magistrates, who adjudged him guilty of contempt of court and sentenced him to one week's imprisonment. The witness made no objection to having his photograph taken.

Conspiracy Case Continued.

TIPPERARY, Nov. 4.—The case of the crown in the conspiracy trial was concluded yesterday, and the trial was adjourned for a week to enable the defense to prepare their case.

An Anarchistic Movement.

PARIS, Nov. 4.—An extensive anarchistic movement has been discovered at Lyons. Five arrests have already been made and others are expected.

Ex-King Milan Penitented.

BELOGRADE, Nov. 4.—The Serbian government has agreed to pay ex-King Milan the sum of 300,000 francs annually for his maintenance, the implied understanding being that the ex-King will not reside in Belgrade.

SOME BIG FIGURES.

Shipments of Cattle Through Bismarck From the West.

BISMARCK, N. D., Nov. 4.—The cattle shipments from the West this year have been something enormous. John Davidson local agent of the Northern Pacific has compiled figures showing the exact number of head that have passed through this city during the last two months.

In September and October there were 1600 and 1800 car loads respectively. October showing an increase over the previous month of 140 cars. The total is 3400 cars which multiplied by 20 the average number of head per car the total number of head for the last two months is 68,000, which is unprecedented in the history of cattle shipments. Stock trains are still going through and will continue as long as the weather permits.

THE FATAL FELINE.

Three Cats Supposed to Have Started a Diphtheria Epidemic.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—A special dispatch from Martinsville, Ind., says: Many cases of diphtheria, some of them fatal, have been puzzling physicians in this locality for some time. Several afflicted families could not have contracted the disease from any other persons.

A number of afflicted households four miles from the city reveal the fact that three cats had died suddenly and very mysteriously.

After a Railroad.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 4.—Judge Woods issued an order yesterday requiring the Wabash railroad to show cause by Saturday next why the United States marshal shall not give the Chicago & Erie railroad possession of the railroad of the former Chicago & Atlantic company between Hammond and Laketon Junction, Ind., by removing therefrom the trains of the Wabash railway.

Big Purchase Confirmed.

OMAHA, Nov. 4.—Messrs. Armour, Swift and Morris, the three big packers, yesterday confirmed the reported purchase of 3700 acres in Lake county, Ind., for a stock yard purposes. They paid on an average $10 per acre for the land, making a total cost of a little over $37,000. Armour said: "The reason we have taken this move is to save $1 on every car that is switched into our present plant. Work will be begun in a few weeks and the yards ought to be completed some time within the next two years."

Buying Railroad Tickets.

There are a good many people who do not know how to buy a railroad ticket for a journey of over 100 miles. Think not? Well, it's true. We knew an editor, an intelligent man, who was going from an interior Illinois town to Manchester, Vt. He bought to Chicago—could do better there, you know—let an agent sell him to Manchester, N. H., got into Montreal Saturday night, couldn't get away till Monday morning, then had no ticket to his destination, and paid fare Montreal to his Vermont town. He simply didn't know how to buy a ticket. Your local railroad agent may not look like a very smart man; he may not rank high in the town's social circles; but he knows more about railroad rates and connections than you do. If you are contemplating a trip, just call at his office, tell him where you want to go and that you want your tickets to read over "The Burlington," then take his advice about all the rest. That is the way to buy a ticket. For any particulars about "The Burlington," which your agent cannot give, write to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, C. B. & N. R. R. St. Paul, Minn.

The Home Truth of a Foreign Proverb. The Spanish have a proverb—demasiado es peligroso—"too much is dangerous." If "brevity is the soul of wit," this means a great deal. Excess and other imprudences in eating and drinking are productive of one tremendous evil—the progenitor of many others—and these are among the follies to which this filthy saying has direct application. The evil to which we allude is indigestion, to the relief and cure of which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has contributed more than any medicine which science has given to the American people. This invigorating stomachic and corrective is the means not only of reforming a disordered or enfeebled condition of the digestive organs, but of renewing healthy action of the bowels and the liver. Besides this, it counteracts a tendency to rheumatism and kidney complaint, extirpates and prevents malarious disease, is a potent restorative of strength which is failing, hastens convalescence and mitigates the infirmities of age.

NEWS OF WEST DULUTH.

The Republicans Close the Campaign in Good Shape.

ACCIDENT AT THE IRON BAY WORKS.

Various Notes of Interest to the People of West Duluth and the West End.

The republican rally in the city hall last evening was a grand finale to the campaign. The torchlight procession was the first ever held in West Duluth and made a fine show. The West Duluth band headed the procession and played some of its best music. At the hall the meeting was addressed by D. H. Morgan, Dr. Barrett of Tower, C. W. Hoyt, O. O. Wold and J. D. Boyd. All the speakers were at their best and kept the large audience in good mood from start to finish. Dr. Barrett was the last speaker, and it is believed that in the whole state of Minnesota there was not a better closing speech made than the doctor's.

The democratic side show in Smith's stable, on First avenue West was a small and tame affair. It was not addressed by the speakers advertised but by Judge Kindley of Duluth and local speakers. The Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian church, will hold a missionary tea in the church this evening. A literary and musical program has been prepared, and an address will be given by Mrs. Dr. Ringland of Duluth. Refreshments will be served.

The Ladies Aid of the Congregational church drove a thriving business today at their lunch room near the city hall. The polls were opened promptly at 3 o'clock this morning, and voting commenced in a very lively manner and nearly a full vote has been polled.

The Ladies Aid society of the M. E. church will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. McDonald on Fifth avenue west near the Incline depot.

The health officer wants all persons to understand that failure to report births or deaths renders them liable to fine. Five deaths and fourteen births were reported last month, but those were not all that occurred.

Edward Biller, a workman at the Iron Car works, met with an accident this morning which came near proving fatal. Another workman was on a staging above him, and by a mistake dropped a hatchet which struck Biller low down on the back of his head and cut a deep gash three inches long which in a slight different position would have caused instant death.

Thomas Wedlake of Tower has accepted a position in Kiren's store on Central avenue.

E. D. Ayer had an opening at his new store on Grand avenue this morning. C. P. Lamb of St. Cloud arrived yesterday and his family and goods will be here in a day or two and they will reside on Third avenue west. Mr. Lamb will occupy an office with C. W. Hoyt and engage in the practice of law.

The latest real estate sign hung out is that of E. R. Brace of Duluth, who has established a branch in the Hurst building which will be in charge of R. W. Allotte and T. D. Darby.

H. A. Holmes will occupy rooms in the Silvey building when finished. C. D. and L. L. Marble and O. F. Walker have gone on a business and pleasure trip to the iron range country. WEST END.

Benson & Loof are putting in their stock of confectionery, cigars, &c., in their new store next to the Twentieth avenue depot.

John Larson has moved his store building on Superior street one lot south and will build another building on the old lot.

G. W. Young and wife of Chicago; W. Sanderson of St. Paul, and J. J. Donovan of Cloquet, are at the Clarendon.

The regular monthly meeting of the W. T. M. society connected with the Grace M. E. church, was held at the parsonage today at 3 o'clock.

A. R. Anderson has returned from a business trip through southern Minnesota.

H. H. Adams of Minneapolis, is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Helm.

C. R. Hoar is receiving a visit from his father, J. Hoar of Rush City.

A CASE OF LEPROSY.

A Mild Form of the Dreaded Disease Discovers in Philadelphia.

CHESTER, Penn., Nov. 4.—John Anderson, a Swede who has lived in this city for the past three years, called at the office of Dr. J. Frank Evans last week for treatment. Dr. Evans had treated the man for another disease three years ago, but Anderson's present condition baffled him somewhat, so he communicated with Dr. Judson Daland, of the University hospital, Philadelphia. Dr. Daland advised Dr. Evans to send the patient to the University hospital for examination. Anderson went to the hospital, and an examination of his case was first made by Dr. Daland. He at once diagnosed the disease as that of leprosy, and called in Dr. William Pepper, provost of the University hospital, and Professor Dunning, an eminent specialist, while all other members of the faculty interested themselves in the case. The conclusion arrived at was that the case was one of interstitial leprosy, a mild form of the dreaded disease and the least contagious.

An effort was made by the Chester board to have the man placed in the Philadelphia pest-house, but the health board of the latter city would not agree to it. Anderson was then returned to Chester and afterward taken to the almshouse at Lima, a few miles outside of Chester, where he is confined in a separate building.

Anderson has been in this country twelve years, part of which time he has followed the sea. He is 47 years old and unmarried. The only other case of leprosy in this state is that of a Chinaman, now confined in the Municipal hospital, Philadelphia, where he has been two years.

A MOTHER'S MADNESS.

She Discovers Her Daughter's Shame and Beats Her to Death.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Nov. 4.—A shocking tragedy is reported from the village of Hall's Mills, in the town of Neversink, Sullivan county. Levi Hall is a prominent resident there, and his family consisted of his wife and a daughter of 18 years. The mother had been for some time afflicted by a mild form of insanity. The daughter returned on Saturday from her uncle's residence in another town, where she had been completing her education.

When she reached home her mother discovered that she was in a delicate condition. The shameful discovery threw the mother into a violent paroxysm of madness, and she seized a club and beat the girl so dreadfully that she died a few hours later. Mr. Hall was a helpless witness of the tragedy, he being confined to his bed by sickness. A crowning horror is added to the tragedy by the alleged fact that the girl's ruin was the work of a near blood relation.

After Seals.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—A dispatch from St. Johns, N. F., says that Capt. Seward who is engaged in the Behring Sea seal fisheries, will take fifteen or twenty first-class sealers with him to British Columbia. They are to sail from Halifax on Capt. Seward's vessel.

First of the Season.

NYACK, N. Y., Nov. 4.—The first snow of the season fell here this morning.

A BIG SUIT.

The Catholics Lay Claim to Government Lands in Washington.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 4.—In the United States district court yesterday, Judge Hanford rendered an opinion in the suit brought by a Catholic bishop of Ne-squally, to obtain the title to 430 acres of land occupied as a military reservation by the United States government at Vancouver, Wash.

The claim brought by the plaintiff is based upon the establishment of a missionary station at Vancouver with consent of the Hudson Bay company. The property is now estimated to be worth from a half to one million dollars. The court holds that the claims of the United States government to the lands, as a reservation, is prior in time and for that reason, if no other, superior in equity to that of the plaintiff. An appeal was taken to the United States supreme court.

Fun for the Girls.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 4.—The clerks in the government departments were in a state of repressed excitement today. About 10 per cent of the government employees have gone home to vote, and consequently the female employees are seemingly in the majority. Little work was done.

Birth of a Buffalo Calf.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—A buffalo calf was born at the National Museum yesterday. The father and mother of the calf were captured near the North Seattle river in Nebraska, several years ago.

A fatal Premature Blast.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 4.—The premature explosion of a dynamite charge at Behan's stone quarry, in the suburbs of this city yesterday, killed Henry Edison and slightly injured nine other laborers.

The Way Made Clear.

One of the most serious obstacles to success in the way of man is planted right in the middle of the road to health. How to restore and to maintain a regular habit of body and digestion is too often a source of needless, and, unhappily, of vain inquiry. It is not necessary to inveigh against drastic purgatives. They who have used them continuously know the consequence. A remedy which unites the action of a regulating machine for the bowels with that of a tonic both for those organs, the liver and the stomach, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, sanctioned by the best medical authority, and receiving daily the endorsement of our fellow countrymen. With this effectual, though gentle, laxative at hand, it is possible to defy those changes of temperature productive of constipation, as well as constitutional attacks of biliousness, which least even people naturally healthy. Malaria, dyspepsia, rheumatism and kidney troubles are remedied and prevented by the Bitters.

THE OLD SCHOOL HOUSE.

Something About the Hot Contest in Wisconsin.

A LONG-TO-BE-REMEMBERED CONTEST

Many Prominent Democrats Have Rallied Around the Little School House Banner.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 4.—The result of the election in Wisconsin today will be awaited with interest throughout the length and breadth of the country. Ever since the war its electoral vote has been given to the republican nominee and it has elected but one democratic governor. In the contest of today, however, neither national or local politics enter in any marked degree. The tariff, federal election law, and the other live republican issues have been sent to the rear. It is a contest between the supporters of the little school house and the English language in the public schools and the opponents. All indications point to the fact that the republicans with the school house banner at the mast head will be victorious. It is known that their ranks will be swelled upon this issue by thousands of democrats.

The contest has throughout been one of the most bitter in the history of the country and the activity of the ecclesiastics of the Roman Catholic and German Lutheran's as well as of most churches of the foreign speaking element, has tended toward making the campaign a memorable one. An entire state ticket is to be elected together with nine congressmen and a legislature which will elect Senator Spooner's successor.

IN WISCONSIN.

A Hard Puzzle to Solve, But Republicans Expect to Win.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 4.—The day opened bright and clear and there is every prospect that the weather will hold good until night. From present indications Wisconsin will exceed the heaviest vote she has ever cast. In this city the polling is proceeding quietly although it is expected that some disturbances will occur in the Polish wards before the day is over.

There are over 50,000 names on the registry lists and it is expected that when the boxes are closed tonight they will hold fully 45,000 ballots. The result in the state is a matter of great doubt. Ecclesiastical element in the campaign having upset all calculations based on former elections.

Peck (democrat) will undoubtedly carry Milwaukee city and county by a good majority, but republicans are hopeful that the democratic disaffection on account of the Bennett law will more than make up for the Catholic and Lutheran bolt.

Election in Illinois.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—The chief interest in election today centres on the legislature which will elect the successor of Senator Farwell. Gen. Palmer has made an active canvass of the state, but the prospects that the next legislature will be democratic are exceedingly dubious. Only minor state officers are to be elected this year. In this city the interest centres in the contest for sheriff between Congressman Frank Lawler and John D. Gilbert. Religious issues have largely entered into the campaign, and the election of a mixed ticket is inevitable.

The Day in Montana.

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 4.—Only a legislature and one congressman will be chosen here today. The campaign has been a decidedly weak one on both sides. The republicans claim from 5,000 to 6,000 majority and the legislature to boot. The democrats are doubtful.

A Quadrangular Quarrel.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 4.—Will Nebraska fall in under the banner held aloft by Maine, Ohio and Kansas, and become a prohibition state. That is one of the questions to be determined today. Votes will be taken on constitutional amendments relating both to prohibition and high license. The prohibitionists have made an active campaign. The issue on the state ticket is somewhat complicated by the activity of the Farmers' alliance, of which John H. Powers is a candidate for governor.

Pennsylvania Doubtful.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—According to the figures of the democratic state committee the majority for Mr. Pattison will be about 12,000. On the other hand, the estimate of the republican committee give a majority for Delamater of 30,000. The success of the latter will simply mean the downfall of Pennsylvania. The indications are that the political complexion of the Pennsylvania delegation to congress will remain at present, twenty-one republicans to seven democrats.

Hot Fight in Arkansas.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 4.—There are no state officers to be elected this year, and of the five congressmen interest centres almost entirely in the second district. The election here is a special one to fill the vacancy caused by the unseating of C. P. Breckenridge at the recent session of congress. The unseated member is again in the field, while his opponent Isaac P. Langley, originally nominated by the union labor party has been endorsed by the republicans. Both candidates have made an energetic canvass and feeling runs high throughout the district.

THE OHIO CONTEST.

The Situation in McKinley's Gerrymandered District. COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 4.—All the indications point to the election of a republican state ticket headed by Daniel J. Ryan, candidate for secretary of state. Major McKinley is making his fight in the sixteenth district, and in the eighth district, where ex-Governor Foster is running against the Hon. D. D. Hare, much interest is manifested. The pivotal point in McKinley's district is Holmes county, without which his majority might reach 200. Holmes county has been democratic since the days of Van Buren, commencing in 1840 with 800 majority and ending with 1900 majority for Campbell last fall. Major McKinley will therefore have had to prove himself a more powerful vote getter than Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Blaine or Foraker in order to turn Holmes county into the republican column.

Fusion in South Carolina.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 4.—The contest in this state is between the two factions of the democratic parties, the straight-outs headed by Haskell, and the independents by Tillman. The republican state executive committee has issued an address to the people urging the republicans to vote solidly for the independent democratic ticket.

Kansas Puzzle.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 4.—Kansas today will choose a state ticket and will vote on several amendments to the constitution. The republicans claim that Humphrey for governor will be elected by 15,000, as against a majority of 32,000 in the last election. The Farmers' alliance, with Willets for governor, will poll about 130,000. The democratic re submission ticket, headed by Robinson, the old war horse governor of 1880, will also have a strong following. The total vote of the state at the last election was 334,000 and the contest today is a doubtful one.

IN INDIANA.

Expense of Putting the Australian Law in Operation.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 4.—Interest in the election in this state today hinges mainly on the legislature which will elect a successor to Senator Voorhees. Republicans claim a majority of 2000 to 4000 on the state ticket which runs from secretary of state downwards, a large majority of the legislature and a gain of three congressmen. The democrats claim the state ticket by not less than 5000.

This will be the first election in Indiana under the new election law, and it will be an expensive one. The aggregate cost of the contest will be fully $500,000 while the state will expend fully $200,000 in addition. The state has furnished the sample ballots for posting on the walls, 1,000,000 ballots, 10,000 ink pads, three metallic tubes of ink in each of the 3000 precincts while each election board has been furnished with three copies of the election law and a like number of decisions of the supreme court declaring the registration law invalid.

The expense of the members of the election board the cost of the election booths which average $45 in each precinct and the cost of printing county and legislative tickets, all fall upon the counties. Twenty-one thousand election officers will be employed today. This is seven to a precinct 12,000 more than under the old law. Their pay will vary from $1.50 to $5 each.

HOT IN ARIZONA.

But the Republicans Are Confident of Success.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 4.—Arizona elects a delegate to congress, a territorial legislature, and county officers today. This has been one of the most hotly contested campaigns ever known in the history of the territory.

In 1889 Marcus A. Smith was elected to congress by 3,800 majority out of 14,000 votes. The indications now seem to be that Smith will be re-elected by a greatly reduced majority. The republicans claim they will have a majority in both branches of the territorial legislature.

Democratic Tactics.

ASHLAND, Wis., Nov. 4.—Yesterday the democratic state central committee made a manifesto to Catholic priests all over the state, commanding them to order their parishioners to vote the Democratic ticket. Father Fabian, of Ashland, received and promulgated the order. Dan Herrington, a business man and Catholic, made the story public by declaring to a party of friends, that while he was as good a Catholic as anybody, he would never allow any priest to dictate his vote.

Mixed in Nevada.

VIRGINIA CITY, Nev., Nov. 4.—A governor, congressman and legislature will be elected in Nevada. The republicans expect to elect Colonel governor, by 300 majority and to re-elect Bartine to congress by 500 majority. The party lines are badly broken. The Cornish vote is inclined to desert the republicans on the plea that their element is not sufficiently recognized.

Idaho's Legislature.

BOISE CITY, Idaho, Nov. 4.—Governor George L. Shoup yesterday took the oath of office and issued a proclamation convening the legislature on Dec. 5.

MISGUIDED MONTANIAN.

Ald. Costello Says They Oppose the New Tariff.

BOTH PARTIES ARE WORKING HARD.

The Vote Will be Closer than Usual, But the Democrats Claim the Election.

Alderman J. J. Costello returned this morning from a two weeks' visit to Montana, Washington and Idaho, in which latter state he has mining interests. Speaking of the political situation in Montana, the scene of so many hard and close fought battles, he said:

Both parties, the republican and democratic are working tooth and nail to carry the election. I talked while there with a number of prominent party men and they were all agreed that the vote in the ensuing election would be as usual very close.

The democratic party have reason to be hopeful for the McKinley bill is not acceptable to the republicans of Montana, though the party leaders seek to make outsiders believe so. It has turned hundreds of voters in republican ranks over to democracy, whom they believe are in line with the people. The West is arrayed against the bill as the increased democratic gains of tomorrow will show.

COLLISION IN NEW YORK.

Passenger and Coal Trains Crash With Fatal Results.
SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 4.—The west bound express on the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western road yesterday while descending the steep grade near this city, crashed into a coal train standing on a switch. Both locomotives were wrecked, while the baggage and mail cars were crushed. Four of the other cars on the passenger train were thrown from the track. The Pullman car kept its place.

Michael Burk of this city, engineer on the passenger train, and J. W. Doyle of Great Bend, on the coal train were killed with their fireman Jerry Lee of this city and Morton Fernan of Great Bend. Mrs. Thomas Concoran of No. 21 Myrtle avenue, Buffalo had two ribs broken and her right arm was dislocated.

The switchman who is blamed for the accident it is said, has been in the employ of the company only since Oct. 23.

WE LIKE IT THOUGH.

A Washington Banker Says Gold is Very Unwisely Currency.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—"Do you know that gold is the most unwisely of the different kinds of money now in circulation?" asked a prominent banker. "Why so?" was asked. "Because it is not bankable without careful scrutiny. Take a greenback, a gold certificate, or a national bank note to your bank and it is received and placed to your credit; not so with gold. A few days ago a gentleman brought to our bank upwards of $3000 in gold and was provoked because we would not receive it forthwith and give him credit for the amount the faces of the coin represented. This we could not do because the law requires that gold shall be redeemed only at its actual value. Coins carried in the pockets for any length of time naturally lose something in weight by abrasion, but a fractional part of a cent on a $10 coin, but it is lost nevertheless, therefore bankers cannot give credit for such loss on gold coin. In the case in point, my friend took his gold to the treasury department and was compelled to wait there an hour before he could get notes for it. Every coin had to be passed through the scales and after the weighing process had been finished, three pieces had been returned to him as short in weight. The department stamped on the face of each a cross. The owner is left either to send the coin to the United States mint for redemption or again pass them into circulation.

A CAREER OF CRIME.

George Shinn Confesses to Numerous Stage Robberies in California.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 4.—George Shinn, who, with Charles Dorsey, alias Thorn, escaped from San Quentin prison three years ago and was recently captured in Chicago, has made a most startling confession. Friday night Shinn was transferred from San Quentin to Folsom by Warden Aull and Detective Hume. Yesterday the warden and detective interviewed Shinn for over three hours. He confessed that he and Thorn returned to California in 1889 and camped on the American river, about three miles from this city. This was their rendezvous, to which they always returned after their raids. He admits that on the 31st of July, 1889, they stopped the stage from Milton to Sonoma, and robbed the passengers of $50 and blew open the Wells-Fargo treasure box, but found it empty. On Sept. 10 of the same year they stopped the stage between Quincy and Orville and took a gold bar worth $800 from the Wells-Fargo box. In April of this year, they held up the Forest Hill stage in Placer county and robbed the passengers. Besides these robberies Shinn confessed to numerous burglaries, garroting and robberies committed by him and Thorn. They returned to Chicago May 30, this year, and he says between that time and the date of the capture they committed something like twenty-five robberies and burglaries in the state of Illinois. Their rendezvous on the American river has been found by Chief of Police Drew of this city, who hunted for it four weeks before he found it. He says it is an ideal robbers' roost, and robbers could never be dislodged from it.

Sporting Notes.

The St. Louis club has re-signed Catcher Munyan.
David Rowe is reported to have secured an interest in the Lincoln club, which he will manage next season.
Tommy Russell and Tom Green, the 110 pound pugilists, have been matched to fight to a finish for a stake of $300. The fight will take place within three weeks, and will be with two ounce gloves.

The new grand stand for the Yale-Harvard football game on Hampden park, Springfield, Mass., will seat 9000 people. It is to be amphitheater shaped with seats on three sides, while a high fence completes the balance of the circle. The struggle will take place inside of the structure, which is to take 70,000 feet of lumber to build.

The reason Harvard gets so many candidates for the eleven is because of the numerous preparatory schools in and around Boston. Football is the most popular game with the young men of the Hub, and the would-be collegians are very enthusiastic over football matters.

Francisco boasts of two prosperous athletic clubs for ladies.
The Americans are much behind their English brethren in the matter of road bicycle racing. A good pace on this side is a 15-mile an hour gait, whereas in English road races the men pace along between eighteen and twenty miles an hour. In a race recently held near London three men finished within one-fifth of a second of each other, the time for twenty miles being exactly one hour.

A Glove Contest.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 4.—Articles of agreement for a five-ounce glove contest Nov. 22 before the Audubon Club of this city have been signed by Tommy Warren of California, and Tommy Miller of Indiana, feather-weights, 188 pounds, give or take two, for a purse of $1,000, $500 to the winner and $250 to the loser.

Black Pearl the Victor.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 4.—The fight between Black Pearl of this city and Kelleher of Boston, for a purse of $1,000, occurred last night at the Twin City Athletic Club rooms, and was awarded to the Pearl in the twentieth round. There was very little fighting done. In the first seven rounds not a blow was struck. In the eighteenth there was a rush made by the Pearl and in the break-away Kelleher claimed he had been fouled and seriously injured in a sensitive part of the body. While bending over he was hit in the stomach. Both fouls were disallowed. Pearl chased Kelleher around the ring, hitting him lightly and Kelleher went down. He was carried to his room and physicians certified to the truth of his condition.

ANOTHER GONE WRONG.

A Kansas City Man Swindles his Step-mother Out of a Large Sum.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 4.—Rollins Bingham left the city Sunday night, saying he was going on a short journey. He will probably not return soon, as it has been ascertained since his departure that he has left behind him forged deeds of transfer and of trust upon the estate of his late stepmother, Mrs. Gen. George C. Bingham, which aggregate about $25,000.

Bingham was treasurer of the Consolidated Missouri Mining & Manufacturing company. The large sum of money which he fraudulently obtained was largely spent in experimenting with what is known as the Merrill process of extracting gold from fine sand. About a month before her death which occurred Sept. 20, Mrs. Bingham discovered the forgeries which Bingham had committed. It broke her heart and no doubt hastened her death. She called her lawyer and had a new will drawn, disinheriting her step-son.

Friedrich Talked Too Much.

LOXNOX, Nov. 4.—It is reported from Zanzibar that the attack upon Vitu, resulting in the burning of that place and the massacre of many of its inhabitants, was caused by the indiscreet utterances of a German settler named Friedrich, whose vapouring exasperated the natives and led them to overt acts of hostility necessitating their punishment.

Ransoming Wild in the Woods.

WHITEHALL, Nov. 4.—Ole Bergum, a Scandinavian about 25 years old, was found in a nearly naked condition in the town of Ettrick, Thursday, in a demented condition. He was brought here and lodged in the county jail to await medical examination. While en route he escaped from the under sheriff at Trempealeau and rushed into the Mississippi river and was nearly drowned, being rescued by the officer. He was a resident of Preston, this county, and has been confined in the Minnesota state hospital for the insane.

Charged With Murder.

TROY, N. Y., Nov. 4.—Patrick Walsh, a policeman, was arrested this morning, charged with killing his wife. He went to the house at 6:30 last night. At 9 o'clock he called a doctor stating that his wife had been injured by a fall. The physician found her unconscious with wounds on her head. She died during the night. It is said Walsh had threatened to take her life. Walsh was 45 years old and his wife 22.

Has Seven Wives.

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Nov. 4.—John Biconot of Columbus, Ind., has been married seven times, and all his wives are living, six having secured divorces. Two of them were his stepmothers, having separated from his father, who was married eight times. His seventh wife has just given birth to triplets. Biconot is only 40 years old, and is a hard working laborer. He has a large family of children as the result of his marriages.

WELL, ISN'T THIS A STUNNER!

Telegrams From all Over the Fifth District

Show Whiteman in the Lead, but Halverson May Get There After All.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 5.—[Special to Herald.] 5:30 p. m.—Forty-three counties in the state, including Hennepin and Ramsey, gave Merriam 54,928; Wilson, 53,407, and Owen, 34,172.

Fourteen out of twenty-nine counties gave Comstock 12,046; Whiteman, 9482, and Halverson, 13,772.

Five out of nine counties gave Dunnell 6979, Harries 7283.

Six out of eleven counties gave D. S. Hall 3520 and O. M. Hall 4374. Six out of ten counties gave Snider 25,862 and Castle 31,355.

Eleven out of twenty counties gave Lind 8952 and Homes 7772.

A private telegram received at 3:55 at the republican headquarters runs: "Minneapolis goes 2000 democratic; St. Paul, 2300. First, Third and Fourth districts elect democratic congressmen; the Fifth is doubtful, but in Comstock's favor. Merriam is elected by a small plurality."

ST. PAUL, Nov. 5.—[Special to The Herald.]—The state returns are coming in very slowly. Tanis Bixby, secretary of republican committee, claims the election of Merriam by from 2500 to 3000 plurality. Secretary Warren, of the alliance committee, concedes the election of Wilson. Secretary Smalley, of the democratic committee, makes no figures but believes Wilson is elected.

Smalley says that Congressman "Dar" Hall of the Third district, admits that O. M. Hall succeeds him by 2000 plurality.

Chairman Heatwole claims Merriam's election, but will give no figures. He claims the whole state ticket but McGuire for auditor.

Chairman Campbell claims Wilson election by 8000 plurality.

Chairman Phelps of the alliance committee concedes the election of Wilson but claims that Owen has carried the Fifth district.

The chances seem to be that Wilson will be elected.

In Hennepin county ninety-nine precincts reported out of 140 give Merriam 8733, Wilson 10,425 and Owen 4329. Merriam has only about 1500 plurality in Ramsey.

One of the most unexpected results is the defeat of Capt. Snider. Out of 117 precincts in Minneapolis and two from the county outside, Capt. Snider gets 10,210 votes and Castle 12,166. In Ramsey county Castle will have a plurality of 2800.

Snider carries Anoka so far as heard from several precincts not reported by 324, Shoreburne by 83 and Chicago by 175. Castle gets 225 plurality in Washington county and 26 in Pine. The remaining counties will not materially change the result.

Dar Hall is defeated in the Third by 3000 votes.

Dunnell is defeated in the First by 800 to 1300.

Comstock will have a very narrow escape in the Fifth.

So far as heard from, Lind is safe yet. An Owatonna special says: Dunnell is defeated by 1000 votes.

IN THE SOUP.

Winston Gets 4000 Plurality, While Merriam Goes 1600 Behind the Ticket; It is a Slide.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 5.—[Special to The Herald.]—Minneapolis has gone democratic all along the line.

The Journal has complete returns from ninety-five precincts out of 117 in the city and five of the Hennepin towns. These show the following state of affairs on governor: Merriam, 8763; Wilson, 10,425; Owen, 4329; Pinkham, 1626. Wilson's plurality in Hennepin county is ninety-nine precincts is therefore 1062.

On mayor the democratic landslide is even more pronounced. Phil. Winston is the next mayor of Minneapolis by 4000 majority. He carried First, Third, possibly Fourth, the Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Ninth, Tenth and Eleventh wards. A total ninety-four precincts, in which the First, Eighth, Tenth and Thirteenth wards are complete, gives following figures: Potter, 8319; Winston, 12,015. Winston's plurality 3696.

The rest of the city ticket has gone by board with Potter and it seems beyond doubt that republicans have saved but very little out of the wreck.

Calderwood and Haugen ran ahead but not far enough to do any good. The legislative and aldermanic candidates are in the same boat; they are left, ditto, the county republican ticket. In short it is a snowdrift of democratic ballots. The republicans have come out of the aldermanic landslide pretty well, all things considered. They claim to have elected Barrows in the Second by 20 plurality, Lyle in the Fourth by 10, Brazier in the Fifth by 8, Flanders in the Eighth and Gray in the Thirteenth.

Three of these are settled beyond much doubt. There are 11 republican members of the council who hold over, and adding three to this number give the republicans 14 out of a total of 25.

THE FIGHTING FIFTH.

CROOKSTON, Nov. 5.—[Special.]—The city has gone as follows: Owen, 277; Wilson 241, Merriam 162; Whiteman 234, Halverson, 198, Comstock 155.

GRAND FORKS, Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Whiteman and Wilson seem to have carried East Grand Forks and Labor solid.

SAUK RAPIDS, Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Two precincts in Benton county give Whiteman 123 majority over Comstock.

ST. CLOUD, Nov. 5.—[Special.]—St. Cloud city gives Whiteman 777, and Stearns county 4,700. Whiteman loses nothing in democratic towns and has made quite a gain in towns over Wilson.

WADENA, Nov. 5.—[Special to The Herald.]—Whiteman carries Wadena county by a small majority.

BRainerd, Nov. 5.—[Special to The Herald.]—The vote in this city resulted as follows: Wilson, 285; Merriam, 425; Owen, 206; Whiteman, 326; Comstock, 440; Halverson, 203.

WADENA, Nov. 5.—[Special to The Herald.]—The Leaf River precincts give Whiteman 37; Comstock, 12; Halverson, 21. Whiteman is ahead in Compton, Otter Tail county.

THE LITTLE RED.

The Public School Hasn't Been Heard From in Wisconsin Since Yesterday; A Shameful Defeat.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 5.—Chairman Payne of the republican state central committee at this hour (1 p. m.) gives the state and legislature to the democrats and says the Wisconsin congressional delegation will stand—6 democrats, 3 republicans.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 5.—The result in Wisconsin is still in doubt and may not be known until night. From present appearances the entire democratic state ticket is elected, but the legislature will be republican. Milwaukee has elected four of five republicans out of twelve assemblymen and one senator. The returns from the congressional districts are not full enough to indicate with any certainty the result, but the delegation will probably stand six to six, a democratic gain of one.

Latest.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 5.—At 3 o'clock this afternoon Chairman Payne concedes the state senate as well as the assembly to the democrats. Chairman Wall of democratic state committee, claims majority of 35,000 for Peck, and also insists on claiming six out of the congressmen.

Haugen "Done Up."

SUPERIOR, Nov. 5.—[Special to The Herald.]—Nels Haugen, republican candidate for congress, has been beaten in this district.

CHICAGO PRESS OPINIONS.

What the Windy City Sheets Think of the Election.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—The News (independent) says editorially: The revolt against the McKinley high protection is the most significant feature of yesterday's election. Instead of a minority of five, as in the present congress, the democrats will probably have a majority of at least sixty in the next congress. McKinley is probably defeated. The New Englander delegates will stand 13 to 18, a tariff reform gain of 10, and even Quay admits that Pennsylvania seems to have gone democratic.

The Tribune (republican) says: "The outlook is not a pleasant one, but republicans are accused of losing landslides. Off year victories on the democratic side are always followed by republican victories in the subsequent general elections."

In the Fourth Illinois district Newberry (dem) is elected to congress over Congressman Adams by a plurality of 937.

Estimated returns from 64 of the 102 counties of Illinois which returns include Cook county give Amberg (rep) 12,682 plurality over Wilson.

Returns still come in very slowly from Illinois counties and frequently consist of nothing more than estimates. So far as these estimates can be depended upon the vote on the Illinois state ticket will be very close, with chances in favor of the election of republican candidates by very slight plurality, not exceeding five or six thousand.

The Chicago City Press association which is making a careful compilation of election returns in Cook county and estimates that Lawler is defeated by 200 or 300 by Gilbert, (rep) for sheriff, Kern, (dem) for county treasurer, elected over Hutt, (rep) that Amberg, (rep) for state treasurer carries Cook county by about 1500 and Edwards, (rep), for state superintendent of public schools by 1000.

Congressman Taylor (rep.) is re-elected in the First Illinois district by a plurality of 910 over Ewing (dem.).

An Unnamable Something.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 5.—The returns are very close and slow in coming in and there is nothing definite yet. There seems to be an unnamable something in the air that portends the election of Mr. Wans (dem.) by a small majority, and of Chapman the First, White in the Fourth, Weedlock in the Tenth, with O'Donnell elected in the Third. The vote has been very light, even lighter than in 1886.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

The Other Day the Democrats Claimed Everything,

TODAY THEY GET EVERYTHING.

Returns From Ohio, Illinois, Pennsylvania and all the Rest are the Same.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 5.—Meagre returns received at republican and democratic headquarters indicate the election of fourteen democratic congressmen.

This estimate includes the defeat of McKinley in the Sixteenth district and the election of Hare, his opponent, by 100 majority. Both parties claim the Sixteenth district.

At noon the revised figures on 58 of 64 precincts in Stark county, and close estimates on balance of county give McKinley a net gain of 28 plurality in his home county 975, Medina gives McKinley a plurality of 1366, which makes the republican pluralities of Stark and Wayne, 2341. Holmes county has not changed the estimate 2010 for Warwick, McKinley running 200 ahead of the ticket.

Wayne county to Warwick by 400. These figures would defeat McKinley by 63. Democrats claim Warwick is elected by 300. McKinley has been gaining. In every division so far. Should these figures stand he would have reduced the democratic plurality over 2,700.

WOOSTER, Ohio, Wayne county gives Warwick, (dem) for congress, a majority of 4,500 over McKinley.

A private telegram from Governor Campbell of Ohio to the Hon. Don M. Dickinson says: "Latest reports this morning indicate that McKinley and Foster are both defeated and that we have elected fourteen congressmen."

Tiffin, Ohio—Hare's majority over Foster in this district is about 500.

Ex-Governor Foster concedes the election of his opponent, Hare, in the Eighth by 100 majority.

Warwick Probably Elected.

CANTON, Ohio, Nov. 4.—The estimate made for the Sixteenth district elected Warwick (dem.) by 2445.

Ohio Precincts.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 5.—Unofficial footings show that republicans carried Hamilton county by majorities ranging from 524 for coroner to 9314 for probate judge. The majority for Ryan, secretary of state, is 8252. Bellamy Storer (republican) for congress First district, has a majority of 2281. Last year Governor Campbell carried this district by 5187, a republican gain.

IN MASSACHUSETTS.

Some of the Republican Ticket Came in Out of the West.

BOSTON, The Journal, (rep) says this morning: The election in Massachusetts yesterday resulted in a choice of Hon. William E. Russell, the democratic candidate for governor, but though returns are not complete, they do not indicate that his success carried with it the election of candidates for other state offices. In congressional districts also, misfortune overtook the republicans, several districts which had been regarded as safe, have been carried by the democratic candidates.

The total vote for the state for governor with twelve places to be heard from is 282,903. Of this aggregate Russell receives 139,947; Brackett, 129,862, and Blackmer, 13,090.

For congressional districts, the certainities at 3:30 a. m. were: First district, Randall, (rep); Second, Morse, (rep); Third, Andrews, (dem); Fourth, O'Neill, (dem); Fifth, Hoar, (dem); Sixth, Lodge, (rep); Seventh, Cogswell, (rep); Eighth, Stevens, (dem); Twelfth, Crosby, (dem);—Four republicans and five democrats.

The districts remaining were the Ninth, Tenth and Eleventh, and the results were in doubt. The ninth district is very close, official figures may be required to decide. In the Tenth, Walker, (rep), appears to be elected. In the Eleventh, Coolidge, (dem), seems to be elected on a very close vote.

The governor's council stands 7 republicans and 1 democrat.

Walker (republican) is elected to congress in the Tenth district by a plurality of 660.

Lodge Elected.

BOSTON, Nov. 5.—Henry Cabot Lodge is re-elected in the Sixth congressional district, but admits that his majority will not be much over 1000.

PATTISON ELECTED.

But Others on the Republican State Ticket Are Elected.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—Latest returns show Asher G. Caruth, (dem) has 5000 majority; Dickerson, (Carlele's) district, 3900 majority. In the Eleventh, Whitley county, gives John H. Wilson, (rep) 250 majority, a republican loss of 1250; Knox county gives him about 400 majority, a loss of 400. Bell county gives E. J. Howard, Wilson's, (dem) opponent about 1000 majority, a republican loss of 1700. In spite of these heavy losses Wilson may win as his district is republican. J. W. Kendall, (dem) may be defeated. Clark and Montgomery counties, in which are Winchester and Mount Sterling, are so close as to require the official count. They heretofore have together given 700 democratic majority. Congressmen Montgomery, Breckenridge, Stone, Ellis, Goodnight, McCree and Paynter are re-elected.

All Claims.

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 5.—Both parties claim the election of congressman and state ticket by a majority of from 200 to 500.

count of the heads of the ticket shows the following results: Republicans, 27,033; democrats, 25,317; reform democrats, 1535; American, 231; prohibition, 146. This indicates a republican majority of 3748, but as the scratched tickets have not yet been canvassed, it is impossible to tell which are successful.

Republican Majority Probable.

Drs. MOORE, Nov. 5.—The State Register this morning says: The returns indicate a plurality of 4000 to 10,000 for the republicans. The democrats are claiming the election, but the republicans are holding to the state and now have the barb wire fence around a considerable portion of it. The returns so far received are mainly from the towns and city wards and the probabilities are that the townships will show increased gains for the republicans. Congressmen Henderson, Struble, Hall, Flick and Doliver are surely elected. The democrats have elected Hayes in the Second district. All other districts are doubtful with probabilities—most of them in favor of the republicans.

Tennessee Estimate.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 5.—The vote has been light, Buchanan for governor elected by 20,000 majority. Later returns may swell it to 50,000.

Texas Conceded.

AUSTIN, Nov. 5.—The democratic state ticket and solid democratic delegation to congress are believed to have been elected. Official returns will not be at hand for several days, but it is believed that the democratic state ticket is elected by the usual large majority.

THE LAST STRAW.

But What Good Will a Democratic House do While We Have the Senate and Freixas.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The Evening World estimates that the democrats will have a majority in the next congress of between 63 and 97.

The Mail and Express concedes a democratic majority of "at least 50." The Evening Sun places the democratic majority at "about 53."

Utica—Returns from Cooperstown are to the effect that Van Horn (dem) is elected to congress in the Twenty-fourth district.

New York a Tie.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Returns up to noon show that the democrats have elected 67 assemblymen in this state and republicans 53. The districts are still somewhat in doubt, with the probability in favor of the republican. To secure a majority on joint ballot, the democrats require 68 and the republicans 62, as the democrats have 19 senators and the democrats 13. It looks, therefore, like a tie on joint ballot. A United States senator depends upon the result.

New York Press Guesses.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The Times this morning claimed that the two parties will be represented in the Fifty-second congress as follows: Democrats 201, republicans 129, democratic majority 71. The Tribune's figures are 176 republicans and 163 democrats. The Sun says the house is evidently democratic by about 15 majority. The World claims fully 10 majority for the democrats.

Tammany Triumphant.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Tammany hall has gained a decisive victory over the republicans and county democracy fusion. Grant for mayor is likely to fall below 22,000 majority over Scott. The vote for district attorney, in which it was expected that Nicoll, the Tammany man, would fall far behind the vote for Grant, will show that he has a majority of nearly 21,000 over Goff. The vote for superior court judges and city court judges shows a majority in favor of Tammany.

Pennsylvania Situation.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—The estimated pluralities from sixty-five of the sixty-seven counties in the state give Pattison (democrat) for governor a net plurality of 4792. The two missing counties, Elk and Warren, in 1886 gave a net republican plurality of 363. The election of Pattison by over 5000 plurality is conceded. The democrats have certainly gained two congressmen, and the figures are so close in three other districts that the official computation may show at least one additional democratic member and possibly a democratic gain of four or five. The present delegation in congress stands twenty-one republicans and seven democrats. The legislature remains strongly republican.

Pierre Leads.

AURORA, S. D., Nov. 5.—The vote for state capital stands: Huron, 49; Pierre, 77. At Elkton, Brookings county, the vote stood: Huron, 179; Pierre, 173.

Florida as Usual.

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 6.—The democratic state ticket is estimated elected by over 15,000 majority. Both democratic congressmen are elected by largely increased majorities.

Kentucky Majorities.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 5.—Latest returns show Asher G. Caruth, (dem) has 5000 majority; Dickerson, (Carlele's) district, 3900 majority. In the Eleventh, Whitley county, gives John H. Wilson, (rep) 250 majority, a republican loss of 1250; Knox county gives him about 400 majority, a loss of 400. Bell county gives E. J. Howard, Wilson's, (dem) opponent about 1000 majority, a republican loss of 1700. In spite of these heavy losses Wilson may win as his district is republican. J. W. Kendall, (dem) may be defeated. Clark and Montgomery counties, in which are Winchester and Mount Sterling, are so close as to require the official count. They heretofore have together given 700 democratic majority. Congressmen Montgomery, Breckenridge, Stone, Ellis, Goodnight, McCree and Paynter are re-elected.

All Claims.

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 5.—Both parties claim the election of congressman and state ticket by a majority of from 200 to 500.

WILL RUN THE MILL.

The A. M. Miller Mill at Thomson to Continue at Work.

TIMBER LANDS OWNED BY LELAND.

The Severalty Lands in Surrounding Reserves; What Leahy Says; Lumber News.

The A. M. Miller saw mill at Thomson, which shut down permanently as far as Mr. Miller was concerned in August, will not be moved from Thomson, as was feared by the people of the place, at least it will not go yet. Mr. Leland, who has been Mr. Miller's head man at the mill, who has managed the saw mill business for many years, has been quietly buying pine adjacent to Thomson for some time, and now has enough to run the plant for a few years. He will start up his camps in a few weeks and will start the mill in the spring for almost a full season's run, cutting about 8,000,000 feet. As this mill was Thomson's only industry, the news that it is to continue will be good news to Thomsonsians.

The Cloquet mills are busy and will keep sawing until stopped by ice, which later in the month. Already ice bothers them a little in the morning.

Nearly all mills on the line of the St. Paul & Duluth road have closed for the season. Their cut of 1890 will be ahead of any previous year.

Chesser & Dolph of Gladwin, Mich., near Saginaw, have purchased 20,000,000 feet of pine in the Duluth district. The Hollister Lumber company, which has just made a purchase of 5,000,000 of 820 stock of C. Hebard & Son, Pequin, Mich., is composed in part of Hallenbeck & Gilbert, who own timber in the Duluth district. They manufactured 5,000,000 feet of lumber at Duluth this season, and will put in 5,000,000 feet of logs the coming winter.

The Ashland correspondent of The Northwestern Lumberman writes as follows: Agent Leahy had this to say: "During the last three years no allotments have been made to the Indians of this agency. On all these reservations, except Grand Portage, there are enough agricultural lands to supply all the Indians with farms. Where the best soil is found the ground is covered by a thick growth of timber, including hard and soft maple, ash, birch and yellow birch, elm, pine and other less important varieties. Where allotments are made, and the allottee is permitted to sell the timber, the government should adopt such measures as will protect the Indians from the consequences of his ignorance and inexperience. The experience of this agency shows that but few Indians have made good use of the money secured from the sale of their timber. The money has been wasted for whisky and trinkets, and gamblers and thieves have reaped a rich harvest while it lasted. It is the duty of the government to manage the funds received for the sale of timber for the benefit of the allottee, to see that the money is expended in clearing a few acres for cultivation, in building houses thereon, in furnishing necessary farming utensils and in providing himself and his family with a supply of suitable clothing as it may be needed from time to time. The pine timber should be sold, as it is liable to great loss every year from winds and fires. The old chippings scattered through these forests give rise to great forest fires, which frequently destroy great quantities of valuable timber. There have been to date 27,439.79 acres allotted on the Bad River reservation, 2,335.01 on the Red Cliff, 37,582.45 on the Court Oreilles, 7,806.75 on the Fond du Lac and 7,086.62 on the Lac du Flambeau, in all 82,488.22 acres. I had hoped that the Indians could busy themselves, and derive a considerable revenue out of their allotments this winter, but the complaint of the Flambeau chiefs, and the investigation which is to follow, make that impossible."

A Disease Unaccountably Prevalent.

The prevalence of ailments attributable to miasma in the air that people breathe, and the water they drink, is well nigh unaccountable. Not alone in pestilential swamps, badly drained suburban districts, and marshes exposed to the sun's rays by the receding tide, is this scourge of humanity found. Even in great cities, healthfully located, skillfully sewered, well looked after in every respect in a sanitary way, we find malarial. Its presence is often inexplicable, but its attacks are often preventable. The protector is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The eradicator bears the same name—a name known to thousands throughout our broad land and elsewhere as a synonym of relief, prevention and cure of the insidious disorders in its abominable phases—chills and fever, bilious remittent, dumb ague and ague cake, as well as others. Nor is the Bitters less effective for indigestion, kidney complaint, biliousness and rheumatism.

A prominent physician and old army surgeon in eastern Iowa, was called away from home for a few days, during his absence one of the children contracted a severe cold and his wife bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for it. They were so much pleased with the remedy that they afterwards used several bottles at various times. He said, from his experience with it, he regards it as the most reliable preparation in use for colds and that it came the nearest being a specific of any medicine he had ever seen. PUTTING IN DRILLS.

A Diamond Drill to go in on the Aticokan Range.

AND ACCURATE TESTS TO BE MADE.

This Range Will Then be Better Known; Work at the State Deposits.

Within three months much will be known as to the extent of the Aticokan iron range. Port Arthur parties, headed by President Marks and F. S. Wylie of the Port Arthur, Duluth & Western, have arranged to send a diamond drill into the Aticokan country, and an attempt made to learn the extent of the bodies of ore that are probably there. Maj. Pickens is also interested in this prospecting tour, he now owning properties in the range. As has been stated heretofore, the drill will be sent there with the prospecting party within a week, and the work will be prosecuted until winter sets in. The result of this move will probably be the development of the extensive mineral interests of the Aticokan and the joining of the Iron Range road with the Port Arthur, giving a Duluth outlet to the range.

Opening State Quarries. Messrs. Allen and Gowen of the C. N. Nelson Lumber company are pushing explorations in the slate deposits between Cloquet and Tomson. They have been fairly successful so far and have uncovered and opened about as many veins as were opened earlier in the year by the Pennsylvania experts who were at work for Wisconsin parties and Governor McRae. It is fully expected that these fine deposits will soon be put in shape for the actual turning out of merchantable slate.

Sharp, but Undoubtedly Correct. Northwestern Railroad: Newspaper ethics and the editorial manners of newspaper men are curious things. For instance, two weeks ago The Northwestern Railroad, as the official paper of the Railway Employees' club, published an authoritative statement of the club's intentions and attitude in the present campaign. This was done in refutation of some foolish misstatements which were in circulation in the political press. Our article was very frank and explicit, leaving no room for misunderstanding and, we had supposed, no room for suspicion as to its veracity or its honesty. This is how The Duluth News comments on that article:

"The Northwestern Railroad has, on the most moderate estimate, spent at least five months of hard work grubbing down to the very roots of the railroad problem for every five minutes which The Duluth News has spent on the same subject. The conclusions which we have reached are based on the exhaustive investigations."

We doubt if the "man who edits" The Duluth News would carry the same manner on to the street or into the club as he displays in his paper. It is a curious thing that a gentleman in private life cannot be a gentleman in print; and the incident goes to show how impossible it is in times of political excitement for any statement to be made and accepted as being honest and unbiased.

AMUSEMENT NOTES. Scanlan played in "Shane-ne-Lawn" last night before another crowded house. This Irish comedian has been seen by the two largest audiences that ever assembled in Temple Opera. The show was poor.

Mark's International Vaudeville open an engagement at the Temple Friday evening, giving a matinee on Saturday. Europe has given specialty artists to this organization. Among the people are the following: Miss Minnie Cunningham, for the past season playing in the pantomime burlesque at the Drury Lane theater, London. She is a charming singer of ballads and a clever dancer; Leonce, a juggler and quillist with Mlle. Lola come from Portugal; the brothers Bonini from Melbourne; great great acrobats and contortionists; Jaco and Coco, the human monkeys from the Reichshalle, Berlin, are not monkeys, but two clever gymnasts who make up and imitate in an acrobatic specialty the games of daring aborigines.

A MISSIONARY REPORT. Gives Some Idea of the Magnitude of the Work.

Boston, Nov. 5.—According to a report just issued by the board of managers of the American Baptist Missionary union the expenses of that organization will be increased by $120,000 during the fiscal year ending on May 1 next. Of this amount $50,000 is charged to the decline of the value of American exchange in Asia, a result of the silver bill.

The union is sending out a reinforcement of sixty missionaries a larger number than in any previous year, and this will add over $70,000 to the annual expenditure. A party of fourteen male and female missionaries arrived in London last week en route for Burma from whence they will be distributed throughout India. Among others are Miss Gertrude Clinton of Alton, Illinois, who goes to the Baptist college at Rangoon; Dr. William Dring and wife of McPherson, Kansas and Miss Laura A. Any of Minneapolis, who are en route for Assam whence they go respectively to Tura and New-gong. Eight missionaries, husbands and wives, are now en route to the Telugu mission in India. Among them are the Rev. P. M. Johnson and wife of Louisburg, Mo. The steamer China for Yokohama has on board eleven missionaries. Several of those have left their wives or children in the United States until they can prepare a home.

Complications in Illinois.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Never in the history of Illinois have election returns throughout the state been so complicated by scrambling or local issues and by the fact that the count was not completed at 9:30 this morning. The returns are very meagre, and although local newspapers, the associated press and the telegraph company have made a great effort to obtain accurate results, as yet, nothing but approximate results can be had.

The latest from Cook county indicates that Lavelle, democrat, for sheriff will have a small majority, although this is not absolutely determined. It is claimed by the republican state committee that Taylor, Adams and Mason will be elected, although Mason's district will be exceeded, though close, Cannon, they also claim by a small majority.

Geat's district is still in doubt. A republican authority estimates Amberg's (rep.) plurality over Wilson (dem.) for state treasurer in forty-eight counties outside of Cook, at 12,000 and claim that this will be swelled to 15,000. This estimate, however, is probably exaggerated.

Buying Railroad Tickets.

There are a good many people who do not know how to buy a railroad ticket for a journey of over 100 miles. Think not? Well, it's true. We knew an editor, an intelligent man, who was going from an interior Illinois town to Manchester, Vt. He bought to Chicago—could do better there, you know—let an agent sell him to Manchester, N. H., got into Montreal Saturday night, couldn't get away till Monday morning, then had no ticket to his destination, and paid fare Montreal to his Vermont town. He simply didn't know how to buy a ticket. Your local railroad agent may not look like a very smart man; he may not have a front pew in church; he may not rank high in the town's social circles; but he knows more about railroad rates and connections than you do. If you are contemplating a trip, just call at his office, tell him where you want to go and that you want your tickets to read over "The Burlington," then take his advice about all the rest. That is the way to buy a ticket. For any particulars about "The Burlington," which your agent cannot give, write to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, C. B. & N. R. R. St. Paul, Minn.

The Home Truth of a Foreign Proverb.

The Spanish have a proverb—dama-si-do es peligroso—"too much is dangerous." If brevity is the soul of wit, this means a great deal. Excess and other imprudences in eating and drinking are productive of one tremendous evil—the progenitor of many others—and these are among the follies to which this pithy saying has direct application. The evil to which we allude is indigestion, to the relief and cure of which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has contributed more than any medicine which science has given to the American people. This invigorating stomachic and corrective is the means not only of reforming a disordered or enfeebled condition of the digestive organs, but of securing healthy action of the bowels and the liver. Besides this, it counteracts a tendency to rheumatism and kidney complaint, extirpates and prevents malarious disease, is a potent restorative of strength which is failing, hastens convalescence and mitigates the infirmities of age.

THE RESULT.

Returns at present writing are too incomplete to form an exact conclusion of results in the state or country. It is clear, however, that the republican vote has fallen off materially in many states, and by this failure to vote and some divisions the democrats have profited. Every Southern state has been scooped, and even in the border states only a few republicans remain to hold the last ditch for the party. The exceptional personal popularity and ability of the democratic leader in Massachusetts pulled up his side by thousands of votes, and the mugwump and low tariff republican vote went solidly for him, sending him in with a rush over Brackett, in spite of the excellent record of the present state administration. New Hampshire, always close, goes democratic, but as an offset, Delaware, ordinarily democratic, comes over for once to the republican column.

The returns assure control of the next house to the democrats, giving them the coveted opportunity to paralyze progressive legislation. We see nothing to expect from them beyond paralysis, and such a record of negation will count for nothing and less than nothing in the appeal to the country two years from now. In the time to come, the effects of the present tariff legislation will be fairly developed, and when risen to view from under the heap of lying, will speak for themselves and justify themselves as no words could do. When the next campaign comes round the new industrial creations of the country will be their own advocate and safeguard against reckless destruction. Then, too, it will be seen whether the North is willing to sanction such an abatement of representation as the South now shows.

So the republican party though defeated is not cast down. In view of its bold advance and the desperate resistance to the tariff and federal election legislation, this temporary rebuff is not surprising. It can far better afford to wait for the verdict on the next appeal than can its divided, jealous and intemperately adversarial. It regrets the reverse but it will waste no hour in mourning over it. Some able and true men will be missed in the next house, but in the teeth of the most virulent opposition, Lodge goes back to champion the cause of free and fair elections, and there are good hopes, at least that McKinley has foiled the outrageous gerrymandering which was used to make his return hopeless. Passion and trickery and force and lying have done their worst. The great stalwart minority which has defied and endured them will lose no point from now on for the party or the country in the house.

In our state the result is still in doubt, with chances in favor of Governor Merriam's re-election by a narrow plurality. The balance of the state ticket is probably elected by varying margins, with the exception of the candidate for auditor who has been defeated by the combination of the democrats and alliance men on Bierman. St. Louis county gives the ticket from 1200 to 1600 plurality, and brings in Daugherty, Boyd, Kendall and Kinney for senator and representatives at the top of the poll by pluralities which considerably exceed the combined vote for the opposing candidates. The whole republican county ticket is also elected with the possible exception of Sinclair, who is defeated, if at all, by the narrowest of margins in favor of Voss, the alliance and democratic candidate. Comstock for congress has about 1200 plurality over Whiteman. To republicans who registered but failed to vote the reduction in the normal plurality is chargeable.

Our neighbor state, Wisconsin gets a bad black eye in Peck's election and the triumph of the crusade against the common school house and the common language of the country. That is one of the achievements of the party, which will be crowded over much outside the state limits. It should be a sickly crow anywhere.

Our congressional delegation has been hard hit. Dunnell, Snider and Hall are knocked out, and even Comstock's return is in doubt. Lind is safe so far as heard from, but it is not safe to count on anything in this upsetting election until it is riveted down by certainties. For this unkindly slap, due credit should be given to the Pioneer Press and other professing republican papers, which spout free trade and tariff damnation day in and out in close alliance with the democratic press, and only just before election recall that protection is the republican policy. You can't face both ways in the same month and expect that your readers will follow your turn.

SEEN AND HEARD.

A locomotive engineer has a keen affection for his "iron steed." Last that what it is called? But if one may believe an engineer on one of the great railroads of this country, locomotives are extremely fickle. He declares that his engine will take a train over a steep grade with a rush on one day, while perhaps on the very next day, with the same train the arduous, quaking will pretend to be shy, and back in tugged timidity, fence flint and finally do what it is asked to do with a pout. "It is hard," he says, "to realize that your engine isn't alive. She acts like a horse. She will shy and balk at a grade when she feels like it, and again will take the bit in her teeth and jerk the load clean over the hill. You can't help calling such an engine 'her.' Sometimes I feel like speaking to her when she is sulking. Maybe I do without realzing it."

"Well, I've waited on gentlemen, ladies and children for twenty-five years," said a waiter the other day, "and I've seen some queer dishes and some people with queer tastes in that time; but I never saw anyone do a thing like that," and he pointed mysteriously over his shoulder to a well-dressed young fellow. "He's got ice cream," said the waiter, "but what do you think is under it? It's a piece of apple pie made as hot as can be in the oven. He scooped the ice cream over the top of the pie and it almost melted. Then he began to eat the moss with a spoon before the cream could melt more than just a little, and he really seems to revel in it. It heats all what people will do to their insides," and the waiter bustled forward to seat a young woman, pretending not to see that an old man who had not tipped him was struggling wildly to get into his overcoat without assistance.

The election has told plainly that the people do not understand the McKinley bill. "Beyond much doubt," said a prominent republican at headquarters this morning, "the democrats have a majority in the house. Matters might be much worse for the republicans. We have a President and a majority in the senate, and can still control legislation. By the time another election comes around the new tariff bill will have been tried. Then the workingmen of this country can tell by actual experience its effect on business and prices. It will take at least that length of time for industries that have been wiped out by the entry of goods on the free list to resume operations. And when that time comes the people will be ready to send republicans to congress."

HER IDEAL.

[Kate Masters in New York Herald.]
She wanted to reach an ideal.
She talked of the lovely art,
She quoted from Emerson's essays,
And said she thought Howell's had "heart."

She doted on Emerson's production,
She thought comic opera low,
And she played trying tunes on a guitar.
Keeping tune with a sandal-shoe.

She had dreams of a nobler existence,
A bleated coarseness place,
Where women would be free and equal
As queens of a glorious race.

But her biscuits were deadly creations
That caused people's spirits to sink,
And she'd views upon matters religious
That drove her relations to drink.

She'd opinions on co-education,
But not ideas on cake,
She could analyze Spencer or Browning,
But her kitchen range wouldn't bake.

She wanted to be eccentric,
And she wore the most classical clothes,
And she played trying tunes on a guitar,
And contracting a cold in her nose.

She studied of forces hypnotic,
She believed in theosophy quite,
She understood theosophy quite,
And said that the faith cure was right.

She wanted to reach an ideal,
And at-ends unpoetic words fall;
And her husband wore frills on his trousers,
And fastened them on with a nail.

HE HAD A PULL.

[West Shore.]
The landlord stood by the open door,
Before a screen that concealed much more
Than the weary pilgrim passing by.
Could see with his heavy, bloodshot eye.

Said the devil, "Ah, ha! Come out of the storm;
I'll give you a place I've long kept warm."
And pulled

And pulled
him in.
And pulled
him in.

Democratic Gains in Montana.
HELENA, MONT., Nov. 5.—The returns are coming in very slowly but all combine to show heavy democratic gains.
The republicans elected the congressman last year by 1,600 majority. The returns so far have wiped this out. Secretary Steele, of the state committee claims the state for Dixon by 1,000. Secretary Walter of the republican committee says Carter has carried it by from 200 to 300.

TO FORTIFY A HARBOR.

The Government's Plan for Boston's Fortifications.

A TREMENDOUS WORK TO BE DONE.

Big Guns and Concealed Forts to Dot the Islands in the Harbor.

Boston, Nov. 5.—Boston, so the war department has decided, is to become a fortified port. The plan laid out involves the expenditure of $11,000,000. The principal points of fortifications will be Nahant, Groves Cliff, Deer Island, Long Island head, Fort Warren and Nantasket. The armament recommended by the board of fortifications is to consist of forty-seven breech loading rifles, 128 rifled mortars, eighteen torpedo boats and as many submarine mines.

On the high land in Winthrop, back of Groves Cliff, three batteries will be built, one containing three 12-inch breech-loading rifles and two of 12-inch mortars, sixteen in all. The mortar batteries will be the same as those of Nahant. The 12-inch rifles will be mounted on hydraulic lifts.

The batteries on Deer Island will be among the heaviest in the harbor. They will consist of two 16-inch rifles mounted in revolving turrets, five of 8-inch rifles on "disappearing carriages," and thirty-two 12-inch mortars in two batteries of 16 each.

Lovell's island will be fortified by four guns of great power, two 16-inch rifles mounted in turrets at the northern end of the island and two 15-inch pneumatic guns able to fire ten rounds of shell, containing 500 pounds of explosive, in forty minutes, at the southern end.

On Gallop's island will be mounted two 16-inch breech-loading guns in turret forts. In the fort at the east end of Long Island head will be placed five 10-inch rifles weighing 30 tons each. Paddock's island will have a battery of sixteen 12-inch mortars, which throw a 610-pound projectile five miles. Nantasket will be strongly fortified by two batteries of rifled guns, each mounting three 12-inch and four 10-inch breech-loaders.

Concealed on Little Hog island will be a battery of sixteen 12-inch mortars, and in remodeled Fort Warren five 8-inch guns on disappearing carriages, and five 10-inch rifles in armored casemates.

NICKEL STEEL FOR GUNS.

Great Advantages Claimed for the New Metal When Used for Fowling Pieces.

As an indication of the variety of uses to which nickel steel may be applied the fact is cited that the manager of William Jessop & Sons' Crucible Steel works at Sheffield, England, had a pair of gun barrels made from the combination metal, with a large proportion of nickel, and put up an ordinary twelve-bore fowling piece. The gun was fitted by an eminent firm of gunmakers in London and William Jessop shot with it during the greater part of an entire shooting season with most satisfactory results. Previously a single gun had been tested by the gunmakers to destruction.

The ordinary test of a gun barrel for a twelve-bore gun is something like this: In practice they use three drams of powder and one ounce of shot, but in testing they go up to four or five drams of powder and an ounce and a half of shot. Nine tests were carried out on this gun barrel. The ninth test contained fifteen drams of powder, three and a half ounces of shot and double wadding. The gun barrel burst, but not in the real sense of the word, for it merely opened and laid out flat. The gunmakers, who are noted for having made superior class guns for a quarter of a century, informed Mr. Hall that never in their experience had they seen or imagined such a piece of material.

THE UNNECESSARY ADVANCE.

Drugs Have Gone up on Account of the Tariff.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—It is expected that the wholesale price of ales will be advanced by the domestic and Canadian brewers having a trade in this city, as a result of the increased duties on barley, malt and hops. An advance of 20 per cent has already been made by the brewers of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut.

Limburger cheese has advanced 20 per cent, and so did the prices of French peas, imported ported meats and other delicacies made across the water. The figures, wholesale and retail, on nearly all classes of drugs have gone up, the advances ranging from 5 to 60 per cent.

New Chicago Church.
Chicago, Nov. 5.—The corner stone of the new Baptist church, to be erected by the First Baptist church, of which the Rev. Dr. P. S. Henson is pastor, was formally laid today. The interesting fact in connection with the structure is that it will be of the stones that once formed a portion of the old university of Illinois, which stood on the grounds donated by Stephen A. Douglas.

A Northwestern Wreck.
Beloit, Wis., Nov. 5.—The passenger train on the Chicago & Northwestern road was wrecked yesterday. Fireman Walsh was instantly killed and Engineer Egan was badly injured. The coaches were badly smashed, but no passengers were seriously injured. The accident was caused by an unlocked switch.

Chicago Enterprise.
Chicago, Nov. 5.—The vote of the city was practically unanimous in favor of adding to the fund already guaranteed $5,000,000 by the issue of city bonds and by the means of the South park bonds $500,000 more, making the total guarantee at present $10,500,000.

Grand Jury in St. Louis.
St. Louis, Nov. 5.—The state grand jury has handed in a sweeping denunciation of the whole grand jury system and called for its abolition. The report declared the grand jury a superfluous adjunct to criminal jurisprudence and asserted that in most cases it hinders and delays the administration of justice while it affords the members, when so inclined, the opportunity to gratify malice or to blacken the reputation of reputable men.

THE QUEEN'S HEALTH.

Officially Announced That She Will not Open Parliament.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The feeble health of Queen Victoria has caused her majesty to give up attending divine service in the Catholic church on Sunday's during her residence in Balmoral. She is now having constructed a private chapel, the interior being of exquisitely carved woods, with magnificent stained glass windows. Pending its completion, divine services are weekly held in the drawing-room of the castle.

It is officially announced that the Queen has informed Lord Salisbury that she does not feel equal to the task of opening parliament in person. The Queen will arrive at Windsor from Balmoral, Nov. 22, and the council for the speech will be held on the following day.

Price Fight Brewing.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Although no date has yet been fixed for the finish fight between Tom Ryan of Grand Rapids, and Edward Bartlett, of this city, the tickets have already been issued and are now in demand at $10 each. Ryan is being trained by old Bill Richards while Bartlett is in the hands of Harry Gilmore. Both men are in good condition but it is impossible to speculate on the winner until the meeting is near at hand.

NEWS OF WEST DULUTH.

Election Matters Absorb All Interest of the Day.

BOYD RUNS AHEAD OF THE TICKET.

News of a Very Dull Day in West Duluth and the West End.

The election here yesterday was very exciting although not a full vote was polled as none of the manufacturers shut down and men did not want to lose time. A large number of workers for all parties were around the polls all day and were after every man that approached them. There was any amount of arguing and disputing but in the main part it was good natured.

The vote of West Duluth yesterday was as follows: For Governor—Joseph P. Pinkham, 11; Wm. R. Merriam, 368; Thos. Wilson, 208; S. M. Owen, 185.

Lieut-Governor—Joseph O. Barrett, 0; Judson S. Ives, 387; E. G. Pahl, 205; J. O. Barrett, 179.

The officers of election, Messrs. Luther, Everett, White, Curo and McCullum, were polite, painstaking and efficient. They stuck to their post of duty through the entire night and until 11 o'clock this forenoon.

Notes.

Nick Buffer, while driving home from Duluth last evening, was run into by an unknown party and his buggy overturned and smashed up. He had his young and high-spirited horse, but he behaved splendidly.

The Epworth league meeting last evening was fully attended, and Mr. Stocking's address was very interesting.

John Watling, an employe at the Iron Bay works, got a scale from a piece of steel in his eye this forenoon which will disable him several days.

A day team ran away this morning and created much excitement for a few moments, but were finally stopped at the depot without doing any damage.

Notes of Sport.

Bartlett, of Philadelphia, who was with one of the English teams during the past season, will probably go back there next year.

Ed. Smith of the Cleveland National League Club, is said to be in such poor health that he will never play ball again.

It is said that next season Joe Gerhardt will manage and captain the St. Louis club. Certainly Comiskey will not.

Nelson's owner is the only man who ever bred, raised and drove a trotter in 2:11. Senator Stanford did it all but the driving.

Hugh Nichol was not included in the reserve list of the Kansas City club, and it is reported that he will be given his release at once so that he may be able to secure a position for next season.

None of the members of the Kansas City's have signed except Elmer Smith. Ike Weir states that he hasn't forgotten how to fight, and if anybody wishes to meet him let them put up a forfeit, then he will give them his attention. He will fight any 118-pound man in America, and doesn't mind if they weigh a few pounds heavier.

The New Jockey Club.

New York, Nov. 5.—It has leaked out that Pierre Lorillard's new jockey club is going to be a very exclusive affair. The twenty-four privileged ones who were with him at dinner in the sacred precincts of the Union club are to legislate for the interests of the Monmouth Park association, the Coney Island Jockey club and the New York Jockey club, who are to make a sort of trust to legislate for themselves. They will adopt a rigorous set of rules, if Mr. Withers consents, and other racing associations may use them if they care to. But the Dwyers are not to be in it, nor is the Brooklyn Jockey club. It is not exclusive enough, and there is too much practical business about the Messrs. Dwyer to suit Mr. Lorillard and his associates. So they are to be "frozen out."

Hunting For Salt River.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 6.—Senator Quay passed through the city last night en route to Florida to rest and refresh himself by fishing for tarpon. In reply to the query: "To what do you attribute the result of the election?" he said: "To lack of votes." "Do you care," said the reporter, "to express any opinion on the situation?" "It looks to me," said he, "as though the best thing to do just now is to wait. Yesterday I was completely tired out and didn't know how I was going to get through the day, but now the strain is off, and I am feeling better than for a long time. It looks from the returns as though the farmers and the laboring men had done the business for us in this state."

"Do you look for an extra session of congress?" "No, I do not."

Depew's Sensible Opinion.
New York, Nov. 6.—Mr. Depew was seen by a reporter last night, and asked what he thought of the democratic tidal wave. "It is the McKinley law," said Mr. Depew, "not the legitimate result of the McKinley law but the effect of its going into operation only thirty days before election, effects which ought to have been foreseen. I am not surprised that we are to have a democratic house of representatives."

"Do you not think the election was a condemnation of Reed and the Force bill?" "Not at all, Speaker Reed has the entire confidence of his own party, and while the election may affect his presidential prospects, it will not affect his standing among republicans."

"What was the matter in Pennsylvania and Massachusetts?" "The democratic victory in Pennsylvania," said Mr. Depew, "records a condemnation of machine politics. The machine goes along all right for a certain time until it gets to be a close corporation or insolent, when it loses public sympathy and is set upon. As to Massachusetts, the cause of the democratic victory is very different. Massachusetts has been getting more and more democratic for twenty years past and steadily drifting away from its old republican anchorage."

Frank Lawler Loses.
CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—The county republican campaign committee claims to have received returns from every voting precinct in the city except one. On these returns they claim the election of Gilbert (rep.) for sheriff over Lawler (dem.) by about 2300 majority, and of Hutt (rep.) for county treasurer over Kern (dem.) by 470.

California.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—Returns from 1039 precincts in California, out of a total of 2399, including part of San Francisco, give Markham (rep.) for governor, 53,106; Pond, (dem) 72,929. Markham's plurality is 10,100.

Pennsylvania's House.
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 6.—Complete returns on house of representatives give the republicans 123 members, democrats 79 and independent republicans 2. The republicans have a majority of 56 on joint ballot.

Democratic Figures in New York.
NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The Associated Press reports show the election of sixty-eight democratic assemblymen in New York state and sixty republicans. As the democrats have thirteen senators against nineteen republicans, the former will thus have on joint ballot, eighty-one votes against the latter's seventy-nine, which ensures the election of a democratic successor to Senator Evarts, moreover, the democrats claim that two assembly districts credited to republicans, namely Dutchess county, first, and Montgomery county, belong to them.

Have You Heard From Arkansas?

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 6.—The latest information from Arkansas is to the effect that official returns from nine counties in the Second district, and close estimates of the remaining counties give Breckenridge about 700 majority. Both parties still claim the First district. The vote is reported to be very close and it may take the official count to decide which is elected. In the Fourth district Terrell, dem., is elected by a big majority, and while the news from other districts is very meagre, it seems to be safe to say that all of them have gone democratic by the usual, if not increased majorities.

New Hampshire.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 6.—The republicans concede the election of Daniel (dem) in the Second congressional district, by a plurality of 89 to 60. This gives the democrats the two congressmen from this state. Both parties claim the legislature. The republicans say they have chosen thirteen and probably fifteen senators, and will have a good working majority in the house.

Connecticut's Vote.

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 6.—The legislature stands—senate—republicans 16, democrats 16. House—republicans 134, democrats 117. Republican majority on joint ballot eight or ten. The legislature will have to settle the governor matter.

Ingalls Don't Go Back.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 6.—The republican state central committee this morning concedes the opposition to Ingalls will have a majority in the legislature.

HOME AGAIN.

So Says Stanley Standing on America's Shores; Nothing as to the Rear-guard and Bartlett.

New York, Nov. 6.—The big Teutonic, with H. M. Stanley, wife and party on board, passed quarantine at 8 o'clock this morning, but the fog was so dense that it took the big liner two hours to come up the bay. At quarantine, Maj. Pond, manager of Stanley's tour, Col. Thomas A. Knox, Edward Quintard and Col. Findlay Anderson, of the New York Herald, who accompanied Stanley on his first African expedition to find Livingston, went on board and found the party.

Mr. Stanley was overjoyed to meet his friends, and especially Col. Anderson. Col. Anderson, in a brief speech, welcomed Mr. Stanley to America.

In reply Mr. Stanley said: "Col. Anderson, I thank you from my heart for your kind welcome to my home. This is a far different day from the one twenty-three years ago, when I sailed away from the harbor of New York to report to you in London. I am delighted to return for the third time for a visit to a land and people to whose influence and hospitality I am deeply indebted. Although I have been absent so long, I am a citizen of the United States you know, and I am glad to feel that I am a citizen of this country, but I must go and come whenever and wherever duty calls me. Here I am again back from the gloom of a country that was much unknown to the one that is glory and light of the world."

Mr. Stanley was asked to say something about the rear-guard troubles and the stand the London papers have taken on it since Mr. Stanley's departure from England. "I do not wish to say much about it yet, and have not read the London papers carefully enough to express my opinion. I object to stir the matter up unless I am forced to do so."

Improving the Mail Service.

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—A decided improvement in the mail service between here and Detroit and Chicago is announced by Postmaster Corcoran. Hereafter mails from the two cities named left Boston at 3 o'clock each afternoon, and arrived at their destination so late the next evening that they were not delivered until the second morning after the day on which they left Boston. Now the closing hour of such mails in Boston is 1:15 p. m., so that the mails leave on a train at 2:15 o'clock, arriving in Detroit and Chicago on the afternoon of the day following, not in time, however, for the last carriers' delivery, but in sufficiently good season to allow the hotels and baggage boxes in those cities to get the Boston mail before the close of business. By the use of special delivery stamps this change can benefit all correspondents.

A 24-Ounce Baby.

WARREN, Ind., Nov. 6.—A baby weighing exactly one and one-half pounds has been born to the wife of Frank Stone, living near this city. The infant, a girl, is perfectly formed in every respect and is only six inches in length, while its head will fit easily into an ordinary teacup.

IS STILL IN DOUBT

But Halvorsen Leads in the Fifth District

WHILE MERRIAM APPEARS TO LEAD

In the Contest for "Gubernatorial Honors; State Politics Mixed Very Badly.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 6.—Returns from sixty-six counties give Merriam, rep., for governor, 74,009 votes, Wilson, dem., 70,243, and Owen, alliance, 48,244, a plurality of 4826 for Merriam. "One hundred and one counties remain to be heard from. It looks as if Merriam was elected."

The Fifth congressional district is still in doubt. Castle, dem., plurality over Snider, rep., in the Fourth district. is 3939. Lind, rep., plurality over Baker in the Second district. is about 1000. Harries, democrat, has 1157 plurality over Dannel in the First district. O. M. Hall, democrat, has a safe majority over D. S. Hall in the Third district.

The alliance today probably hold the balance of power in the state legislature. Minneapolis—4 p. m.—The Journal has returns from 23 out of 29 counties in the Fifth district. They give Comstock, 17,723; Whitman, 14,888, and Halvorsen, 18,154. The result is still in doubt.

Whiteman Talks.

A. J. Whiteman was busy figuring up returns this morning and at noon was confident that he had been elected but, of course, by a small plurality. Speaking of the situation he said:

"Comstock is certainly out of the race, and I feel reasonably sure that I have been elected. I have made some unexpected gains in Stearns county and Halvorsen has not secured as many votes in the northern part of the district as was at first expected. These two facts, I think, are enough to ensure my election."

North Dakota Not in Fashion.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 6.—The Journal's Fargo, N. D., special says: Incomplete returns indicate the legislature will have 29 republicans out of 33 members, the balance being divided between the democrats and independents. Johnson (republican) for congress claims 6000 majority, but it may not go over 3000. Burke (republican) for governor will have 4000 majority. The entire state republican ticket is elected.

A Democrat in Montana.

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 6.—Returns are coming in slowly, the republican committee claims that Carter will have a small majority, but Dixon's election is generally conceded by 200 to 400. The democrats claim two majority in state senate.

North Dakota.

Minneapolis Journal's Fargo, N. D., special says: "Owing to the immense amount of scratching it is impossible to form a correct estimate on the result of North Dakota. Conservative republicans say the entire republican state ticket including congressmen is elected by from 2000 to 3000 majority."

THE BIG WOOLSKACK.

Lord Chief Justice of England Suddenly and Severely Ill.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Much excitement was caused in the Queen's bench division of the high court of justice today by the sudden illness of Lord Coleridge, lord chief justice of England. His lordship had heard a case in his private room, and though he had complained he was able to give a decision in the matter. Directly after the case he was seized with an apoplectic or paralytic stroke. The nearest doctor was in Chancery lane, close to the law courts, and he was hastily summoned to attend his lordship. Porter messengers were dispatched to Lord Coleridge's residence and Lady Coleridge proceeded instantly to the court to render what assistance she could to her stricken husband. Doctors declare that his condition is most critical.

CORNING MAN'S LUCK.

Heat of a Saw Seared Blood Vessel Preventing Bleeding.

CORNING, N. Y., Nov. 6.—William Minick, employed at Head's saw mill, ten miles from this place, was at work in the pit of the underneath the rapidly revolving saw. In rising he was caught by the saw. The saw cut through his flesh to the ribs from the right shoulder across to the left, and out of the left arm at the shoulder. Dr. H. C. May was called, and he was surprised that there had been no flow of blood from the terrible wounds, and the patient was apparently suffering but little. Examination revealed the fact that the flesh on the edges of the wound and the exposed ends of the blood vessels were seared so that they were closed. The saw was highly heated, it having just passed through a log, and its heat seared the wound so that no flow of blood followed. But for that Minick would have died from loss of blood. As it is, there seems to be no doubt of his recovery.

MASONIC TEMPLE.

Imposing Ceremonies Incident to Laying the Corner Stone of a Noble Structure.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—The corner stone of one of the grandest edifices of the Masonic order was laid this afternoon with solemn and impressive exercises. The structure is to occupy one-third of a block at the intersection of State and Randolph streets. It will have a frontage of 120x170 feet depth and will be twenty stories in height; the total height from the sidewalk to the upper cornice being 275 feet. The two lower stories will be of granite and those above of ash gray brick and terra cotta.

The structure will have a large interior court lined with white marble. Besides several hundred offices, it will have upwards of 100 lodge rooms, some of them having a seating capacity of 1000. The cost of the structure will be in the neighborhood of $2,000,000, and it is to be completed for dedication on May 1, 1892. It will have fifteen elevators, with the capacity of carrying 40,000 passengers daily. On the roof there will be a large garden, a mammoth restaurant and an all day orchestra. The floors of the building will be given appropriate names, such as Chicago avenue, Boston street, Broadway, etc. The main drill hall will be large enough to drill a battalion of 2000.

The exercises today were preceded by one of the largest and most imposing processions of the Masonic fraternity that has been seen in the West. Nearly forty lodges were in line, while harmony was furnished by fifteen bands of music. The brethren were attired in dark clothes and hats with white gloves and aprons, each wearing the collar and jewel of his office, the lodge furniture being carried at the head of each detachment.

On arriving at the site of the temple, the Knights Templar formed in a hollow square. Prayer was offered by the Rev. H. W. Thomas, grand chaplain, and while, with the usual impressive exercises, the stone was lowered into place, the choir of the Oriental Consistory sang an ode written for the occasion.

The oration was delivered by Mayor Cregier, grand orator. Before the stone was lowered into place, an iron box containing many documents and papers was inserted in the aperture.

THE WRONG GIRL.

It Was in the Dark and It Was Her Twin Sister.

BRIDGEPORT, Nov. 6.—Two twin sisters living at the East End are so identical in appearance that even members of their own family cannot tell Martha from Mary, excepting by a small mole under Mary's right ear. They are pretty and winning, and have plenty of admirers.

For several months past Mary's accepted lover has been a young blacksmith named Rogers, and last Sunday evening he made up his mind to learn for a certainty whether she would marry him. When he arrived at the house Mary was out and Martha received him cordially, expecting to entertain him until her sister's return. Rogers supposed she was his adored one, and at once broached the subject nearest his heart. He found her a little more reserved than usual, he thought, and her hesitation made him all the more persuasive. At length she accepted him, just as Mary came into the parlor and turned up the light.

Rogers then discovered that he had proposed to the wrong girl. He made profuse apologies, and the sisters kept him in hot water for an hour. Then Martha released him from the engagement and left him to finish out the evening with his "speckled beauty." It was too good a joke for Martha to keep, and she whispered it to one or two of Rogers' friends the next day.

CENTRAL'S ANNUAL MEETING.

Directors and Officers elected for the Enslaving Year.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 6.—At the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Central railway the following were elected directors: Edwin H. Abbott, Frederick Abbott, Howard Morris, Thomas J. Hyman, Samuel R. Ansie, Robert W. Maguire, Henry E. Spencer, H. Jeremiah Smith, Eustace J. Fritz, John T. Anderson and James H. Wellman.

At the meeting of directors the following officers were chosen: Edwin Abbott, president and treasurer; Frederick Abbott, vice president and assistant treasurer, Milwaukee; T. J. Hyman, auditor and general accountant; Howard Morris, secretary and general solicitor; Henry B. Spencer assistant treasurer and assistant secretary.

An extensive report was presented, covering, among other things, the lease of the Wisconsin Central lines to the Northern Pacific. It appears from these, that the Chicago & Northern Pacific company, which owns the Chicago terminals, leased these terminals to the Wisconsin Central company for ninety-nine years and the Central company then sub-leased them to the Northern Pacific for the Chicago terminals at $350,000 per annum, in addition to the interest of the bonds to the Terminal company.

The surplus of the Wisconsin Central company for the year ending June 30, is $23,662, and the net surplus on income for eight months ending June 30, is $85,813, exclusive of the receipts of the land department.

The report proposes to the stockholders the issuing of new debentures to pay outstanding contracts for the purchase of rolling stock on which it has heretofore paid rental, and it says that it should capitalize by funding all the temporary loans bearing a high rate of interest.

A Platform Falls on Chicago Workmen; Other Fires and Casualties.

BUFFALO, Nov. 6.—At 2 o'clock this morning fire was discovered in the C. J. Wells elevator, corner Ohio and Indiana streets. The flames started in the east tower of the elevator from an explosion which was loud enough to wake up hundreds of people who live in the vicinity. In the shortest time possible, the various boats which lay alongside the elevator were gotten out of the way. About twenty minutes after the flames had started the walls began to fall. On the north were four Lackawanna freight cars. These were buried in the debris. The elevator was almost full. It holds about 350,000 bushels and there were about 200,000 bushels in it.

At 3:40 o'clock the fire had worked its way into the rear of the four-story mill house connected with the Wells and at 4 o'clock was under control. Sparks set fire to the roof of Faror & Trell's boiler shop and the boiler shop of Mr. Riter and a row of buildings on Illinois street, which were on fire several times.

The flames were confined to the Wells elevator, which is entirely destroyed. The total loss is figured at $250,000, of which $100,000 is on building and $150,000 on the grain. The total insurance on building is $80,000. The grain was fully insured.

A telegram to the effect that the elevator had burned created quite an excitement on the Board of Trade this morning, until it was further learned that the structure belonged to the Wells company and no Duluth grain was stored in the Wells house. The house held 250,000 bushels corn and 30,000 bushels oats.

A PLATFORM COLLAPSED.

And Precipitated Hundreds to Death and Injury.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—A platform, upon which was standing a number of employees of Lyon & Healy's musical instrument factory, collapsed and instantly killed Wm. Tishendorf, seriously injured Clara Gifford, Wm. McDaniel, Henry Rodline, John Steel and John Kohler.

Some time ago the employees of the factory, about 300 in all, arranged to have their photographs taken, and employed a carpenter to construct a temporary stage for them to occupy. When the employees had taken their positions on the platform it gave way. The hundreds of men and women were thrown in a mass, and those who were not killed or seriously injured suffered painful bruises and scratches.

UNDER THE SECRET BALLOT.

A Scheme Worked Successfully by Cheaters in the East.

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—The Herald printed today an expose of a scheme for beating the secret workings of the Australian ballot law, which was worked successfully at the election in the city of New Bedford.

As soon as the polls were opened some ward officer gave a voter two ballots instead of one. The voter deposited one in the box, as he was privileged to do, but took the second outside the rail and delivered it to the ones interested in working the polls. This was marked as desired for the republican candidates and was then ready to be used. Voters known to be willing to sell their vote were then approached with the offer of $5 if they would deposit the marked ballot and bring out the blank one which would be given them.

A number of such were found, there is no doubt. The defectors of the law had what sporting men call a "lead pipe cinch." In other words, they had a dead sure thing. The purchased voter had to deposit the marked ballot and had to bring out the blank one before he got his money. The presentation of the blank ballot was the evidence that he had deposited the marked one, while it provided the managers of the scheme with the means of keeping up their game indefinitely.

It is estimated that between sixty and seventy of these marked ballots were cast in one New Bedford ward. A recount shows that prepared ballots were differently folded by the men when they put them in their pockets to carry outside the rail, and on the recount the representatives of the democratic candidates were able to pick them out by the creases in them, which differed from them regularly cast.

In order to defeat the Australian voting system it is not necessary to secure the assistance of some one of the precinct officials, which can easily be provided for previously by taking care to have the right man appointed. The assistance of this man is all essential. It is through him that the "ammunition," so to speak, is secured. His part in the plan is to supply some one outside the rail with one blank ballot. Of course it is a risk to do this, but greater risks for the same end have often been taken.

A RECEIVER APPOINTED

For the Manufacturers Mutual Insurance Company; Financial Statement.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 6.—On the application of Potter Barth and Joseph Rundle yesterday, Judge Johnson appointed Thos. L. Kennan receiver of the Manufacturers Mutual Insurance company. The insurance company was organized in February, 1889, on the mutual plan, and ran well until the spring of 1889, when losses aggregating $30,000 occurred, which seriously crippled it. The company was restrained from doing business and the receiver is directed to collect all outstanding policies, about 2300, covering a face value in insurance of $2,500,000. These policies are held all over the United States. The company's assets consist of $20, 000 worth of premium rates and about $10,000 in accounts outstanding against agents and solicitors. The total amount of present indebtedness for borrowed money and to pay adjusted losses is about $30,000 with contested losses amounting to $17,000 more, or $56,000 in all.

BRAZILIAN MATTERS.

The ex-Emperor, Will Probably not be Allowed to Return.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—A cable from Paris yesterday stated that the ex-Emperor of Brazil had forwarded a communication to the government intimating his desire to return to his country to spend the remainder of his days as a private citizen, and pledging himself to engage in no intrigue or agitation tending to promote the restoration of the monarchy.

The tenor of private advices are all to the effect that, even in advance of the coming session of Brazilian congress, it had been practically decided that none of the members of the Imperial family would be allowed to return. It is probable, however, that the viscount of Oure Prete, prime minister under the empire, his brother Alfonso Celso, late president of the Rio de Janeiro, and Silveira Martins of Rio Grand de Sul, will be recalled and their confiscated estates restored to them.

It is the prevalent opinion in Brazil that, while the republic is safe and has more to fear from internal troubles in the republican party than from any possible machinations on the part of the deposed monarch, it would seriously be prudent to permit Dom Pedro to return.

In the new congress which assembles next week, there are less than twenty members who occupied seats under the monarchy, and the government has an overwhelming majority. The Catholic ticket is beaten, receiving less than 4000 votes in the state of San Paulo, where the government received an absolute majority of 40,000 votes. The archbishop of Bahia, the Very Rev. D. Antonio, was defeated for senator of Bahia, the successful contestant being Counselor Saravio, who was at one time prime minister under Dom Pedro.

Another of the leading members in the new congress is Saldanha Marinho, a veteran republican leader, and for many years grand master of the Masonic order. It is therefore, doubtful whether a motion to sanction the return of the ex-emperor would receive a dozen votes.

Their First American Meeting.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 6.—Messrs. O'Brien and Dillon with T. P. O'Connor arrived last evening and are the lions of the hour. Tonight they will address their first meeting in the United States at the Academy of Music. Col. A. K. McClure, editor-in-chief of The Philadelphia Times, will preside. Still another meeting will be held tomorrow night over which Governor Beaver will probably preside. The three delegates will leave for Boston.

Christian Workers' Convention.

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 6.—A large number of earnest and well-known Christian workers from the United States and Canada is gathered here today to participate in the fifth international convention of undenominational Christian workers. The convention was called to order this morning by Rev. John C. Collins of New Haven. The gathering has been convened under the auspices of the committee for Christian workers in the United States and Canada. The convention will be in session one week.

Reducing Postage.

OTTAWA, Nov. 6.—It is officially announced today that the Dominion government has decided to reduce the rate of two instead of a three-cent rate throughout Canada and to the United States.

Buying Railroad Tickets.

There are a good many people who do not know how to buy a railroad ticket for a journey of over 100 miles. Think not? Well, it's true. We knew an editor, an intelligent man, who was going from an interior Illinois town to Manchester, Vt. He bought to Chicago—could do better there, you know—let an agent sell him to Manchester, N. H., got into Montreal Saturday night, couldn't get away till Monday morning, then had no ticket to his destination, and paid fare Montreal to his Vermont town. He simply didn't know how to buy a ticket. Your local railroad agent may not look like a very smart man; he may not have a front pew in church; he may not rank high in the town's social circles; but he knows more about railroad rates and connections than you do. If you are contemplating a trip, just call at his office, tell him where you want to go and that you want your tickets to read over "The Burlington," then take his advice about all the rest. That is the way to buy a ticket. For any particulars about "The Burlington," which your agent cannot give, write to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, C. B. & N. R. R. St. Paul, Minn.

The Home Truth of a Foreign Proverb.

The Spanish have a proverb—demiado es peligroso—"too much is dangerous." If "brevity is the soul of wit," this means a great deal. Excess and other imprudences in eating and drinking are productive of one tremendous evil—the progenitor of many others—and these are among the follies to which this pithy saying has direct application. The evil to which we allude is indigestion, to the relief and cure of which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has contributed more than any medicine which science has given to the American people. This invigorating stomachic and corrective is the means not only of reforming a disordered or enfeebled condition of the digestive organs, but of renewing healthy action of the bowels and the liver. Besides this, it counteracts a tendency to rheumatism and kidney complaint, extirpates and prevents malarious disease, is a potent restorative of strength which is failing, hastens convalescence and mitigates the infirmities of age.

HOLD THE FORT.

Stalwart republicans don't cry over spilt milk or try to explain away defeats by flimsy or malignant pretenses. It is patent that a considerable part of the party was not ready to stand by the new tariff legislation, and that many in the border states, at least, were set against the policy of the federal election bill. It is the part of common sense for the party therefore to abide the present verdict without vain repining and wait for the new legislation to vindicate itself as it surely will. One thing is certain. It demoralizes a party to stand still more than it does to go ahead, even at the risk of a temporary check and reverse.

If the policy of protection is the right one for this country and sure to win in the long run, as The Herald for one feels certain, it is the policy to hold to unwaveringly. The recent tariff legislation was the logical extension of this policy, and in the main, as Senator Davis affirms, the most consistent and thorough plan of protection which has ever been enacted in this country. It is now on trial, and it is assured of a sufficient term of trial, we think, despite the snap popular verdict and kicks. The protection of such legislation from such inconsiderate outbursts of popular prejudice was one principal object of the creation of the second house of congress, and its service for this end will be demonstrated now as it has been many times before. Scarcely any conceivable legislation by an American congress can be so injurious to the business interests of the country as spasmotic reversals. When a new law has been fairly tried and is condemned upon actual trial by the voice of the people, it should be repealed with proper advance notice and not till then. This will doubtless be the judgment of the senate majority and such a judgment is the right and fair one.

The present popular verdict against it is apparently sweeping, but it is not nearly as strong as it looks on the surface. There has been a revolt against a specific scheme of protection, misrepresented, denounced and damned without trial. But the triumphant opposition is divided in its own views, and divided in its appeal to the country. In some districts any scheme of protection was denounced as immoral and un-American; in others protection was supported and advocated for local interests, but not for outside interests, and it was a question of limit and measure not of extinction. In the South moreover, the federal election question was the paramount one, and the verdict was against what the republican party had in mind to do more than against what it had done. Nor was the verdict decisive by any means, as to the popular will on this question is a number of states in the North. In Pennsylvania, it was far more a question of men than of policy, and in this assuredly strong protection state the men dragged the policy down in their fall. In Wisconsin the issues were notoriously buried under local controversies, and in Ohio and West Virginia, outrageous gerrymandering in the first case at least, actually reversed the popular verdict. We accept the verdict without blinking, but it is nonsense to put its full force to the credit of free trade in this country or to the condemnation even of the new tariff legislation.

The clerk of the weather appears to thoroughly appreciate the situation.

The democrats apparently have a "good working majority" in the next house of congress.

Chalk up a number one credit mark for St. Louis county anyway. It is the banner republican county this year. And for the showing made in the face of all apathy and disaffection and division, let just credit be given to the loyal republican committee men, who put in weeks of hard work to the sacrifice of their own private business concerns from start to finish for the sake of the party. It takes hard work and personal attention and thorough organization to bring out votes and put any county at the head of the republican column, and every loyal republican will acknowledge the service and thank the workers as The Herald now does.

Of all the freaks of fortune in this campaign what would be queerer than the return from this district to congress of the Kittle that was supposed to be tied to the tail of the democratic runner? It appears now that this Kittle has scraped off a good many democratic granger votes in the race as well as republican, and till the collection is counted nobody can tell for a certainty whether the tail will wag the head or the head, the tail. Between the two, our present congressman, who had squarely earned and thoroughly deserved re-election, has lost ground in every county, and it is to be feared that even the big normal plurality for him will not bear the losses. If the daring run and unlooked for success of the Duluth democrat in cutting down the apparently overwhelming odds against him should, at the end, show the supposed outsider winning by a nose, it will be tough luck. If the republican is out of the race, we want to see the Duluth man take the cake and Kittle left in the hayseed.

SEEN AND HEARD.

"I tell you," said the electrician, "that the greatest novelties of our age are to be seen in the uses of electricity for light and power. Look at this list of patents recently issued. Here are the rheostat and the electric detector and the double-pole snap switch and the electric soldering iron and the insulator bracket and the electric converter, and the reciprocating snap switch and the electrolyte for batteries and the lightning arrester and the electric valve controller and the adjustable current reciprocating engine system and the electric power hammer and the grip mechanism for cable railways and the electric switch and the post electric and the secondary battery plate and the electrolyte for galvanic batteries and the pulsating current battery and the electrical traction apparatus and the cut-out for electrical translating devices and the electric signal for railways, besides a score of other novelties in electricity. We have new electrical discoveries every week, and the patent office is full of them. Here is the greatest wonder of the times, and few people have any idea of its greatness."

"I am glad to hear," said a housewife who is the mother of many children, "that there is a big crop of peanuts in Virginia and other Southern states this year, and that they are to be cheap in the market. Peanuts are good food, even if you call them gophers or pinders. They are wholesome and nourishing, and the oil that is in them is beneficial to many people. When roasted in the right way they have a nice taste, and the boys are ravenous for them. But there are other ways to cook them besides roasting, and frugal housewives ought to find out the other ways."

E. H. Hinton returned from England yesterday, where he had been on land sale matters. "American securities and investments find a ready market in England," said Mr. Hinton. "Millions of money have been invested in the states, and deals are pending that will bring millions more. But the English are not 'nervy' investors. While I was there the news came from Argentina that the government was unable to pay interest on its English loan, so that the British treasury had to advance the money. Other bad news came and the bottom dropped out of all kinds of securities."

The passage of the McKinley bill was one, and an important cause of the panic, so Mr. Hinton says. In a recent speech Mr. Gladstone said that the McKinley bill did England no harm, because it shut Americans from the markets of the world. Yet Englishmen in England say that the McKinley bill has hurt British commerce to the extent of millions; Englishmen in America, or when talking in parliament for political purposes, tell us that the bill only hurts America.

A Duluthian, who got home from Europe recently, studied rapid transit carefully. He says he regards the Berlin system as pretty near perfection. This consists of a viaduct road built of stone and iron. It is twenty feet high, and has four tracks. Trains of ten cars are run, and they make as little noise, he says, as an ordinary horse car. With such a system in America, he thinks the millennium of rapid transit would have about been reached.

Miss Wilson, a girl of 18 years, a short time since shot and killed a panther a mile and a quarter from her father's home near Portland, Ore. The panther had been killing her father's sheep and his dogs got after the animal and freed it, when the young lady killed it at the second shot. The creature weighed 150 pounds.

If I were you, I'd be a fool.

Would startle and amaze you!

The good I'd do

If I were you,

I'm sure would simply daze you.

If I were you,

I'd try my best

To set the world on fire;

I'd take less rest

If I were you,

And set my standard higher.

If I were you,

I'd struggle hard

To conquer admiration;

Be on my guard

If I were you,

If I were you,

In short, I'd be

A little tin-wheeled wonder,

And so late keeps me under.

A Kick on a Depot.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Will you kindly permit me to say a few words in regard to the Lake avenue station house of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad? The waiting room of the station house is small and dirty, and more than once I have seen a box of refuse, bits of paper, apple skins, cigar stumps and the like on the floor.

Is it not bad enough for the ladies and young girls to have to walk from Superior street to the station without an escort, as they often are obliged to do, without having to enter a room like this when they get there?

Last Sunday when the people who wished to take the 12:37 train to Enid, London and Lester Park, reached the station, they found the waiting room occupied by four drunken men, and cold, wet, and disagreeable as the day was, men, women and children were obliged to stand out of doors to wait for the train.

It certainly seems as if a railroad company that is said to clear $300 a month could afford to have a decent station house and waiting rooms for those who patronize their road—surely as good as those in the suburbs—and I am not the only one who is of this opinion. MRS. JONES.

HARDY & MATTHEWSON,

A DOCK 3000 FEET LONG.

Such Will be That of the Mitchell & McClure Co.

TO BE BUILT AT WEST DULUTH.

News of the Day at West Duluth and the West End of the City.

The contract for the piling for the Mitchell & McClure mill dock was let this morning to Erickson, the West Superior contractor. His bid was $15,000. Work will begin at once on driving the piles near the shore, but deep water will not be attempted until ice forms.

This is one of the largest piling contracts ever made at the head of the lakes. The dock will be 3000 feet long and over 100 feet in width, and 18,000 piles will be used in its construction. The head of the dock will stand on the shore line south of the Minnesota Car company's shops, and will extend but to the dock line near the St. Paul & Duluth drawbridge. The job will not be completed before January or February.

The Mitchell-McClure company has already begun its arrangements for getting out next year's logs. A contract has just been let to Thomas Sullivan, whose men will start for the woods soon. About 7,000,000 feet of logs will be taken out, and that quantity saved by the mill next summer. A full cut will not be made as the company only wishes to get out enough timber to smooth up the mill during the summer of 1891.

Piling for the New Duluth Mud lake mills will be done this winter.

West Duluth Notes.

One of the best family residences yet built in West Duluth is that of K. Burch in the Sixth division. It is situated on Olney street, two blocks from Grand avenue, in one of the most beautiful and commanding spots at the head of the lake. From all the east and south windows a fine view of West Duluth, Duluth, West Superior and St. Louis bay and Spirit Lake can be had. The house is a model of convenience and comfort, is solidly built from the bottom up, having a stone foundation and cellar. It has eight rooms and a bath, and altogether it is what it was built for, a nice home for a family to spend a lifetime in.

At the regular monthly meeting of the official board of the Methodist church last evening arrangements were perfected for taking a vote on the question now agitating the entire denomination, as to whether women shall be eligible to membership in the lay-assembly conference and in the general conference. The West Duluth election takes place Nov. 20.

M. W. Still has sold his house and lot on Third avenue west to Charles McCoy. Mr. Still has accepted a fine business position at Valley City, Dak., and will move his family there. There are lots of good people coming to West Duluth every day, but we do not like to see such men as Mr. Still leave us.

Ex-Policeman Steve Doyle has purchased Anderson's draying business and will soon add more teams. Steve is well acquainted and has a host of friends.

All the West Duluth candidates at the recent election express themselves as much pleased with the vote they received, especially Mr. Boyd, who got there with the largest vote, with perhaps one exception, of any man on the ticket who had opposition.

J. C. Perry, who has been on an extended business trip to South Dakota, returns today.

Price & Field have had their real estate office near the depot newly papered and touched up, and now have a good place in which to dispose of West Duluth dirt.

W. H. Eckley of St. Paul, has accepted a position in Home Bros. store in place of M. W. Still.

Ed. Burley is on the sick list, threatened with fever.

WEST END.

M. Dilmonte has bought of Scott & Holsten 3000 cords of mill wood.

Henry Holm who lives on Pitman avenue was dangerously injured by an accident on the Northern Pacific near Twentieth avenue yesterday. His left leg will have to be amputated. His left arm is broken and his head badly cut, and he complains of an injury to his chest. It is a very important case as he has a family some of whom are sick and an infant is not expected to live. Friends will confer a favor by calling on Mrs. Holm. He was an oiler and after oiling one engine must have turned in front of a second which passed him quickly.

Truckee Scorching.

Truckee, Cal., Nov. 6.—A most disastrous fire broke out here last night and as the wind was blowing a hurricane, the flames were soon beyond control. The fire was started in Stoltz's brewery by an incendiary. Nearly forty buildings, including the business portion of the town had been destroyed by 2 o'clock this morning, and the residence portion also seemed doomed. A light snow was falling but it had no effect.

The wind shifted about 3 o'clock this morning and the fire which threatened to completely wipe out the town of Truckee seemed to be under control. All buildings east of Harde's hall will probably be saved.

THE VIADUCT MATTER.

It Will Come up at the Council Meeting Monday.

AT LAST NIGHT'S SECRET SESSION

The Question That Was Considered Was the Gas & Water Matter Again.

The council next Monday evening will probably take some action concerning the Sixth avenue viaduct. That something should be done everyone will agree. The city is ready to fulfill its part as soon as the preliminary steps can be taken.

The railroad company agreed to remove a sidetrack which will interfere with the approach, but has not fulfilled its part of the agreement. Luther Mendenhall when he signed the agreement put in the provision that he would agree to the removal of the sidetrack if another equally available was provided, and this is an obstacle which is proving hard to surmount.

City Attorney Allen is now looking up the matter and will make his report next Monday evening.

At the meeting yesterday afternoon the council considered the Gas & Water company's "guaranty bill," that is a bill for extensions ordered, on which the revenue had not come up to the requirements of the guaranty of rentals supposed to have been made by the city when the extensions were ordered. For the quarter ending Sept. 30, this claim amounts to about $5000.

According to the charter of the Gas & Water company the city guarantees the corporation fifty cents water revenue per lineal foot for all pipe ordered laid by the city council. Mr. Allen has found, it is said, that these extensions must first be petitioned for by a majority of the property holders interested, and as in nearly every case these petitions have not been made, but the extensions ordered by the council, yesterday's session was taken up largely in a discussion of the validity of the right of the council to pay the Water company's bill.

We Hope He'll Stay.

The members of the Duluth Dry Goods company, the officials of the chamber of commerce and others are preparing to entertain a Boston wholesale boot and shoe man who is expected to arrive next week. The Herald has already spoken of the probability that a boot and shoe jobbing house would be established here. The gentlemen who are to visit Duluth next week come here with the intention of locating such a jobbing house, should he find everything as represented.

GOOD STREET PAVING.

What an American Alderman Saw in Europe.

Detroit Times: "While in Europe," said Alderman Coots, who returned to Detroit last night from a four months' tour abroad, "I made good use of my time studying public improvements. One thing I noticed particularly was the way in which the street car tracks are laid. The rails are about the same length as ours, but have a standard some eighteen inches high, resting upon an iron foundation which projects on either side of the standard for a distance of about nine inches. Upon the standard is the rail proper, which is perfectly flat with the exception of a groove made so as to receive the flange of the street car wheel. The iron base of the standard is placed in position while the streets are being paved. This, together with the standard, is imbedded in concrete, and the rail comes flush with the level of the street, making no break in the pavement whatever, excepting the slight groove.

The streets of London, Manchester and Sheffield are paved on concrete foundations. Wood is most generally used in paving. The wood pavement is not like that of Detroit. It is composed of blocks ten inches long, eight inches wide and six inches thick. These blocks are carefully selected and if a block is either an eighth of an inch too large or too small it is thrown out. They are set about half an inch apart the intersections being filled in with cement. I saw one piece of pavement torn up for two or three blocks which had been down nine years, the blocks having been worn down to three inches.

"I have always favored concrete foundation for pavements, and since I have been abroad I have become convinced that it is the only foundation that should be used for any kind of pavement.

"The city of London takes charge of the public thoroughfare from housestep to housestep. The expenses of the first walks and pavements are borne by the property owners and the city, but after that the city takes care of them as we do our streets."

The Way Made Clear.

One of the most serious obstacles to success in the way of man is planted right in the middle of the road to health. How to restore and to maintain a regular habit of body and digestion is too often a source of needless, and, unhappily, of vain inquiry. It is not necessary to inveigh against drastic purgatives. They who have used them continuously know the consequence. A remedy which unites the action of a regulating machine for the bowels with that of a tonic both for the organs, the liver and the stomach, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, sanctioned by the best medical authority, and receiving daily the indorsement of our fellow countrymen. With this effectual, though gentle, laxative at hand, it is possible to defy those changes of temperature productive of constipation, as well as constitutional attacks of biliousness, which beset even people naturally healthy. Malaria, dyspepsia, rheumatism and kidney troubles are remedied and prevented by the Bitters.

SOCIAL AFFAIRS.

A Very Pleasant Church Wedding: Many Minor Social Notes.

In the First Presbyterian church at 7:30 o'clock last evening, Miss Cornelia Earl Chapin and Mr. Robert Peck Dowse repeated the old, old promise "till death do us part."

It was one of the prettiest weddings Duluth has seen for a long time and was as elaborate a church marriage as, probably, has ever taken place in the city. A few minutes after the church was well filled with invited guests the organ pealed Lohengrin's March and the wedding party came in. First the groom and his best man, Mr. Thomas D. Peck of Pittsfield, Mass., came down the side aisle to the altar and there awaited the bride. Then the ushers, Messrs. W. B. Silvey, E. C. Jones, A. W. Hartman, W. M. Roberts, L. J. Hopkins and W. B. Dixon marched up the middle aisle followed by the father and mother of the bride, then two little bridesmaids, cousins of the bride, Misses Bessie Barber and Marjorie Greenwood, Bessie carrying roses and Marjorie the ring on a tiny salver. Then the maid of honor, the bride's young sister, Julia, followed by the bride and her bridesmaids, Miss Dowse and Miss Munger. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Ringland and with soft, sweet music twinkling all through was very impressive. The party left the church to the music which has accompanied the feet of so many brides, Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

The bride looked very fair and sweet, not only to the bridegroom but to the large audience gathered to witness the event. She was dressed in white tulle with duchesse lace and carried lilies of the valley. Her maid of honor was dressed in white silk with yellow roses, and the bridesmaids in white mousseline de soie, and they, too, carried yellow roses.

After the wedding there was a reception at the home of the bride on East Second street. The rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers and smilax. Hoarse orchestra furnished concert music for the whole evening, and after refreshments were served there was dancing. More than 100 guests were present, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Crawford from Marietta, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Barber, Mr. and Mrs. Simcoe Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Greenwood, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Crawford, Mrs. David Barber, Mrs. Boyers, Dr. and Mrs. McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ray, Maj. and Mrs. Upham, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Ruple, Rev. and Mrs. E. M. Noyes, Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Ringland, Mr. and Mrs. Munger, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Woodbridge, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Taussig, Mr. and Mrs. Norton, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dowse, Dr. and Mrs. Allen, Dr. and Mrs. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. McLaren, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Markell, Mr. and Mrs. William Prindle, Maj. and Mrs. Vance, Mr. and Mrs. Ware, Mr. and Mrs. Morrow, Mrs. C. Markell, Mrs. Nettleton of St. Paul, Mrs. Sellwood, Mrs. Hulbert, Misses Esign, Collins, Markell, Dowse, Munger, Jones, Silvey, Scott, Peyton, Booth, Matlocks, McLaren; Messrs. Dixon, Silvey, Jones, Hopkins, Hartman, O. C. Hartman, Roberts, Peyton, Wadhams, Crawford, Earl Crawford, Frank Barber, Mills, Abbot, Huntress, Cullyford, Robert Ray.

The bride and groom received many beautiful remembrances from friends at home and abroad, which were tastefully arranged in an upper room.

At 10 o'clock the young people started on an Eastern trip, after which, for the present, they will reside with Mr. Arthur B. Chapin at 119 East Second street.

A Pleasant Banquet.

The Masonic temple was the scene of an enjoyable affair last evening. The event was a complimentary reception and banquet in honor of T. W. Hugo, who has just returned from Washington where he succeeded in securing a charter for a consistory for the Scottish rite branch of the order. The affair was all the more enjoyable for the reason that it was a complete surprise to Mr. Hugo. About sixty members of the order were present.

Social Notes.

Sunday night at Edion Baptist church the children of the Sunday school will give an entertainment appropriate for Bible day. The pastor will give a short address and will be followed by a program consisting of music, recitations, etc., by the children.

The Mae Bee Social club held a meeting last evening and elected the following officers: Charles Starkoy, president; Arthur McGowrie, vice-president; Dr. Walker, treasurer; M. M. Whitton, secretary. The club will give a dance soon.

The Silver Star Social club has one of its regular pleasant dances at Ingalls hall this evening.

The Unity club will have a reception and dance at The Spalding this evening. It will be quite an elaborate affair and a very pleasant program, both of dances and of refreshments, is arranged.

At Edion Baptist church last evening Rev. Geo. H. Kemp and wife were tendered a very pleasant reception. The church was tastefully decorated with potted plants, and during the evening delicious refreshments were served. To the ladies much credit is due for the success of the occasion. Between 200 and 300 people were present.

To Honor Dr. Koch.

BERLIN, Nov. 6.—The discovery by Professor Koch of the Berlin university of a method for the cure of consumption by inoculation with attenuated tubercular bacillus is exciting the greatest interest among the medical profession and laymen. The National Zeitung, which has devoted considerable space to consideration of the subject, says today that it is probable that a motion will be introduced in the Prussian diet looking to the establishment of a bacteriological institute under the management of Professor Koch.

An Ineffectual Rule.

MARIETTA, Ind., Nov. 6.—The prohibition of cigar smoking by the faculty of Hanover college has proven ineffectual. The village storekeepers have faithfully held to their agreement not to sell the noxious weeds, but the students have managed to have them smuggled in in laundry work, packages of clothing, etc., and the vice is still as prevalent as before its prohibition.

Van Houten's cocoa—the original, most soluble.

Notes of Sports.

Yale and Princeton are steadily improving in their football playing.

The University of Pennsylvania is playing a very rough football game.

There is very little chance of Harvard meeting the Princeton eleven this year. Budd Doble says positively that Axtell will not be trained in 1891.

Bacon, Cornell's full-back, is the best punter that has visited Cambridge this year.

It is said that Palo Alto intends to try and regain the yearling honors taken from him by San Mateo.

George LaBlanche intends to challenge the winner of the Fitzsimmons and Dempsey fight.

Jimmy McHale, the Philadelphia fighter, who recently whipped Harry Gilmore, is in Boston looking for a match.

To Prevent the Mill.

PATERSON, N. J., Nov. 6.—The police are watching the sporting resorts today with the view of prohibiting the fight to a finish between Austin Gibbons of this city and Michael Cushing of Brooklyn for $1000 a side, booked to take place during the next twenty-four hours. The fight will be with skin gloves and Capt. Cook of Boston will be the referee. Both men are in prime condition, each man weighing a fraction over 132 pounds.

Bridal Tour Route.

The South Shore road is being called the "Bridal Tour Route." When Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dowse started for the East last night over the Zenith City Short line Agent Larke surprised the newly-wedded couple by having their state room decorated with smilax and chrysanthemums, a very pleasing complement.

THE STORM.

Of Local Extent, No Damage yet Reported From the Lake.

The heavy snow storm that has been sweeping over Duluth is only of local extent. The atmosphere which has been very dry for the past two or three days, and the sudden change of direction to the northwest brought with it the moisture which caused the snow.

A forty-mile gale blew this morning. By 2 o'clock it had eased up, but there is no prospect that the storm will stop tonight. On the contrary, so report the signal officers, a storm is coming up from Missouri, which should reach us either tonight or tomorrow morning. At that time the wind will come from the northwest, and will probably blow much harder than it has today.

From Montana a report has also been received that a heavy snow storm was coming towards Minnesota. This will reach here by tomorrow or next day which simply means a continuation of our present snow storm.

We may expect colder weather tomorrow so Uncle Sam's weather men say. At Winnipeg this morning the thermometer registered 4° above and low temperatures are reported from North Dakota and Montana points.

It is hard to say whether any casualties occurred on the lake or not. The Peck and Mitchell got in this morning and report gale and heavy seas. Several boats are due here, but they have probably taken refuge at the islands.

REFORM AND RETRENCHMENT.

The Police Force to be Cut Down Considerably.

The work of retrenchment has been commenced in the city government and the police force will be the first department considered. Arrangements have already been made to cut the force down by the suspension of four men. Noble Sampson, who had already been suspended, will not be reinstated, and J. W. Wayland, who was already on the rock, will be kept there. In addition J. O. Hall, the Park Point officer, and Night Jailer McGuire will be let out, and Detective Madden will probably be retained to the last.

The chief remarked today that two more men would probably be suspended when the new building is completed. He says that there are one or two officers who have been a trifle too fond of the bowl, and that he had become tired of running a hospital. This is a pointer for these men that their heads may fall when the next reduction is made. The matter will be referred to the council for its sanction at the next meeting.

The art exhibition at the Singer office 625 West Superior street is well worth a visit from the ladies. Open evenings.

ACCEPTING PLANS.

The Final Plans for the Methodist Church Now Being Considered.

George W. Kramer, a church architect of Akron, Ohio, arrived in the city this morning with plans which will be used for the new Methodist church. McMillen & Radcliffe are the local associate architects.

A meeting was held this morning at the study of Rev. Dr. Stocking, pastor of the First Methodist church, at which were present the architects and Messrs. Bradley and Harris, the building committee of the church society. The plans were looked over, but nothing definite will be decided regarding them for a week yet.

The basement plan, as The Herald has already said, has been accepted, and the architects say that there will be no difficulty in making the excavation this year.

HAFFEY DEAD.

A Clot of Blood on the Brain Causes His Death.

Maurice Haffey, the ex-chief of the fire department, who had been at St. Luke's hospital since last Sunday, died last evening shortly before 9 o'clock. It had been reported that he had been ill since the recent unfortunate affair that led to his removal from the department, but very few people believed that his condition was serious, and his death was a great surprise to all. For thirty-six hours before his death he had been unconscious, and his left side had become paralyzed.

Last evening about 6 o'clock he seemed to rouse a little and recognizing Daniel Nevy the electrician of the fire department, he reached out his hand. This was the last person that he recognized, as he almost immediately relapsed into unconsciousness and his death came three hours later and was apparently painless.

A post-mortem examination was held this morning at Durkan's morgue. It developed the fact that a clot of blood had formed on the left side of the brain, producing the paralysis and subsequent death. The other organs of the body were in a healthy condition.

The examination was attended by a large number of physicians, and it proved most interesting to them. Just what produced the fatal clot is hard to determine. It might have resulted from the blow he received on the head or from the striking of his head in the fall. It is understood that he sustained a fall at the engine house a day or two before his alteration with McNamara, and this might have produced the clot or it might have resulted from the severe mental strain under which he was undoubtedly laboring before and at the time of the unfortunate alteration.

A sister, the only near relative of the deceased living in now or her way to Duluth from Columbus, Ohio. She will take the remains back to Columbus for interment. An inquest will be held by Coroner McComb tomorrow.

Haffey was a man 37 years old, and whatever may be his fault—and he had many—he was recognized as an excellent man for the place in Duluth, which he filled up to last week. Haffey brought the Duluth fire department to the front rapidly, and today it is recognized as one of the best for a city of its size in the country. Perhaps it is the best, considering the topographical features of the place. He was born at Norfolk, Ind., in 1853, and when 15 began life in earnest as one of a corps of surveyors in Wyoming and Nevada, remaining in that part of the country about three years. He then returned to Columbus, Ohio, and worked in machine shops and in engine rooms both afloat and ashore until 1886 when he was engaged by the St. Paul city fire department. In 1887 he came to Duluth to take charge of the fire steamer and new alarm system. The next year he was made chief of the department and it is a tribute to his ability that he easily held his place through a change in local administration and after repeated assaults.

Talks on Beef.

C. W. Armour, manager of the Armour Dressed Beef company, Kansas City, was in the city yesterday. "We have never done a better business than at present," he said to a Herald reporter. "Choice live stock is plentiful, and the outlook for this winter is excellent. Meats are selling for lower prices than ever before, and Duluth is getting the benefit of this cheapness." It is probable that the Armour storage house will not be moved from its present location. The Union depot company is figuring on other plans for the completion of the viaduct to the Railroad street grade, and in consequence the Armour property will not be condemned.

STILL ON POLITICS.

The Election of Halvorsen is Now Conceded.

THE VOSS AND SINCLAIR VOTE.

Today's Returns Bear Out The Herald's Yesterday's Statements as to Merriam.

The full returns from the Fifth district give Halvorsen a majority for congress. He has, in comparison with the others, so far as heard from, and there are but few insignificant precincts to be added. A total vote as follows:

Halvorsen 19,982
Wilson 18,400
Comstock 17,297
This then appears to be the situation. Duluth will have as representative for the next four years, another Norwegian, and this time a democratic Norwegian from the town of North Fork, Stearns county. If Halvorsen has a majority of the intelligence of Knute Nelson, Duluth will get on well enough with him, though he wasn't the choice of the place. The vote that White man gets is an astonishing one, and is very flattering to him, while Mr. Comstock can feel sure that in part, at least, his own apathy and confidence has put him at the foot of the column.

The following are a lot of special telegrams received by The Herald this afternoon:

Herman—Very small vote for Comstock and White man in Grant and Traverse counties. Halvorsen easily leads.

Little Falls—White man's plurality over Comstock in Morrison county will be about 450. In the city White man 327, Comstock 207.

Northern Pacific Junction—Comstock, 106; White man 98; Halvorsen 45; Merriam 110; Wilson 93; Owen 93.

Perham—Thirty-seven precincts in Otter Tail county give Halvorsen 2207, Comstock 1152, White man 861.

Crookston—Halvorsen gets the big vote of Polk, Marshall and Kittson counties. White man leads Comstock about 200 in Polk, while they are even in the other two counties.

Long Prairie—Todd county with two townships gives Comstock 949, White man 733, Halvorsen 621.

Crookston—Fifty-two precincts of Polk county give White man 788, Comstock 636, Halvorsen 3220. There are still 18 precincts to be counted. These returns that are probably most nearly correct give Voss a total vote in the county of 3201, while Sinclair has 3190, a very small majority for the democrats. There are, however, other returns at the several headquarters that make the result slightly different. One of these gives Voss 3181, Sinclair 3200, a plurality for Sinclair of 19. Another gives Voss 3203, Sinclair 3207, a plurality for Sinclair of 4. This last is based on an idea of a change of the vote of Independence, which has been claimed as 31 solid for Voss, but which the Sinclair people claim to have assurances is 22 for Voss, 7 for Sinclair and 2 for Farrell, Farrell pasters having been by mistake put over Voss name. So that it will be seen that as stated above the official vote will be needed to decide. It seems hardly probable that Sinclair has been successful but some of those about republican headquarters are very confident that he will pull through all right.

The Situation.

The Herald does not republish its election tables today, there being no change of moment in the local result. As shown in our tables yesterday all the republican county officials are surely elected but Sinclair, and even he may pull through.

As stated in The Herald yesterday the indications are that Fred Voss is elected clerk of court. The plurality is, however, in doubt and only the official count will decide the matter finally. plete and a few estimated, from seventy-six out of the seventy-nine counties in this state give Merriam a plurality of 1230.

The corrections received today are mostly in favor of Wilson and an official count will probably be necessary to decide the result.

PRESS FIGURES.

Chicago Papers' Estimate for the Next Illinois Legislature.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—The Tribune (rep) figures give the standing of the next state legislature on joint ballot as follows: Republicans, 102; democrats, 90; farmers alliance, 3.

The Inter-Ocean (rep) makes it, republicans, 101; democrats, 102; farmers alliance, 2.

The Times (dem) adds the farmers alliance men to the democratic list, with the following result: Republicans, 100; democrats, 104.

The Herald (dem) has it: Republicans, 101; democrats, 102; farmers alliance, 1.

The full official returns will probably be necessary to determine the exact standing of the legislature.

Washington all Right.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 7.—Returns from all but three counties in the state of Washington give Wilson (rep), for congress, 18,000; Carroll, (dem), 13,021. Wilson's majority in the state will probably be between 7000 and 8000. In 1889 Wilson's majority was 5647. The legislature now stands: Senate, (rep), 31; (dem), 2; doubtful, 1. House, (rep), 61; (dem), 17.

California Probably Republican.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—Returns from 1354 precincts in California, including 203 precincts in this city give Markham (rep) for governor 95,203, Pond (dem) 90,559; Markham's plurality 4,644. These figures include the vote from little less than two-thirds of total number of precincts in the state.

It Makes no Difference now.

PORTLAND, Ill., Nov. 7.—Congressman Payson, republican, telegraphs the Associated Press: "Defeated by 500 to 700."

H. W. Snow, democratic, is therefore elected beyond a doubt, which is a gain of another congressman for the democrats, making the delegation stand eight republicans and ten democrats.

Kansas a Republican Governor.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 7.—Chairman Buchanan of the state committee states that all except 18 counties of Kansas give Humphrey, (rep), for governor 499 plurality and that the 18 counties will increase the plurality.

Tennessee Returns.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 7.—Semi-official returns from all counties in the First Tennessee congressional district give Taylor, (rep) incumbent 800 majority over Butler, also republican.

Official returns from some counties in the Second district and semi-official returns from the remainder show that Houk (rep) is returned to congress by almost 5000 majority. This is a loss to the republicans of 8000 votes, the district has heretofore given one of the largest republican majorities in the state. The democrats gained slightly in the legislature from east Tennessee.

Roger Q. is Willing.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—The Associated Press is in receipt of the following dispatch from Roger Q. Mills, in reply to the inquiry whether he would be a candidate for the speakership of the next house of representatives:

"CORPUSCANA, Texas, Nov. 7.—To your telegram of yesterday, I answer I shall be a candidate for the speakership of the house of representatives of the Fifty-second congress."

A New Supply.

MONTREAL, Nov. 7.—Owing to strikes in Pennsylvania coal fields and the failure of natural gas wells a great demand has arisen in Boston and New York markets for Cape Breton coal, despite the seventy-five cents per ton duty, and steamer after steamer is being chartered for the suddenly developed trade.

Cushing Crushed.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 7.—Gibbons of Paterson, N. J., knocked out Cushing of Brooklyn, in the nineteenth round on the border line of Rhode Island and Connecticut, this morning.

The President today appointed Harry H. Bengough to be pension agent at Pittsburgh, Pa., vice William H. Barclay, resigned.

A duel between Maurice Bernhardt, son of Sarah, and M. Bourty, the dramatic critic, who was challenged by the former in consequence of his comments upon Bernhardt's performances in "Cleopatra," was fought today at Paris, and Bourty was slightly wounded in the arm.

CANADA AND OUR TARIFF.

Shut off from Us She will Try the West Indies.

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 7.—The Dominion government has evidently decided to adopt a vigorous foreign trade policy, now that the McKinley bill will divert Canadian trade from the United States.

After a full discussion of the subject it has been decided by the government to take immediate steps to promote closer trade relations between Canada and the West Indies.

The Hon. George E. Foster, minister of finance, accompanied by his private secretary goes to the West Indies this week on a trade mission. He sails from New York Wednesday afternoon per steamship Caribbea. Barbadoes will first be visited. Mr. Foster will then proceed to Trinidad before visiting Demara, British Guiana. Coming north, Mr. Foster disembarks at Jamaica, where he will make a considerable stay. He will also visit the Bahamas and Bermuda.

His mission, it is expected, will result successfully, as the government have given him authority to discuss the question fully. He will return here about Christmas.

MANY RAIL DISASTERS

Train Robbers Deliberately Wreck a Passenger.

A SLEEPER CUT SQUARE IN TWO.

Kentucky Adds to the Record by a Very Severe Fire.

SEDALIA, Mo., Nov. 7.—Train No. 3, westbound on the Missouri Pacific, was wrecked by train robbers three miles east of Ottumville near the notorious robbers cut at 2:40 this morning. The train consisted of seven coaches, including mail, express and baggage. The robbers had removed spikes, bolts and fish plates for a distance of three rail lengths and placed crowsbars under the rails so that they would spread.

When the engine touched the loosened rails it jumped the track and broke loose from the tender and ran fifty feet on the ties and turned over. Fireman Lyon jumped and escaped injury. Engineer John Boyd stuck to his post and received a severe wound on the back of his head, and had his hand badly cut. The tender turned across the track throwing the mail car thirty feet to the side of the track. There were four postal clerks in the car and all were slightly injured. G. D. McCarty, one of them, received a severe injury to his right leg. The baggage and express cars were completely wrecked.

The smoker, which was filled with passengers, was turned upside down and the car was badly smashed. Strange to say, not one of the occupants was seriously injured. The two chair cars jumped the track but did not turn over. The Pullman was the only coach to remain on the track.

The engineer had stopped his train a short distance from the wreck to make a repair on the engine, and the train was moving only about eighteen miles an hour when it struck the loosened rails, to which fact no doubt is due the miraculous escape the passengers and train crew had.

SIX REPORTED BURNED.

But all are Found alive; A very Severe Morning Fire.

OWENSBORO, Ky., Nov. 7.—Owensboro was visited last night by the most destructive fire in her history, and when the debris is cleared away and order reigns, it is feared that the conflagration will be found to have been attended with loss of life. At 1 o'clock the fire had destroyed property to the amount of $250,000 and is still burning. It is believed that at least five persons met their death under falling walls, while others were seriously injured in jumping from burning buildings.

The fire originated in a pantry in the basement of the Budd House, a handsome modern hotel which was filled with guests. The fire had gained considerable headway before it was discovered and then it rapidly gutted the house.

The guests were awakened and ran out into the streets in their night clothing, while many crazed by fear, jumped from the windows of the hotel. Among those were two ladies and a child both of whom were badly injured. William H. Hahn, who was on a third story window fell on his back and is fatally injured. There are five guests of the Budd House that are missing, and they are believed to have been burned to death when sleeping. Charles Liebick, a traveling salesman from Philadelphia and Charles Bareford of New Albany, had a narrow escape and were badly burned.

A high wind was blowing at the time and after the hotel had been swept away the flames reached the Bank of Commerce building, next door, and that, with the buildings occupied by Marks & Dreman, grocers, and Quicksoil & Co., tailors, was soon in ashes.

The building on the corner, occupied by the Owensboro Messenger with its costly outfit, was the next to be attacked, and in a few minutes it was destroyed. The fire then spread around the corner and burned the buildings occupied by Marks's saloon; Smith, butcher; Williams, furnishing goods; John Reinhardt, furniture; A. J. Wadley's fine stone buildings, and D. A. Evans's livery stable.

Later the six missing people are found. There were several narrow escapes from the burning hotel. Charles Bareford of New Albany, and Charles Liebick of Philadelphia, were badly, and probably fatally, burned. The loss will probably reach $150,000.

SQUARE THROUGH A CAR.

A Crowded Sleeper Cut in Two by a Freight Engine.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Nov. 7.—A miraculous escape from death by the occupants of the Jacksonville, Florida, sleeping car on the Cincinnati Southern railway, happened at Junction City at 3:30 this morning. The Louisville & Nashville railway crossed the Southern at this point and when train No. 8 of the latter road reached the station on schedule time and stopped at the usual place the middle sleeper of the three was directly across the track of the Louisville and Nashville. On the latter road a heavy freight was coming from the west. It should have stopped 200 feet from the crossing until the track was clear, but for some reason the freight train did not stop. It is said the brakes wouldn't work, and that the grade was steep.

At any rate the train came rushing on and struck the sleeper in the center, the engine plowing through and breaking the car to pieces, throwing the occupants of the car on either side of the track. The engine left the track and crashed into the baggage room at the Louisville & Nashville depot. Fortunately the wrecked car did not take fire and no one was killed outright.

The injured are Herbert F. Touster, Belvidere, Ill., concussion of brain; Mrs. S. W. Wheeler, Milwaukee, knee cut; Jennie R. White, 3 years old, Milwaukee, injured about the head; T. J. Wheeler, Findlay, Ohio, scalp wound; Fred R. Shatten, boy, Findlay, Ohio, bruised; Davis B. Shatten, Findlay, Ohio, concussion of chest; W. T. Hardy, Jacksonville, injured about spine; R. N. Austin, assistant general passenger agent, Northern Pacific, St. Paul, badly injured internally. A sad feature of Mr. Austin's misfortune is that he had gone to Jacksonville, Fla., to take home the body of his mother who had recently died and her body was in the baggage car at the time of the accident.

Mr. Austin was in great pain during his journey to this city after the wreck and as he moaned he thought he was dying and said:

"I shall soon join my mother."

Conductor McLean of the sleeper was slightly injured as was also the engineer of the freight train.

Passengers cannot account for the escape of anybody in the car. The engine crashed through it with such force that the car was wrecked and the occupants thrown promiscuously among the debris.

A QUEER DEAL.

Oberlin College Said to be Speculating in Town Lots For an Endowment.

SPokane Falls, Wash., Nov. 7.—The largest real estate deal consummated here for some time past was recorded today. Col. I. N. Peyton, representing a Spokane syndicate, sold to the trustees of Oberlin college 1000 acres near this city for $100,000. The land lies along the north bank of the Spokane river, just beyond the road known as Sans Souci, and is about five miles from the center of the city.

The college trustees bought this ground for a twofold purpose—first, with a view of establishing a magnificent college and grounds, and, secondly, for speculation. It is their intention to lay out a town site, beautify the grounds and place a portion of it on the market. Work on the college, which is to be called the Congressional College of Spokane, will be commenced in the spring.

And all Because of Election.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Postmaster-General Wanamaker has directed the Washington postoffice to suspend Mrs. Margaret S. Watkins, a clerk at the general delivery window, for using offensive language towards Richard Quay, son of Senator Quay. The account of the affair has it that young Quay asked for his father's mail at the delivery window and some one standing near remarked: "He's dead. It goes to the dead letter office now," and Mrs. Watkins, who was on duty at the window, thoughtlessly repeated the remark. Mr. Quay, it is said, seemed to regard the matter as a joke at the time. Wanamaker ordered the suspension of the clerk until an investigation could be made. Superintendent Bell of the city delivery, made the remark which Mrs. Watkins repeated.

A Special Train for a Cruiser's Crew.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—A week from Monday a special train carrying about 150 officers and men needed to complete the crew of the new cruiser San Francisco will leave New York, and the next Saturday night, all going well, they will take their posts on board, the vessel going into commission the next day. This will be the first time that the navy has been able to transport its men in this way, and the experiment will be watched with interest. The army is authorized to go over all land grant roads free of expense to the department, the items of expense being credited against the debts of the roads to the United States; but the controllers of the treasury have decided that the word "troops," which occurs in the law, precludes the navy from this privilege.

Law Will Take Its Course.

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 7.—The cabinet was unanimous in its opinion as to the guilt of Birchall, and consequently decided that the law should take its course. The governor-general will sign the order in council.

The Faster.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Succi, the faster, is losing weight rapidly. He is beginning to look pale and haggard. Although he has fasted for only forty-eight hours he has already dropped ten pounds in weight. His pulse this forenoon is normal.

Good For the Central.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 7.—The wages of the freight engineers and firemen in the employ of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railroad company have been increased 20 cents a day. The engineers are advanced from $3.50 to $3.70, and the firemen from $1.65 to $1.85.

Britain's Balance.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—The Board of Trade returns for October show that the imports decreased £400,000 and the exports increased £300,000 during the month as compared with those for the corresponding month last year.

A Buried Mutual Company.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—The Mutual Fire Insurance company of Chicago made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, Oct. 25 last, but failure was not announced until this morning, when a schedule of the assets and liabilities was filed. The liabilities are $57,004 and the assets $187,600.

SENATOR DAVIS HERE.

The Senior U. S. Senator is in Duluth Today.

BUT HE WILL TALK NO POLITICS.

Marcus Johnson on Halvorsen and Merriam; The State Legislature and Davis' Chances.

Senator Davis is in the city. Senator Davis does not come here as Senator Davis, but as C. K. Davis, the lawyer, so he says. A Herald reporter called on the senator at his parlor in The Spalding. An invitation to be seated being accepted the newspaper man asked:

"Senator, to what do you attribute the cause of democratic success?"

"My boy, began Mr. Davis, 'I am here as a lawyer, in attendance at a land suit. I am out of politics while I am here, and have nothing to say. I have had about all the politics I wanted for the past month.' But Senator Davis would talk about Duluth. He said we would have 300,000 people here by 1900 and would like to prove that Duluth would become the greatest manufacturing center of the Northwest.

He is here as counsel on an important land suit that will come before Judge Ensign tomorrow.

Marcus Johnson, internal revenue collector for Minnesota is also a visitor in Duluth. He came up from Atwater this morning and made The Spalding his headquarters. "I don't want to talk about politics," remarked Mr. Johnson in response to an inquiry from a Herald man. "The election is over and the democrats have won. How about the Fifth? Halvorsen is elected. I was certain of that yesterday. He is a good Whigman on the returns received up to date, and the districts not heard from will give him 60 per cent of the vote, the 40 remaining will go evenly to White-man and Comstock. It's a very close vote between Merriam and Wilson."

HOW ABOUT DAVIS?

What Chance Will Senator C. K. Davis Stand Here?

St. Paul, Nov. 7.—The next legislature of Minnesota will be democratic—that is counting the democrats and alliance together. The question of a success or to Senator C. K. Davis comes before the next house, and he will stand no show unless the alliance, in his case, as is believed here to be quite possible in view of his splendid record in the interest of the farmers, sides with the republicans for him. No other republican will stand the ghost of a show of election to the place.

The senate and house will probably be as follows:

	Rep.	Dem.
Senate	16	11
House	40	18

There are two representative districts from which no returns have been received. The total membership of the senate under the new apportionment is 54, and the house 114; total, 168.

HEALTH IN OCTOBER.

The Local Mortuary Report for the Past Month.

The mortuary report for the month of October has just been completed. There were 24 deaths resulting from the following causes: Pneumonia, 2; accidental, 3; typhoid fever, 5; unknown, 2; meningitis, gastro-enteritis, phthisis, chronic nephritis, bronchitis, Bright's disease, inanition, diphtheritic croup, enteritis, hemorrhage, infantile debility and paralysis 1 each. There were 9 under 1 year of age, 1 between 1 and 5 years, 1 between 5 and 10, 6 between 10 and 20, 3 between 20 and 40, 1 between 40 and 60 and 1 between 60 and 80. There were also 3 stillborn which were not figured in the death rate. Twelve were born in Duluth, 1 in Minnesota, 3 in other states and 11 in foreign countries. Eleven were males, 10 females, 21 were single and 6 married. The annual death rate for the month is 7.02.

Three cases of scarlet fever were reported during the month none of which resulted fatally. There were 20 cases of typhoid fever, 5 resulting in death. There were 68 births, 31 males and 27 females. There were 3 pairs of twins. For the corresponding month last year there were 2 deaths and 56 births.

WHAT WILL MORMONS DO?

Did President Woodruff's Advice Apply to Previous "Plurals?"

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 7.—The recent "advice" of President Woodruff of the Mormon church regarding plural marriages did not contain any reference to those already contracted, and much speculation has been indulged in concerning the action that would be taken regarding the plurals in the harems already established.

The press correspondent has made several visits to President Woodruff's house, but he cannot be seen. At least a dozen representatives of Eastern newspapers have been turned away, and have either kept silent or manufactured interviews.

The disposition of the plural wives will probably be made by the courts, who will send the male to the penitentiary, while the female will have to "rustle."

Bishop Jorgenson, who had seven wives, received a two years' sentence a few days ago. Elder Reynolds, the guide who pilots visitors through the temples, is under bonds for living with more than one woman. To say that the plural wives must be put away would be to embarrass George Q. Cannon, who is said to have two or three "extras" who are living in California "for their health." Hence the matter will doubtless remain in statu quo.

COTTRILL KILLED.

An Alabama Terror Stopped in His Lawless Career.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 7.—Ex-Mayor Cottrill of Key West who a few weeks ago terrorized the Florida Federal officials, was shot and instantly killed yesterday by Chief of Police Gerald of this city. Cottrill was drunk last night and was arrested by the police. He insulted the chief and challenged him to fight a duel. A coroner's jury of inquest was impelled to investigate the killing and gave a verdict in accordance with the facts.

Cottrill was one of the most widely known men in the country. He created a sensation about twelve months ago at Cedar Key, Fla., by terrorizing Federal custom house officials and the citizens of that place. He fled to London county in this state, where he had many relatives and friends. He is one of the best families in Alabama and when sober was regarded as an excellent citizen, but under the influence of drink was reckless and desperate.

Capt. A. Gerald his slayer is one of the best known men in this city, where he has spent all of his life. He has been chief of police of Montgomery for the past ten or twelve years.

A Disease Unaccountably Prevalent.

The prevalence of ailments attributable to miasmatic poison in the air that people breathe, and the water they drink, is well known unaccountable. Not alone in pestilential swamps, badly drained suburban districts, and marshes exposed to the sun's rays by the receding tide, is this scourge of humanity found. Even in great cities, healthfully located, skillfully severed, well looked after in every respect, a sanitary way, we find malarial. Its presence is often inexplicable, but its attacks are often preventable. The protector is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The eradicator bears the same name—a name known to thousands throughout our broad land and elsewhere, as a synonym of relief, prevention and cure of the insidious disorders in its abominable phases—chills and fever, bilious remittent, dumb ague and acute colic, as well as others. Nor is the Bitters less effective for indigestion, kidney complaint, biliousness and rheumatism.

A SEVERE EXPERIMENT.

And it Was Tried on a Leading French Official.

GRADUAL POISONING BY ARSENIC.

A Terrible Explosion in China; A Chicagoan Killed by a Grip Car.

PARIS, Nov. 7.—La Gauloise prints the following tragic story this evening:

M. Weiss, administrator of the commune of Ain-Fazza in Algeria has lately been troubled by an incurable illness. It now appears that his wife has been experimenting on him with doses of arsenic to be given in such quantities as should gradually undermine his health and eventually kill him without awakening suspicions.

The crime was discovered and its realization prevented by the Viscount de Guerry, the assistant of the administrator of the commune. The peculiar character of the malady of M. Weiss and the powerlessness of the doctors to combat it, aroused suspicions in the mind of M. de Guerry. One evening he was in the diningroom of M. Weiss talking to his chief. Madame Weiss was writing at a table near the window, and the viscount, haunted by the strange suspicions, ventured to look over the lady's shoulder at her letter, and his eye caught the following sentence: "I have no more poison, send me a supply with some playthings for the children."

M. de Guerry, horrified as he was at having surprised the terrible secret, gave proof nevertheless, of great presence of mind, for he continued the conversation that was in progress, at the same time racking his brain to invent a scheme by which he could obtain possession of the tell-tale letter. At this moment Madame Weiss was called out of the room. She rapidly put the letter into a white envelope, sealed it and went out. M. de Guerry instantly unlocked the envelope and substituted a blank sheet in its place. He had hardly resealed the envelope and placed it on the writing table when Madame Weiss reentered the room, and suspecting nothing, proceeded to address it. M. de Guerry also succeeded in reading the name of the person to whom it was addressed. He immediately returned home and telegraphed to the Prefect of Oran, who at once transmitted orders to the procurator of the republic at Tlemcen to arrest the criminal.

Next evening M. de Guerry proceeded with the police to the house of M. Weiss. The lady vigorously denied the accusation, but when told she must accompany the officers of the law she retired into an adjoining apartment, under pretext of attending her letter. Once there, however, she swallowed a strong dose of prussic acid, and came back with her features contorted with agony. Advancing toward the horrified procurator she cried: "Now arrest me." She then throwing herself at her husband's feet she implored him pardon in the most moving terms. He was, however, obdurate and repulsed her, while repeatedly exclaiming, "Miserable, miserable!"

FIRE IN A PARIS CAFE.

Electricity Goes on a Tear There Just in This Town.

PARIS, Nov. 7.—There was a terrible panic among the patrons of the Grand cafe, Rue Scribe, near the Boulevard des Capucines Saturday evening at an hour when it was crowded with customers. Suddenly the place was filled with smoke, flames were seen ascending from the ceiling, and all the electric lights went out.

There was instantly a stampede for the doors, tables were overturned, and everything breakable destroyed. Many persons received slight injuries before reaching the street, but no one seems to have been seriously hurt. On examination of the electric apparatus in the cellar it was found that on one of the machines the India rubber coating had become heated, and had set fire to the woodwork.

As it was found to be impossible to cut off the supply of electricity on the premises a messenger was sent in haste to the works, while Sergeant De Ville, who happened to be standing before the cafe at the time ran to turn on the fire alarm. Unfortunately it was out of order, and the next nearest was that at the Ministère de la Marine in the place de la Concorde, quite a quarter of a mile away. Meanwhile the flames were constantly increasing in volume and intensity, owing to the continuance of the electric current. They rushed upward, creating a seething heat and placing the building in which the cafe was located and the adjoining Jockey club in peril of being entirely consumed. As it was, the heavy plate glass windows of the cafe were shattered and other damage done to the extent of 30,000 francs.

The fire department did not reach the scene until over half an hour after the panic.

Killed by a Grip.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Roland Matthews, 9 years old, was sent on an errand to a drug store last night and on his way caught on to the hind rail of a south-bound cable train. As the conductor appeared, the boy, thinking he would be caught, let go his hold and started to cross over to the other and he was caught by the grip car of a north-bound train. The boy was picked up and carried into a drug store near by, but died before a physician could reach him. His younger brother was sent by his mother to search for him. The younger brother was attracted by the crowd, and entering the drug store identified the boy that had just died.

Treachorous Rails.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 7.—The through vestibule train from Chicago to Cincinnati on the Big Four road jumped the track twenty miles south of this city yesterday while running thirty miles an hour. The passenger coaches and the baggage car went into the ditch and the middle coach was badly smashed. Eighty passengers were aboard, but no one was seriously injured, though many were bruised and scratched. The wreck was caused by the rails spreading.

Burned by Hot Clothing.

HIGGINSVILLE, Mo., Nov. 7.—Mary Bryan, aged 14, met with a horrible death at the home of her mother Wednesday. She was working by the stove, when her dress caught fire. Not knowing this she went out in the yard. The wind was blowing sharply and in a few minutes she was wrapped in flames. Her cries for help attracted the attention of the family, but none arrived in time to save the life of the unfortunate child. Her body was in a pitiful condition, and she died shortly afterward.

A "Pig Tail" Calamity.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 7.—A terrible accident has occurred at Tai-Ping-Fu, at which place are the government mills for the manufacture of powder. While the workmen were employed about the mills an explosion occurred which entirely demolished the buildings. The loss of life was enormous, 300 persons being killed. The cause of the explosion is not known.

PARTY INTRIGUE.

A Movement on Foot to Undermine Speaker Reed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—It is already whispered that an effort may be made at the opening of the fifty-second congress to unseat Speaker Reed. The attitude of the speaker at the last session of congress antagonized not only the democratic side of the house but many influential members on the republican side, and although the latter would doubtless stand by him in an emergency it would nevertheless, be in a lukewarm sort of way.

When the speaker was re-elected last month there was a good deal of talk concerning the illegal use of monies and undue influence on the part of Federal employes and it is now said that even thus early word has been sent down to Reed's district that the collection of data upon which a contest might be based should commence at once. The speaker's friends here, however, simply laugh at these reports and say that even were it likely, which they doubt, that the new house which assembles a year hence would attempt to disturb his seat, his majority is too large to make such a move successful.

A 15-Round Go.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The great fifteen-round "go" between George Godfrey of Boston and Ed Smith of Denver, which is to take place at the Puritan Athletic club of Long Island city, is causing no end of excitement among the sports of this city and Boston. The match is advertised to take place on Nov. 11. Both men are putting the finishing touches to their training, and a great battle is looked for, providing that the police will not interfere.

A Rhode Island Fight.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 7.—Austin Gibbons last night defeated Mike Cushing in the fourteenth round. The fight was for $1000 a side.

Notes of Sport.

Julian Hart, of Boston, is making a strong fight against consolidation.

The Players league people hold their annual meet at Pittsburgh next Tuesday. O'Brien, Purcell, Shafer, Kappell and McMahon won their suits against the Athletics. The club put in no defense. Captain Manning and Hoover have joined Elmer Smith on the K. C. roll for 1891.

Pitcher Parrott, of the Portland, Ore. club, is credited with having made the shortest base hit on record. He batted the ball directly downward, and it remained stationary on the home plate. Before either the pitcher or catcher could field the ball he was safely on first. The great chess experts, W. Steinitz, of New York, and J. Gunsberg, of London, will meet in New York on Dec. 1 to play a match. All the conditions have been agreed to and arrangements completed.

Buying Railroad Tickets.

There are a good many people who do not know how to buy a railroad ticket for a journey of over 100 miles. Think not? Well, it's true. We knew an editor, an intelligent man, who was going from an interior Illinois town to Manchester, Vt. He bought to Chicago—could do better there, you know—let an agent sell him to Manchester. He got into Montreal Saturday night, couldn't get away till Monday morning, then had no ticket to his destination, and paid fare Montreal to his Vermont town. He simply didn't know how to buy a ticket. Your local railroad agent may not look like a very smart man; he may not have a frock in his church; he may not rank high in the town's social circles; but he knows more about railroad rates and connections than you do. If you are contemplating a trip, just call at his office, tell him where you want to go and that you want your tickets to read over "The Burlington," then take his advice about all the rest. That is the way to buy a ticket. For any particulars about "The Burlington," which your agent cannot give, write to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, C. B. & N. R. R. St. Paul, Minn.

The Home Truth of a Foreign Proverb.

The Spaniards have a proverb—demiado es peligroso—"too much is dangerous." If "brevity is the soul of wit," this means a great deal. Excess and other imprudences in eating and drinking are productive of one tremendous evil—the progenitor of many others—and these are among the follies to which this pithy saying has direct application. The evil to which we allude is indigestion—the relief and cure of which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has contributed more than any medicine which science has given to the American people. This invigorating stomachic and corrective is the means not only of reforming a disordered or enfeebled condition of the digestive organs, but of receiving healthy action of the bowels and the liver. Besides this, it counteracts a tendency to rheumatism and kidney complaint, expatiates and prevents the malarious disease, is a potent restorative of strength which is failing, hastens convalescence and mitigates the infirmities of age.

KITTLE IT IS.

Official and unofficial returns from this district now assure the election of the alliance candidate, Kittle Halvorsen to congress by a plurality of about 1000 over the next in the field, Senator Whiteman, who has a lead of more than 600 votes over the republican candidate. In the western districts Halvorsen has run like a scared wolf and carried a phenomenal vote which has upset the adverse balance in the east and the north. It was a free for all race and Halvorsen is fairly the winner no doubt, and The Herald bails him as such, regretting as it does the political cyclone which has blown him in. He was put up avowedly as a class representative, and the farmers have sent a farmer to congress to make the laws for the nation at large. That is the planting of this election and time will show what the harvest will be. If it is only a few lean ears it is the farmers, not The Herald, that will be disappointed, for we are free to remark that we expect no better. The representative elect in this district has no trait of distinction. There is nothing against him to speak of and nothing for him. He is simply an ordinary farmer, with an ordinary farmer's training, no more, who has been picked up by a wild wind and blown to the front to his own astonishment, no doubt, as much as to that of the district at large. Cincinnati went back to the plow, and so will he, but that is the only point of resemblance that we can see, though others will be discovered no doubt by the triumphant alliance.

Insignificant in person though he be, he has served to knock out both the old party candidates as well as any other club that was ready at hand. This much goes to his credit, but the question for the district is what this credit is worth. In any point of comparison he suffers by contrast with our congressman, Comstock, and with the present overwhelming democratic majority, will count for no more than a wet hen in congress. That he can or will do one thing for Duluth or the district at large what Comstock has done, or what a straight democrat like Whiteman might now do, is out of all reason as the situation now appears and as the event will show. As a republican defeat we regret his election; as man for man we regret his election; as a district concern we regret his election. There is no need to say more. He is elected and may be assured that The Herald will treat him fairly, give him due credit for all he does and hope for the best.

To Mr. Comstock in defeat we would give our heartiest acknowledgment for his faithful and successful service to this city and the district at large. For his labors in congress and his sterling worth, he has deserved the honor of all his constituents, and will surely have it despite the freak of this unfriendly slip of fortune. The democratic candidate from Duluth has also earned a cordial good word. He took the field against apparently hopeless odds, and by extraordinary energy, hard work, and skillful conduct of his campaign has taken every advantage of the tide of the day to reach and outstrip the leader in the race, and as the event shows has actually crossed the line some lengths ahead. From first to last he made a straightforward, manly fight of it on the main popular issue of tariff legislation, without any resort to mask, trick or abuse, and from his standpoint of conviction has no word to be ashamed of. He is number two in the race, at the close, and not number one, but he loses with all the credit that attaches to his phenomenal run and amply justifies his party's selection. He made his run to beat Comstock and did it, though the unconsidered outsider has beaten him, and takes the bun. It is tough luck but he loses with a good heart.

SHALL WOMEN GO IN.

In Duluth during the present month the Methodists in their various churches will vote upon the question whether women should be admitted as lay delegates to the general conference of the Methodist church.

At the last general conference which met in New York in 1888, five women, with credentials, asked for seats in the conference, and after due consideration the bishop denied the request. The refusal to recognize the right of the women to seats created a good deal of feeling and the conference was divided on the subject. The question was disposed of by the adoption of a resolution, directing that during October and November 1890, a vote should be taken on the question in all the Methodist churches. It is feared that owing to an indifference toward the subject the votetaken will not fairly indicate the sense of the church. Through the Eastern states where the vote has been taken it is very light. As it would be in rather bad taste for pastors to attempt to influence their members in voting, there are no means of stirring up the people on the subject. There is little doubt that if the subject were agitated thoroughly the vote would be largely in favor of admitting women.

A prominent officer of the Duluth Woman's Christian Temperance union sends the following note to The Herald:

The Herald was the only city paper that gave a telegraphed report of the laying of the corner stone of the Temperance Temple in Chicago last Saturday. Who shall say that the program of last Saturday as carried out by the women of Chicago is not as important news as the report of the burning of a saloon in some far-off town or a scandal from some small village?

The Herald's congratulatory and per-spicious correspondent has struck a keynote. The newspaper of today, especially the evening newspaper which is designed for reading at the fireside and in the home by the women and the children as well as by the business man of the family, is devoting less of its space to scandals in Sardanapalus, or blazes in the country of Belshazzar, in other words to news of crime and casualty and the dark side of life in the far country, but is growing clearer and purer, higher and better.

There has been a vast amount of complaint of late, by writers who fill the monthlies and the religious press, of the degenerating influence of the daily press, of its false position, and its pandering to all that is bad. While this may be true and doubtless is so in many cases, it is only the case where it has been found that the people as a mass want that sort of thing, and they're simply getting what they want and will have. The Herald is optimistic, it believes that the daily paper is growing better, slowly, it is true, but surely, and as fast or even faster than the general public sentiment will follow.

By the narrow margin of a couple of hundred votes, in a district shamefully gerrymandered to give 3000 adverse majority to overcome William McKinley has been defeated. In the teeth of the storm of calumny which has struck the late tariff legislation and its enactors, such a showing is a remarkable tribute to one of the ablest and truest men who ever represented Ohio in congress. For all the passionate outcry against the bill for which he was sponsor as chairman of the committee on ways and means, he had the respect and personal good will of every member on the floor of the house, and those who opposed him most hotly would be of the first to honor his character and confess his true manliness. In his defeat Ohio has lost her most distinguished representative by far, and the nation, the public service of one of its noblest men. McKinley "a dead failure," says The News. Wait a bit. William McKinley is defeated, but not snuffed out. Warwick has no cinch on the political whirligig, and the nation has not heard the last of William McKinley.

SEEN AND HEARD.

"I hope the day is not far distant when Minnesota shall have a law similar to that of New York relative to the census," remarked a commercial man from the East. "In New York all sleeping rooms in hotels more than two stories high must be furnished with rope escapes, and the efficiency of that law has been proved time and again. The state factory inspector has the matter in charge and sees that the law is enforced. The best rope used is asbestos, a mineral fibre, which is inflammable, and still very light. In the West I always carry one of these ropes, and am prepared to make my escape if it ever becomes necessary."

"Prices of false teeth have gone up recently," said a prominent dentist, "but the rise was caused solely by the scarcity of platinum, of which metal the little pins are made with which to fasten each tooth to the plate. All the platinum of commerce comes from Russian mines in the Ural mountains, and the supply is hardly sufficient for the demand at present. The consumption of platinum has greatly increased since the electric companies began its use. The tiny, battlelike loop in each incandescent light is made of platinum. The price has gone up to about $20 an ounce, which is considerably higher than gold."

The members of the republican state committee yesterday suddenly bethought themselves that there was a county by the name of Cook in this state, and that the returns from that county might help out the Merriam column. Accordingly they telegraphed to J. B. Sutphin for the result. Mr. Sutphin promptly replied. "Returns coming in by boat and a big storm on the lake."

There is no reason why the man with small capital should not increase it. We have some lots in West Duluth that will show handsome profit.

THEIR INNERMOST THOUGHTS.

A flour miller: I understand that the matter of another big flour mill in Duluth will be settled in a month or so.

Rev. E. M. Noyes: So The Herald is going to have a building? Well, you must be a modest crowd or we should have had a half crown a day on the building since work was begun.

City Librarian Neff: The circulation of books Saturdays has been considerably over 125, while we haven't had a day until yesterday when the storm interfered, when fifty books were not issued.

ODDS AND ENDS.

A curious art imposition has been discovered in Paris. An ingenious person stole bronze and marble busts from the cemetery of Montparnasse, Paris, touched them up, and sold them as effigies of famous heroes, statesmen and orators.

Quebec custom officers were outflanked by a shrewd maneuver of some smugglers the other night. The officers received a hint that two carts with four cases of whisky were to be found on the Beauport road at midnight, and they spent several hours on the watch. They captured the cart and the contents, and while taking them into Quebec the smugglers landed 148 casks on the island of Orleans.

It is said by a New York writer that $1000 a week is a modest estimate for the cost of four or five dinners weekly for any one who is in the social swim.

In Moscow may be seen in the streets any day a beggar who was, a few years ago, one of the richest men in the city. His father left him $7,500,000, but he gambled it all away. He cared literally for nothing but gambling, and if he had the money again he would lose it once more in the same way.

An astounding piece of vandalism is reported to be in progress in Egypt, with the connivance of the native officials. Three gangs of workmen, under two local sheiks, are daily extracting blocks from the lower courses of the two largest pyramids of Gizeh. These are broken up on the spot and carried away on camel back for building purposes.

THE GOVERNMENT AGENTS

The Timber Stealing Experts
Return From the North.

IT WAS VERY MUCH EXAGGERATED,

Which Was the Idea All Along Given by The Herald and Duluth Lumbermen.

Special Land Agent Robertson and his party of eleven returned to Duluth yesterday afternoon, after a tramp of 500 miles through north Minnesota, in search of timber thieves.

During their explorations they penetrated the Rainy lake and Rat Portage regions, having been gone sixty-six days.

"We had a very successful mission," said Agent Robertson to a Herald reporter. "We started from Duluth about Sept. 1st, and entered the wilderness from the head of Lake Vermilion. From there we made our way to the Little Fork, then went into the Rainy river country.

At Rainy river our party divided. Six went up the Big Fork and the rest explored the Rainy and Kabetogama lakes country. One party reached Duluth via Grand Rapids, the other came from Rat Portage. I estimate the length of our journey at 500 miles.

"We found that extensive timber depredations were going on, but not nearly so extensively as the sensational stories in The Pioneer Press would lead one to believe. The tale that 150,000,000 feet had been stolen is greatly exaggerated. On the Rainy river were evidences of large thefts. In this district the stealing was done by Canadians and renegade Americans parties who are entirely irresponsible. In the tributary streams we found that responsible parties had been operating under cover of alleged title. These people may be brought to time.

"The extent of these depredations I have not yet estimated. They will not prove as large as people have supposed, although the value of the timber destroyed will amount to quite a sum.

"All our party were well during the trip. We found the journey easy, the country was picturesque and delightful. At Rat Portage there is great excitement over gold discoveries. Claims are being rapidly taken up, and land values are increasing. One of the mining companies is putting in a large stamp mill, for the reduction of ore."

A Storm in Britain.
LONDON, Nov. 7.—A heavy storm prevails throughout Great Britain and Ireland and much damage is being done. The rain is falling incessantly, and in many sections the country is flooded. The downpour is accompanied by a high wind, and reports have been received of many houses having been unroofed by the gale.

SORE TROUBLES.

A St. Croix Avenue Colored Woman Shot by a Rival: Corsets Save Her.

What came near proving a murder occurred this morning shortly after 10 o'clock in a house presided over by Julia Johnson (colored) on St. Croix avenue. It seemed that the report came up from St. Paul that Hattie Lee, an inmate of the Johnson house, and Mittle Sibley, an inmate of Blanche Wilson's house at No. 211 St. Croix avenue, were opponents for the affections of Hunter Briscoe, a colored waiter, and the feelings between the two women were none too friendly.

This morning the women met, after Hattie Lee had been urged by two other women in the house to pick a quarrel with the Sibley woman. An altercation ensued, which, according to the testimony of the inmates of the house, was started by the Lee woman. Directly the report of a revolver was heard and when the Johnson woman rushed down stairs she found Mittle Sibley with a thirty-two-caliber revolver in her hand. Only one shot had been fired. This had struck Lee on the left side just below the heart and but for the steels in her corset would undoubtedly have proved fatal.

After the row the visitors disappeared and when the matter was reported to the police, they could not be found, but they will undoubtedly be apprehended in a short time.

The Vaudeville.
Marks & Shaffner's International Vaudeville arrived in the city this morning, and will open an engagement at the Temple this evening. The company is made up of specialty artists from all the capitals of Europe, and the United States furnishes one or two stars. The entertainment given by the Vaudeville is very pleasing, and the company has met with nothing but enthusiastic receptions at the cities visited.

THE WEST.

West Duluth and West End Have a Good Grist of News for the Day.

Thompson & Jeffrey have nearly completed their grading contract on Cliff avenue. Paddy McDonald has secured the contract for grading for the Duluth Transfer Railway company and commenced today with twenty-five teams near the Car works.

Nearly all street work was stopped by the storm yesterday and contractors were looking pretty blue. Thomas Govett who has been the engineer at the Incline station on Bay View Heights, has resigned his position and accepted one with the Iron Car company. He moves his family into the Fifth division. Mr. Jacobs takes the place at the Incline station and has moved his family there.

S. Miller Flatterer had a finger nearly cut off by a trowel, and Christ Sundin had his smashed in a wheel at the Car works.

Station Agent Reeves has rented one of the Everett houses on Second avenue west and moved in today.

The Lutheran have their church building on Second street south up and boarded in.

C. H. Phelps, the Central avenue jeweler, who was summoned to Bismarck on account of sickness in his family, will return this evening.

James O'Neil has a contract on a store building at New Duluth owned by Hubbard & Peterson.

Thomas Mellette is still quite sick in St. Mary's hospital. He has had a hard run of typhoid pneumonia and looks very sick, but is now gaining. Says he would be glad to have friends call on him, and that he has had the best of care and attendance.

WEST END.

There are forty-six patients at present in St. Mary's hospital, of which six are fever cases, but all are convalescent. The number of fever cases since July 1 has been seventy-two, of which only two have died, which speaks well for the medical attendance and for careful nursing.

Andrew Lind received news from Wisconsin yesterday of the sickness of several of his friends with diphtheria, which is prevailing in Dunn county.

H. S. Clarke leaves tonight for Minneapolis and other Southern towns for a week's business and visiting trip.

Charles Carlson of West Park was very seriously injured while at work on Grand avenue near Onota. His injury consisted of a bad contusion of the head.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Halling, a girl. The West End Social club will give its next social hop at Normanna hall next Tuesday evening.

The electric light company is giving very poor service at the West End, owing probably to the fact that power is given to the electric car system at the east end of town.

The Vincent block is nearly completed and will be one of the finest buildings at the West End.

The Sale of the Angelus.

New York, Nov. 7.—The members of the American Art association are still unable to tell the name of the purchaser of Millet's Angelus, which was sold a few days ago in Paris. The Angelus is now in Boston. It will be exhibited, however, in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, in all probability, before it is taken to Paris.

The Way Made Clear.

One of the most serious obstacles to success in the way of man is planted right in the middle of the road to health. How to restore and to maintain a regular habit of body and digestion is too often a source of needless, and, unhappily, of vain inquiry. It is not necessary to invade against drastic purgatives. They who have used them continuously know the consequence. A remedy which unites the action of a regulating machine for the bowels with that of a tonic both for those organs, the liver and the stomach, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, sanctioned by the best medical authority, and receiving daily the endorsement of our fellow countrymen. With this effectual, though gentle, laxative at hand, it is possible to defy those changes of temperature productive of constipation, as well as constitutional attacks of biliousness, which beset even people naturally healthy. Malaria, dyspepsia, rheumatism and kidney troubles are remedied and prevented by the Bitters.

THE "MAN OF COMMERCE"

Dr. McKay Booming His Queer and Strange Analogy.

DEVELOPMENT OF THE EARTH MAN.

How His Position Redounds to the Geographical Advantage of Duluth.

Dr. A. F. McKay, is probably one of the most unique geniuses ever an inhabitant of this part of the planet. His map, giving an analogy between the "Earth Man" and the "Man of Commerce," has been referred to briefly in the past year or two in papers at the head of the lake, but now, in view of its approaching general issue appears to deserve more comment.

It may be said as a starter that the map has cost the doctor something like $2500 in cash and time, and that it is a highly colored concern about 2 feet by 3½. The keynote sought to be elucidated by the map is the likeness of the North American continent to a human being, whose limbs, organs, arteries and veins are laid out upon the various commercial channels of the continent. The image of a man is laid out flat across the continent. One hand rests upon Alaska, and the projected Alaskan-Siberian road represents the veins and arteries of the arm. The other hand and arm reach out for Japan, and in similar manner the Pacific steamship lines represent the veins. One foot rests upon the British isles, while the other lingers upon the coast of Spain. The digestive and circulatory structure of the man, however, is calculated to arouse the wonder and admiration of the looker-on. The heart is represented by the head of Lake Superior. The chain of lakes represents the digestive apparatus—Lake Superior the stomach, Lake Michigan the liver—Chicago being in the center of the gall bladder—and so on to the waterways upon the Atlantic coast. The Twin cities are the centers of the pulmonary circulation of the right lung.

"I've worked a long time on this thing," said the doctor, "and the longer I've worked the more fully it has appeared to me that this analogy was perfect, and the more points I've thought of and brought out. It is a queer thing, one might say a wonderful thing. Detailed study of the subject confirmed my first impressions that possibly a discovery had been made of a principle underlying railroad development which might be of value as pointing to correct lines of development of the great arteries of commerce."

"I claim that every vital organ has its analogue or corresponding organ well defined as a geographical region in North America, and that region corresponding in a most remarkable manner in its functions or manifestation of life, as well as in the diseases to which it is subject. The circulation of the blood of man is beautifully illustrated by the moving currents in the arteries of commerce, represented by the railroads, and in North America these railroads form a most remarkable picture of the arterial and venous system of man. Equally wonderful is the similarity between the functions of two distinct systems of nerves in man, and the two distinct systems of telegraph in commerce."

"That a chain of deep water rivers and lakes should extend from the location of the natural outlet of the digestive tract of the earth man to the exact geographical location of the stomach, with all the intervening organs represented in a most remarkable manner, seems a most wonderful coincidence."

Dr. McKay shows that Lake Superior is the stomach for several reasons, it resembles it very markedly in shape, relative size and position, the other lakes making up the representatives of the digestive organs. It, too, is well fitted to perform the functions of the stomach, being surrounded by elements shown to be reduced to pabulum by the stomach. For instance, the great cereal producing region of the continent extends for hundreds of miles in every direction around Lake Superior and the conformation of the country and the development of the arteries of commerce all favor the concentration of the cereals here, and Lake Superior should be, and will be, the greatest food manufacturing point in the United States.

"The conception of this study came from the picture presented to me of the arch of the aorta, or great artery leading from the heart, seen in a railroad map of the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific railroads, as they formed the general course of that artery between Winnipeg and Duluth. A rapid survey of the map showed that the Great Northern system occupied the position of the left internal carotid artery, the Northern Pacific the right and the Canadian Pacific the left external, with the Union Pacific partially but less perfectly representing the right external. Taken altogether, a most striking resemblance to the four main arteries of the head is presented."

Philadelphia Fire.
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 7.—Fire last night destroyed the Philadelphia Co-operative company's building, 967 to 971 Otsego street; the three-story building, occupied by P. Tomson, as a soap factory on Swanson street; also a building used as a spice mill by Mr. Tomson. The storage warehouse, corner of Swanson street and Washington avenue, owned by the Pennsylvania Railroad company, was burned. The Snowden hotel adjoining was scorched, and a number of dwellings owned by Mr. Tomson damaged. Total loss, $165,000; covered by insurance.

An M. P. Talks.
BOSTON, Nov. 7.—Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, M. P. in an interview today, gave it as his opinion that the McKinley or any tariff law that is so near the line of prohibition would be beneficial to England and detrimental to America in that the Americans cannot compete with England in foreign markets. Mr. Chamberlain said he did not credit the report that Lord Randolph Churchill was to go into the conservative government of the seal fisheries. Mr. Chamberlain said: "This ought to be a subject of arbitration; England is all ready to submit the matter."

MRS. MILLER'S FINANCES.

The Aged Widow is Left in Straits of Circumstances.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The publication of the straits to which Mrs. Miller, the venerable widow of the late Associate Justice Miller, has been reduced, has aroused the most profound sympathy and interest. That in her old age the venerable widow should be compelled not only to sell the horses and vehicles to the use of which she has been accustomed since her days of girlhood, but to rent her home and find a resting place in a second-class hotel, is a matter which excites general commiseration. There is talk of raising by private subscription a fund large enough to enable her to spend the rest of her days in that comfort—far removed from luxury—to which she has been accustomed, and it is also suggested that congress might be induced to grant her a small pension.

Mrs. Miller was asked today concerning her plans for the future. Bursting into tears she said: "I have no income and I must rent my house and furniture to get something to live upon. This house and furniture are entirely my own, and they are all I have. Which Judge Miller lived he had his salary, but the moment he died that was stopped. I have always been considered a rich woman, but to live now I must sell my horses and carriages. It is very hard to give up my home at this time, but I am obliged to do it."

A Naval Wonder.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 7.—Three thousand persons cheered the reputed world beater, "Howard Cassard," as she was successfully launched at Locust Point yesterday. The ways spread and broke as the vessel went off which momentarily shifted her ballast. It is claimed that this iron steamer, which is constructed on the Fryer plan, is capable of making thirty-five miles an hour. The vessel is also claimed to be fire proof and unsinkable.

Kentucky Town Seared.

OWENSBORO, Ky., Nov. 7.—A fire broke out about midnight in the basement of the Rudd house, which was totally destroyed. The fire spread to The Messenger newspaper and job office, A. J. Wadley's fine stone building, D. A. Evans' livery stable. Will H. Hohn jumped from a third story window the Rudd house and is fatally injured. There is a strong wind and little hope of saving any of the business portion of the city. The fire department was rendered useless by bursting of hose.

Strike for More Wages.

FREEPORT, Ill., Nov. 7.—The switchmen in the employ of the Illinois Central road here went on strike last night, causing considerable delay to trains. They want an increase in wages.

A Northwestern Sleeping Car
Resting in the River,

BUT ST. LOUIS WATER IS NOT DEEP.

Passengers March Up Town in Night
Clothes and Blankets; Too
Nimble a Switchman.

A serious railroad accident occurred on the Omaha road this morning, making the second one that has taken place in the city limits within a few weeks. Seven men were more or less injured, but happily, and almost strangely, none fatally.

The scene of the accident was the Rice Point end of the long Northern Pacific bridge. The Northwestern express from Chicago was crossing the bridge, and had pulled onto its own track, the sleeper just clearing the Northern Pacific track up to the bridge.

"The Northern Pacific short line train, which is due about the same time as the Northwestern," said a passenger of the train, "started on signal for West Superior, both conductor and engineer thinking that the track was clear for the train to pass the Northwestern. But here the mistake was made, for the Northwestern Pacific engineer saw, when too late, that the Northwestern train was not clear, and although doing all in his power, could not avert the calamity. The Northwestern Pacific engine struck the Chicago sleeper, bunting it off the trestle into the bay. Only the sleeper, which was filled with passengers, left the track.

Other passengers made the same statement this morning, but none were right in their report as to the cause. Said a Northwestern railroad man: "The report that a collision occurred is incorrect. The true cause of the accident was bad switching. The Northwestern Pacific train was standing on the track, waiting for the Omaha to come over from Superior. Both trains stopped near the end of the bridge, and upon signal the Omaha train started ahead. As soon as the forward trucks of the sleeper had passed on to the Omaha track the switchman threw the switch. The rear trucks of the coach went onto the Northern Pacific track, the forward ones keeping the Omaha track. This, of course, caused the car to leave the track, and as there was an open space of ten feet between the tracks, the car went over the trestle into the bay."

The first warning the passengers in the sleeper had of danger was when the car struck the water and the half-dressed men given a bath in two feet of water. There were eight passengers, besides Conductor O'Donnell and A. C. Hough, the brakeman. Their escape from fatal injury was miraculous. Out of ten men only one was badly injured, and his hurts are thought to be not at all serious. The following is a list of the passengers and their injuries: C. A. Luster, Saginaw, slight injury to ankle; A. C. Webber, St. Paul, cut slightly; W. B. Parsons, Dodge Centre, bruised; C. S. Schoeneman, Chicago, slight cuts; W. C. Bredenhagen, St. Paul, back strained; J. P. Moore, Minneapolis, small cuts and bruises; Isaac Paris, Minneapolis, bruised; A. C. Hough, brakeman, cut and bruised. Chief Block of the St. Paul fire department, had a remarkable escape. He was standing in the wash room, near the rear door of the sleeper, when the accident occurred. He felt the jar and ran to the platform, jumping just as the car left the track.

The car is a total wreck. It lies half buried in the water, splintered and broken to pieces. When the coach fell, the doors could not be opened, and the passengers were liberated through a hole chopped in the roof. "No assistance was rendered us at the wreck," said one of the passengers. "After the accident we were left to provide for ourselves and as all our clothing was in the car and buried in the water all we had to shield us from exposure were blankets. Seven of us made our way to the Spaulding where physicians were called to dress wounds and we were well treated by everyone."

The accident will probably be the cause of several suits for damage and only the law will place the blame for the wreck.

James Dykin, one of the passengers on the wrecked Northwestern train this morning was, with his wife and ten children, in the next car to the Pullman that went over. He says that the rear end of the car went off the track first, and the car swung around and broke loose from the wheels and rolled over the trestle where it was twenty-two feet high. The rear end of the car went into the water where it was several feet deep, and the front end remained on the land.

Mr. Dykin went out of the rear of his car and slipped down the piling and got on top of the car to assist in getting the passengers. He says that the colored porter deserves great credit for his almost superhuman efforts in assisting passengers out of their perilous condition.

The Police Court.

Four drunks were arraigned in the police court this morning. One pleaded not guilty and had his case continued. Three paid $5 each. Syver Nelson was arrested on complaint of P. J. Tredt who charges assault in the second degree. The complainant alleges that the defendant beat and kicked him in a brutal manner. The case was continued until Nov. 11 and bail was fixed at $300. A. W. Eiler, for leaving his horse unhitched, paid a fine of $4.

An Enthusiastic Duluthian Christians his Mine too Early in the Season.

Messrs. Franklin and Harris, two Yankee rustlers of Duluth and Bessemer respectively, have bonded Capt. Johnston's gold mining property near Norman, a little distance from Rat Portage, Ontario, for $20,000. Capt. Harris, one of the owners, started work on this mine last week and baptised it the "Ben Harrison" mine. He is now down seven feet in a body of solid ore four feet in width.

Nine different tests of this rock show an average return of $17 per ton. This vein is bound to come a veritable bonanza, and the captain knows it. The character of the ore is of such a soft nature and so free from objectionable base metals that Mr. Powers of the Reduction works at Rat Portage has offered to treat it for the small sum of $4 per ton—the regular rate being $7.

Clover Hill Division.

Comparatively few people in Duluth realize what a revolution in values will occur when we have our electric street car service. When a business man can board a car on Superior street and in twelve minutes get off at

CLOVER HILL,

Will he not prefer to build there on fifty-foot lots, costing $700 or $800, to walking up to Fourth or Fifth street where lots will cost him $3000 to $4000 each?

Will he not buy two lots, having then a nice lawn, and put the money he saves on the purchase of a site into a better house than he could otherwise afford to build?

Everyone who has seen and examined

CLOVER HILL

Pronounces it unexcelled for location.

It commands a good view of the Lake, the City, the Harbor, the Superiors, while Spirit Lake shimmers in the distance.

The property is platted topographically, and every lot is staked.

Woodland Avenue is eighty feet wide, is nicely graded and has a good sidewalk.

Colorado Avenue is now graded up to and we have a force of men now grading other streets in the division.

It is convenient to the Endion school, which is the best in the city.

We would like to have you see it, whether you want to buy or not. Come in and we will gladly drive out and show it to you.

Minneapolis Flour Market.

The Northwestern Miller in its issue today of the flour situation in its issue today will say: The output of flour last week was one of the largest ever made by Minneapolis mills. The 19 mills running produced 180,000 bbls for the week.

The mills continue to run very strong, in anticipation of the early shutting off of lake transportation, and are grinding 30,000 bbls per 24 hours. If the market should not improve after winter rates are put into effect there will be a large curtailment of output. Lower wheat has made flour rather quiet the past week, and the mills as a rule have ground considerably more than they have sold. The demand for patents from eastern cities has been the poorest. There continues to be a good deal of bidding from foreigners for bakers'. The export shipments for the week were 56,300 bbls against 49,130 bbls last week.

THE HAFEE INQUEST.

Order For the Funeral March Tomorrow Afternoon.

An inquest over the remains of Maurice Hafee was held this afternoon at Durkan's undertaking rooms. Alex. Steele testified that he was in the back room of his place of business when the altercation between Hafee and McNamara began. He did not know what they were talking about but he heard someone say: "O, don't hit him with that club." When he rushed out into the front of the saloon his partner said: "For God's sake go and save McNamara's life." He went out into the street and saw Hafee in the act of striking McNamara with a club. He had already hit him once. He grabbed the club with his left hand and struck Hafee in the right cheek with his right hand. He saw Bob Kritz either trip over or kick Hafee in the shoulder. He was up again in two or three minutes. He saw Hafee several times afterwards.

Officer Slattery says he saw Kritz kick Hafee several times in the upper part of the body. He did not see the trouble between Hafee and McNamara. Dr. Charles Slaughter, who attended Hafee, testified that he had seen him at the hose house and on the streets several times before he was removed to the hospital. He complained of trouble with his stomach, but there was no indication of compression of the brain, but he was very weak. When the doctor saw him at the hospital Tuesday morning he was extremely weak and semi-unconscious. This was the first sign of mental failing. Dr. Slaughter assisted in the post mortem. There were no external marks of violence. There was a clot fluid blood on the left lobe of the cerebrum. The brain was in a healthy condition as were all of the organs of the body except the stomach and liver. In some of the minute blood vessels at the base of the brain there were indications of atheromatous degeneration, or weak spots which are liable to give away.

Dr. Ritchie corroborated the evidence of Dr. Slaughter and attributed the rupture of the blood vessel to disease rather than a blow.

The jury rendered a verdict to the effect that death resulted from cerebral hemorrhage. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning from Durkan's undertaking rooms at 7:30 o'clock. The remains will be escorted to the Pro-Cathedral by the fire department and the A. O. H. After the service the remains can be seen at Durkan's until 3 p.m., when they will leave for Columbus, Ohio, for interment.

THE OFFICIAL FIGURES

They Are Made up Today by the Returning Board.

DAVE SINCLAIR GETS THERE.

The Figures Show the Full County Republican Ticket to be Elected.

The returning board has been in session this afternoon and has settled the election count in this country. Figures have been changed slightly from those printed unofficially heretofore but the only place where they in any way appear to affect the result was in Fond du Lac, where the vote on clerk of court, which had been counted 48 for Sinclair and 5 for Voss, was found to be 45 for Sinclair and 8 for Voss.

The board consisted of Auditor La Vaque, Chairman of the County Commissioners Wieland and Justices Martin and Dush. The following are the official figures:

At the hour of going to press the count had not been completed, and the board was still locked in the office of the auditor.

The result of the only county office on which there was question was, however, made known about 4 o'clock, when Messrs. Sinclair, Voss and a Herald reporter figured the vote on clerk of court. It stand as follows:

Sinclair..... 372
Voss..... 372
This elects the entire republican county ticket.

UP IN ARMS.

Cloquet Democrats Claim Illegal Voting by Indians to the Number of 200.

CLOQUET, Nov. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Cloquet democrats are up in arms. Wild claims are being made of fraud and illegal voting. It is alleged that a large number of Indians were registered and voted illegally, through the influence of a lumber company. There is said to be strong talk of a contest. Republicans claim there is no truth in the report.

MERRIAM ELECTED.

Democrats Concede His Election by 1300 Plurality.

There is not a shadow of doubt but that Merriam is elected. A special telegram from St. Paul says: Democrats concede the election of Merriam by 1200 plurality. Only one county remains to be heard from but that will not change the result.

This is almost identical with a telegram printed in The Herald yesterday.

The Official Count Needed in Montana.

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 8.—Although the election returns are not yet complete, it is settled that W. W. Dixon is elected to congress over Thomas H. Carter, republican. Dixon's majority will be about 150. Carter now concedes his defeat. The complexion of the state is still in doubt. The official count alone will determine it.

Chief Hefey's Funeral.

The remains of Chief Hefey are en route to his former home at Columbus, Ohio. Services were held this morning at the Pro-Catholic cathedral at 8 o'clock. After the services the body was taken to Durkan's undertaking rooms, where it was viewed by friends. At 3 p. m. the body was escorted to the Omaha depot by the fire department. The procession was a very long one and showed plainly the interest felt in the dead chief.

In the letter dated Aug. 31, and published Dec. 21, he declared that the horrible statements in connection with Bartlett and Jamieson were simply nonsense. In the face of his own emphatic denial he is bound to produce every scrap of proof that he can to sustain the charges he now makes.

WILL PASS IT UP NOW.

Judge Stearns Hurries on a Big Mineral Case.

IT NOW GOES TO THE HIGHEST COURT.

Where a Question Affecting the Acts of the Legislature Will be Settled.

The case of A. J. Whiteman vs. C. A. Severance which was put on trial in the district court, came to a sudden end this morning, as far as this court is concerned. Owing to the value of the land involved and the parties concerned, the case has created a great deal of interest as it may settle a great many legal disputes concerning leases of mining lands in this part of the state, and was also expected by some, to involve the character of leading state officials.

The land under litigation is that being operated by the Minnesota Mining company, and is alleged to be worth $100,000. This is probably a low estimate. A great array of legal talent was interested in the case. The plaintiffs were cared for by W. W. Billson and Judge Fladreau of St. Paul, while Draper & Davis, Senator C. K. Davis and F. B. Kellogg, his law partner, looked after the interests of the defendant. The land under dispute is the southeast quarter of section 16-62-14.

The law affecting the case is the bill passed at the last legislature for leasing state mineral lands. According to its provisions, the man who first makes application after the law goes into effect is entitled to a lease, but in case two persons make application at the same time, the one who pays most is entitled. The plaintiff claims that the act does not go into effect until the day after it is approved. It was approved April 24, 1888, and the plaintiff made his application the next morning and maintains that it was the first. The state auditor took no action in regard to this mineral lease until nearly a year had expired after the application had been filed, when he executed a lease to the defendant, C. A. Severance, and the defendants claim that he issued the contract the same day. Severance's application was for a lease of not exactly the same land, but for a claim that crossed Whiteman's claim.

When the court convened this morning United States Senator C. K. Davis began the argument of a motion for judgment for the defense on the pleadings, which lasted for about two hours. The senator argued that under the existing statutes the auditor had the right to make a lease for mineral lands with any parties, and that the question was as to whether Whiteman or Severance filed on the land first. A large number of authorities were introduced to sustain the ground.

W. Billson in opposing the motion held that the auditor could not use his own discretion in making leases but that he must go on the plan of first come first served. Judge Fladreau sustained the same point and Attorney Kellogg closed for the defense with much the same argument as that used by Senator Davis.

Judge Stearns sustained the motion, but said that he was not allowing the subject. He held that if a ruling was made in favor of the plaintiff he would be giving the judiciary department authority over the executive department and that was not allowable. He realized that the matter how the case was decided in this court it would eventually go to the supreme court, and he was of the opinion that the better it would be for all parties. For that reason he sustained the motion.

The Pope Didn't.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 7.—Cardinal Gibbons has received from Rome a positive confirmation of the statement recently published that Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul had been summoned to Rome on account of the views expressed by the archbishop on public school education in this country. The report was that the Pope authorities were dissatisfied with Archbishop Ireland's views as being too favorable to the public schools.

Newark Anarchists.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 8.—Anarchists who resisted the police last night when the latter arrested Lucy Parsons for inciting a riot were arraigned this morning, together with Mrs. Parsons. She pleaded not guilty to the charge against her, but, with Englebert Hammer, Simon, Gordon and August Welzer was remanded to appear before the grand jury of Monday.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Nov. 8.—The republicans will ask a recount in the Eleventh congressional district where Coolidge, democrat, has 115 plurality over Pauldin, republican.

FUSSING WITH SIOUX.

A Deal Too Much Palaver Over a Lot of Dirty Sioux.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Gen. O'Beirne of the immigration bureau, has written to Secretary Noble requesting that he cause an examination of the Wild West Indians to be made on their arrival at Philadelphia.

The general has also written to Secretary Welch of the Philadelphia Indian Rights association to notify him of the arrival of Indians and the general will go on there, accompanied by a Sioux interpreter, and take evidence as to the treatment received by the Indians while connected with the show.

THE DAY'S FIRES.

One Suffocates a Lodger; Woolen Mills Partially Destroyed in New Brunswick.

NEW YORK. An early morning fire here in a lodging house at 153 West Thirty-third street, caused the death by suffocation of one of the lodgers, John Callahan, loss small.

Calais, Me.—The two upper stories of the dye house of the St. Croix Cotton mill at Milltown, N. B., were gutted by fire last night and the machinery badly damaged. The loss will be heavy but is insured. The operation of the mill will not be materially interfered with.

PICOTON, N. S., Nov. 8.—The largest fire here for twenty years is in progress. It started at 1:30 p. m. in the police station on the east side of the south market wharf and rapidly spread south to the harbor and north to Water street. A Norwegian sailor, who was the sole inmate of the police station, perished before the fire was discovered. The steamer William, lying alongside the wharf, got the first stream of water on the burning building and is doing effective service, and two fire engines were soon playing.

A strong wind was blowing and the flames soon seized the large Arnsen warehouse, and then went to the Carsons lumber yard, carpenter shop and sawmill. A hard fight was made here to stop the progress of the fire, but it was unsuccessful. A clean sweep of South Market wharf is threatened. New Glasgow is sending a steam fire engine. The wind is drawing more to the east and may lessen the danger of the body of the fire. The fire is, however, spreading up Carroll lane.

THE ATCHINSON.

The Road Does not Contemplate any More Building Now.

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—Mr. George H. Magoun, of the Atchinson board of directors, says that the Atchinson does not contemplate any new building. The report of Atlantic & Pacific surveyors locating lines notably in the Texas Panhandle, probably arise from the fact that land department of the Atlantic & Pacific has some surveying to do in connection with its land grant claim.

"Since last June" said he "fifty-one miles of line have been surveyed and the Atchinson company and laid on the shelf. The Atchinson does not need to build now, to strengthen its geographical position.

THE TREND OF TRADE.

Dun's Weekly Report is Decidedly Flattering This Time.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—R. G. Dunn & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: The volume of business, both domestic and foreign continues large beyond precedent and in character prosperous. The election interrupted business but little and the result has no perceptible effect as yet upon trade though some fear an extension of manufacturers may be checked by uncertainty. The monetary situation is substantially unchanged. Reports from all parts of the country show that business is large and healthy.

Iron is weaker here for Southern and Bessemer is weaker at Pittsburgh, but at Philadelphia revised quotations are $18 and upwards for standard Pennsylvania, $17 and upwards for standard Southern and $15 for neutral forge. More inquiry for rails is seen. Bar mills are not so full of orders as they were, but structural and plate works are busy.

Textile manufacturers are all active and with improving prospects. Tin is weaker at $21.35 and lead at $5.50; and copper is sold by outside parties at $16.75. Foreign trade in October will surpass that of any other month in the history of the country, for exports from New York show a gain of $3,000,000, indicating an aggregate of more than $105,000,000 for the country, and imports also show an increase of about $3,000,000, indicating an aggregate scarcely exceeded, if at all, in any month.

The Newfoundland Fuss.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 8.—A special cable dispatch to The Globe says: Premier Whiteway's sailing with Dr. Harvey on Tuesday by no means implies that the Newfoundland shore difficulty has been adjusted. The matter is still far from settled, although Lords Salisbury and Knutsford have taken it up seriously. The belief is current in official circles that France will demand the cession of New Hebrides in return for the extinction of French rights. If so, the British government is in a position of great difficulty, as that cession would give mortal offence to Australia. But it is believed the negotiations are not yet advanced enough for such a great demand.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

Full 3000 Men Will Labor in Local Pineries.

ACTIVE WORK HAS ALREADY BEGUN.

Next Year's Lumber Output; Complications of Forestry; Wahnapitae's Cargo.

The lumbermen are making preparations for the winter's work in the woods, in earnest. Large gangs of men are at work for the different firms constructing camps in the lumbering districts and getting things generally in readiness.

Large supplies of groceries and provisions are being sent out to the camps, and gangs of men are being sent out daily by the employment agencies.

More men and more provisions have gone and are to go to the woods this year than in any previous year since lumber cutting was first begun hereabouts. The cut this winter will be greater than ever before, and the number of mills to work next season will be largely in excess of any earlier year. The fact that the big Mitchell & McClure mill will not be saving till some time in the summer will cut down the output some, however, from earlier estimates.

Still there will be nearly, if not quite 3000 men employed all winter in the woods of the Duluth district cutting logs for mills at this city, Cloquet and the Junction, the iron range and Superior, while the number that will be employed from here to go in on the upper Mississippi and to the Ashland district will swell the total to nearly 4000. A large share of these men are already employed and in the woods. Wages will run about as heretofore.

Many More Complications.

Speaking of the late Forestal Brothers' failure the Minneapolis Lumberman says: It is likely to lead to endless and expensive litigation between the Howe Lumber company and the St. Paul & Duluth Railroad company, the Northern Pacific Railroad company and the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha road. The Howe Lumber company has filed a lien on a bridge built for the companies in Duluth by Forestal Brothers. The lumber company supplied lumber and is now endeavoring to recover.

The Wahnapitae's Cargo. The statement that the insurance of the lumber cargo of the Wahnapitae is being adjusted in Duluth is incorrect. It is being fixed at Buffalo. The lumber 1,500,000 feet—was for an elevator in the east, and the builders, Barnett & Record of Minneapolis, are buying another cargo now. Of this 1,200,000 feet is being got in Ashland.

The McClure Dock. The Herald's statement that the contract for the entire work on the Mitchell & McClure 3000 foot dock had been let, was slightly in error. Only the piles have been bought. The driving and dock building will cost considerably over $50,000 and has not yet been signed for. It is painful to be forced to note that The Herald's three revered contemporaries all fell into the same error the day after this paper made its statement.

In Lower Court. Alex. McMillan and C. A. Haring, the two men arrested for stealing $110 from Julia Johnson's house were arraigned this morning on the charge of grand larceny. Their examination was set for Nov. 10 and bail fixed at $500. Paul Swenson, charged with assault in the third degree had his case continued until Nov. 11, with bail fixed at $50. Tom Connors and Ed. Hall, noisy drunks went out for fourteen days. Martin McCarthy and John Johnson, plain drunks, received the usual sentence.

An Office Made Vacant.

F. B. Daugherty has resigned his office as a member of the board of fire commissioners. This action was made necessary by Mr. Daugherty's election to the senate, but it is a great misfortune for Duluth, as he is undoubtedly the best posted man in the city on fire department matters. His successor has not yet been appointed, although several men have been recommended to the mayor.

Looking For Game.

The woods along the south shore swarm with hunters, and the meat markets of the city are well stocked with wild game of the season. There would be lots of venison in market but for the state law. Two parties left for the woods yesterday, each consisting of about twenty men. They went equipped with supplies and ammunition for two weeks' stay.

The Very Best Train Service.

President I. H. Porter of the Iron Range road who was in the city yesterday on a tour of inspection of the road, was driven about the town of Lakeside by President Sargent. A Disease Unaccountably Prevalent.

The prevalence of ailments attributable to miasmatic poison in the air that people breathe, and the water they drink, is well nigh unaccountable. Not alone in pestilential swamps, badly drained suburban districts, and mines exposed to the sun's rays by the receding tide, is this scourge of humanity found. Even in great cities, healthfully located, skillfully sewered, well looked after in every respect in a sanitary way, we find malaria. Its presence is often inexplicable, but its attacks are often preventable. The protector is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The eradicator bears the same name. It is a remedy for thousands throughout our broad land and elsewhere as a synonym of relief, prevention and cure of the insidious disorders in its abominable phases—chills and fever, bilious remittent, dumb ague and ague cake, as well as others. Not the Bitters less effective for indigestion, kidney complaint, biliousness and rheumatism.

THE INDIAN MILLENNIUM.

General Miles Talks of the Expected Messiah.

A DEEP FEELING AMONG THE SIOUX.

The New Christ Will Raise the Dead and the Buffalos and Drive out Whites.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 8.—A reception at the Ryan was tendered by the Loyal Legion last evening to Maj.-Gen. Nelson A. Miles, U. S. A., who was in St. Paul on his way to Chicago after a trip to Utah, Montana and the Cheyenne reservation investigating the religious craze among the Indians. He was accompanied on his trip by Commissioners Smalley of Vermont and Zertass of Grand Forks, and the party was joined here by Capt. Higgins and Lieut. Mats.

While in the West Gen. Miles learned that a belief exists among the various bands of Sioux, Cheyennes, Blackfeet, Shoshones and other tribes that a Messiah has come, who is to restore them to their former glory. The Snake Indians are the only ones who have not become possessed of this craze.

"There is no doubt," said Gen. Miles, "that many of the Indians holding this belief are sincere and few have certainly seen some person whom they took to be the Messiah. I am inclined to think there is more than one person impersonating this Messiah. It is my belief that the Mormons are the prime movers in this imposition on the Indians. I do not think the belief of the Indians will lead to any outbreak or bloodshed, but when an ignorant race of people become fanatical it is hard to tell just what they will do. It is noteworthy, however, that this so-called Messiah tells the Indians that when he comes to reign over them firearms will be no longer used or necessary. He tells them also that with his coming the dead Indians will all be raised to life, the buffalo will return and he will draw a line behind on which he will gather all the Indians, and then he will roll the earth back upon the whites. This has naturally excited the Indians and large numbers have accepted the new belief. Among those who have done so none are more ardent than Sitting Bull, who is intensely Indian in all his ideas.

"Your Sioux Indian is generally a very stoical sort of a fellow, but is given to fits of frenzied excitement, but I am free to confess that many years of experience amongst the Sioux failed to develop anything like deep, religious feeling until this summer. Now they are continually in that state which is supposed to characterize the negroes of the South during a successful revival. They are completely given up to praying and singing; exhorting and holding religious dances. "There has been some Christian missionary work done amongst them, and they have some sort of savage conception of the Christian creed which consists of the knowledge of the Trinity and an especial veneration for the virgin. This smattering of Christianity includes some sort of conception of the millennium and this they believe is at hand. Their practice of Christianity is very uncouth, and they have simply adapted the faith to their savage customs, and the result is something that might be dreaded if they were not so completely under control. Their idea of the millennium is that the Goshawk will descend to the earth in the form of a man, and that his mission is the destruction of the white man and the restoration of the Indian to his ancient rights and freedom; that this time is fast approaching and may be looked for next year."

STOCKBRIDGE INTERVIEWED.

He Reviews the Cause of Democratic Victory.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—"The result in Michigan was, I believe, as great a surprise to the democrats as to the republicans," said Senator Stockbridge to the reporter of a local paper yesterday. "I was over that state a good deal just before election and I was unable to discover any cause for apprehension anywhere. I do not think the dissatisfaction among disappointed office-seekers had much to do with it."

"The McKinley law, then?"

"Yes, or rather the talk about the McKinley law. It was the granger vote that did the business; and while we made the mistake of directing our efforts to cities and big towns, the democrats worked like hives in the country, shouted about the robber tariff and high prices and all that."

Cruel But Business.

FORT DODGE, Ia., Nov. 8.—The school board at Cherokee announces that hereafter every teacher will be required to sign a contract not to get married during the school year. They have had much trouble over the resignation of teachers for matrimonial purposes during the past year, and propose to obviate the trouble in this way.

Toward Reciprocity.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—President Evan Thomas of the Produce Exchange has sent an official letter to Secretary Blaine favoring reciprocity with Newfoundland. Among other things he says that in response to a communication from the British government, a committee of the board to whom the matter was referred, had reported in favor of reciprocity with Newfoundland. The privileges of American fishermen in Canadian waters is touched upon, together with a resumption of closer trade relations with Newfoundland.

Steamship Movements.

ANARCHIST ANNIVERSARY.

How the Chicago Contingent Will Observe the Day.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—It will be three years Tuesday since Spies, Parsons, Fischer and Engle met their death upon the scaffold for their complicity in the anarchist outbreak and the massacre of Haymarket square and tomorrow their sympathizers will don sackcloth and ashes and over the graves in Waldheim cemetery renew their allegiance to the principles which resulted in the outbreak and its terrible aftermath.

As in '88 and '89 the event will be commemorated by a great street procession. In addition to the socialist and anarchist lodges, it is given out that thirty-one trade assemblies will participate. No attempt will probably be made to display the red flag of the Commune, the police permit for the occupancy of the street on the line of march being issued contingent upon the preservation of order and proper behavior.

Musio will be furnished by a number of brass bands. Special trains will convey the sympathizers to the cemetery where the graves will be strewn with flowers and addresses delivered in English and German by Professor Garfield of New York, Moses Schultz, Jack Nicolanda and others. Tuesday night the anniversary proper of the execution there will be a mass memorial meeting in the Cavalry armory. Joliet advises say that Schwab, Fielden and Neebe will pass the day in seclusion and fast all day.

A Terrible Revenge.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 8.—Whilst two small white boys named McGee and Wamsley were packing lint in a cotton gin in Anderson county a boy about 13 years old paused near the press and striking a match threw it into the cotton. In a few seconds the cotton was on fire and the little fellows began screaming for help but before they could be rescued they were horribly burned. The Wamsley boy died three hours later. Young McGee is so badly burned that no hope is entertained for his recovery. He is, however, still conscious and says that sometime before the occurrence, young Wamsley struck the colored boy with a stick and that the negro set fire to the cotton in revenge. He has left the neighborhood and there is no clue to his whereabouts.

Applying Electricity to Naval Use.

PARIS, Nov. 8.—Great interest is taken in naval circles on the possibilities of the application of electricity to naval uses. The government has taken the matter up and proposes to institute a series of lectures for the benefit of naval officers on the theory and use of electricity. These lectures will be given by recognized experts and will extend over a period of four months. Particular attention will be paid to the various systems of electric lighting, which four working electricians from each naval port will carefully study under the direction of the government.

The Home Truth of a Foreign Proverb.

The Spanish have a proverb—demiado es peligroso—"too much is dangerous." If "bravity is the soul of wit," this means a great deal. Excess and other imprudences in eating and drinking are productive of one tremendous evil—the progenitor of many others—and these are among the follies to which this pithy saying has direct application. The evil to which we allude is indigestion, the relief and cure of which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has contributed more than any medicine which science has given to the American people. This invigorating stomachic and corrective is the means not only of reforming a disordered or enfeebled condition of the digestive organs, but of securing healthy action of the bowels and the liver. Besides this, it counteracts a tendency to rheumatism and kidney complaint, extirpates and prevents malarious disease, is a potent restorative of strength which is failing, hastens convalescence and mitigates the infirmities of age.

THERE IS A BIG KICK.

West Duluth Also is Complaining of Water Matters.

DOESN'T LIKE THE WEST SUPERIOR CO.

News of the Day at West Duluth and the Second Division of Duluth.

A special meeting of the council was held last evening to consider the application of the Gas & Water company for an extension of its franchise, which called for a certain supply of water by Dec. 1. The company has made but small beginning and claims that the reason is that the city council of Duluth won't allow a connection with their source of supply. R. C. Elliott, president of the company, was present and urged an extension and said the company had concluded negotiations with the West Superior company where they were sure of a supply and promised that work should be commenced at the earliest moment in the spring and pushed to early completion. The question was discussed by the council and finally the time was extended to suit the company.

It is generally known that the two companies, West Duluth and West Superior, are one, and many of the citizens are inquiring why, in view of the fact that so much work has been done on the other side of the bay they could not have completed the small amount of work called for by the franchise here. In many localities the ground is now covered thick with wooden buildings, and it is not very pleasant to contemplate the fact that every drop of water that is not well housed will soon be frozen up, and the town left without a bucketful in case of a fire.

He says the exodus is equal to the influx of a few years ago and that trains coming east are all loaded while those arriving are comparatively empty.

Residents of the East Suburb Guard Against It.

A CLAUSE IN THEIR CITY CHARTER.

Petitions Excluding Liquor Readily Signed by Nearly all Residents of London.

Lakeside does not intend to have liquor sold within her limits. That is a feature in the new city government which the Londoners are preparing to rivet solidly for all time in the constitution of their embryo city.

F. Blackburn has for some time been circulating a petition to the court asking for the preliminary steps for the incorporation of the suburb as a city. This has been made necessary by the rapid growth of the East End, and by reason of the extensive public improvements now under way and contemplated, which can not well be carried out under village rule.

Perhaps the most interesting and important clause in the petition is that relating to the sale of liquor. It is expressly stated that there shall not be any license ever granted in the new city nor shall any be sold without license at any time to come. The provision is made as stringent as possible with the evident intention that it shall be binding and be complied with.

So far the petition has been readily signed and it now contains the names of about half the voters of the place. There is no question but the city charter, if granted at all, will be with the proviso demanded.

The Week of Prayer for Young Men.
Next week is the week of prayer for young men, observed by the Young Men's Christian associations all over the world. The local association will observe it by a consecration meeting at 9:15 tomorrow morning and a mass meeting for young men at 4 in the afternoon. Special meetings will be held in the parlors each evening (except Thursday) from 8:45 to 9:30 o'clock. The members of the association are specially invited to attend these meetings, and all young men will be cordially welcomed.

The Way Made Clear.
One of the most serious obstacles to success in the way of man is planted right in the middle of the road to health. How to restore and to maintain a regular habit of body and digestion is too often a source of needless, and, unhappily, of vain inquiry. It is not necessary to inveigh against drastic purgatives. They who have used them continuously know the consequence. A remedy which unites the action of a regulating machine for the bowels with the endorsement of our fellow countrymen. With this effectual, though gentle, laxative at hand, it is possible to defy those changes of temperature productive of constipation, as well as constitutional attacks of biliousness, which beset even people naturally healthy. Malaria, dyspepsia, rheumatism and kidney troubles are remedied and prevented by the Bitters.

Announcement.

Within the next four months there will be employed at West Duluth in the various manufacturing institutions located there and in process of construction at least 800 operatives more than are now employed.

All dwellings now ready for use are occupied, and at least 250 more houses must be erected in order to provide these incoming people with homes.

To assist in meeting this exigency the West Duluth Land Company will put upon the market for purposes of improvement only, a considerable number of lots in the Third and Seventh Divisions of the Plat of West Duluth upon extremely easy terms of payment.

These lots are all located between Central Avenue and the Bay of St. Louis, and will constitute the business portion of West Duluth. This affords a good chance to invest in inside property.

Prices, terms and further information may be obtained at the office of the company, Spalding House Building, Duluth, Minn.

DULUTH SOCIAL CIRCLES

News of a Week That Has Been More Busy Than Usual.

SEVERAL VERY PRETTY WEDDINGS

And a Good Many Social Entertainments of Various Kinds; Personal News.

That "there is nothing so interesting as people" everyone agrees, especially when they indulge in weddings, which the best of people will do, now and then. This week Duluth has seen a swell church wedding, and one of the prettiest it has had for several years. It has also seen several others, and notwithstanding the beginning of winter weather, the receptions and pleasant social parties of various names have been unusually well attended. This argues well for a delightful social winter for the people of Duluth which all are glad to anticipate.

The Week's Weddings.

Last evening, at the home of Dr. A. W. Ringland, Mr. William Wood Hancock and Miss Christina McDonald were pronounced husband and wife by Dr. Ringland. It was a very quiet wedding, only a few friends being in attendance. Mr. Hancock is manager in N. H. Willis' meat market. He is very well known in the city, and he and his bride will have the good wishes of many friends. Mr. and Mrs. Hancock will go to housekeeping next week, near the corner of First street and Fourth avenue east.

In the First Presbyterian church Wednesday evening, Miss Cornelia Earl Chapin and Mr. Robert Peck Dowse took the leading roles in one of the prettiest weddings Duluth has seen for a long time as elaborate a church marriage as probably has ever taken place in the city. A few minutes after the church was well filled with invited guests the organ pealed Lohegrin's March and the wedding party came in. First the groom and his best man, Mr. Thomas D. Peck of Pittsfield, Mass., came down the side aisle to the altar and there awaited the bride. Then the ushers, Messrs. W. B. Silvey, E. C. Jones, A. W. Hartman, W. M. Roberts, L. J. Hopkins and W. B. Dixon marched up the middle aisle followed by the father and mother of the bride, then two little bridesmaids, cousins of the bride, Misses Bessie Barber and Marjorie Greenwood, Bessie carrying roses and Marjorie the ring on a tiny silver. Then the maid of honor, the bride's young sister, Julia, followed by the bride and her bridesmaids, Miss Dowse and Miss Munger. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Ringland and with soft, sweet music twinkling all through was very impressive. The party left the church to the music which has accompanied the feet of so many brides, Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

After the wedding there was a reception at the home of the bride on East Second street. The rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers and smilax. Hoare's orchestra furnished concert music for the whole evening, and after refreshments were served there was dancing. More than 100 guests were present. On the same evening Mr. and Mrs. Dowse left on a wedding trip to the East.

Mr. James Ackerman and Miss Annie Pastorek both of this city were married Tuesday morning in the Pro-Cathedral, Father Corbett officiating. After receiving the congratulations of their friends the bride party were driven to the home of the bride's parents where a substantial wedding breakfast was served and shared in by the contracting parties, relatives and a few intimate friends. Mr. and Mrs. Ackerman have to the West on a bridal tour.

A very pleasant but a quiet wedding occurred at the Episcopal rectory, state Tuesday evening, Mr. Albert E. McManus being married to Miss Ada P. Ruckel. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. M. Barker. Mr. and Mrs. McManus are already at home at 524 West Fifth street. Their friends, who are many, are wishing them a most prosperous and happy married life.

Miss Mary Kunst and Henry Hilke were married at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the residence of the bride's parents. They will spend the honeymoon in Germany.

A Right Royal Masonic Welcome.

Taking advantage of the arrival home of T. W. Hugo from Washington after a short absence, the Scottish Rite Masons of Duluth and vicinity tendered him a reception and entertained him at a banquet on Wednesday evening at the Scottish Rite hall, Masonic Temple. After receiving the congratulations and hearty handshakes of the brethren, the guest was escorted to the banquet hall where, after the brethren had partaken of the substantial, Judge J. E. West proposed the health of "Our Guest, T. W. Hugo, 33," Inspector General of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Free Masonry for the Southern Jurisdiction of the United States, Honorary Member of the Supreme Council. Judge West extolled in glowing terms the services rendered by the Rite by Mr. Hugo, assuring him of the appreciation of the brethren, and in eloquent language expressed their participation in the honors which had been heaped on him. Mr. Hugo returned thanks for his fraternal appreciation and esteem. He gave an interesting description of his trip and visit to Washington and the supreme council and stated that a charter for a Consistory at Duluth had been granted, and that he had been further honored by the selection of Brother I. E. West and J. R. Carey as knights commander of the court of honor. This is an honorary degree conferred upon but a few for merit alone.

The following toasts were then proposed and responded to as follows:

"The Supreme Council and Brother Albert Pike 33." Response by T. W. Hugo.
"The A. and A. S. R. and our Inspector General, Brother S. E. Adams 33." Response by R. E. Denfeld.
"The Northern Jurisdiction." Response by Geo. W. Buck.
"The Old Dominion." Response by Wm. E. Tanner of Richmond, Va.

"The Old Time Masons of Our Country." Response by Guy Wells.
"York Rite Masonry." response by J. E. Cooley, P. M.
The Scottish Rite choir then gave some musical selections.

"The Strangers Within Our Gates," response by J. H. Story of Fargo, N. D., and J. S. McPherson of Bay City, Mich.
"Our Members Outside Our City," response by R. Stewart of Two Harbors.
"Our City and its Officers," response by M. J. Davis, mayor.

"The Old-time Masons of Duluth," response by J. H. LaVigne, P. M.
"The Young Masons of Duluth," response by J. K. Persons.
"The Workers in Our Order," response by W. G. Ten Brook, P. M.

"The Masonic Women of the Order of the Eastern Star," response by N. O. Gearhart, as sociate G. P. of Minnesota.
"Other Women," response by F. B. Lazier.
"The Peculiar People," response by B. Silberstein and S. Levy.

"Auld Lang Syne" was then sung. The fraternal chain was then formed and a sentiment proposed to our brothers who have ceased their labors here below, after which $10 was collected for charity, $25 of which was given to the elevator man, Mr. Frank Simpson.

An Afternoon Reception.

The reception given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. S. F. White and Mrs. E. Ingalls was one of the pleasantest, prettiest, best conducted parties of the kind of the season. The rooms were decorated with chrysanthemums and smilax, and those great perfect globes of pink and white and yellow flowers deserve special notice. The souvenirs for each guest were carnations. Hoare's orchestra furnished music and everyone laughed and talked and was merry.

There were a large number of guests in attendance, among whom were: Mrs. Wm. Prindle, Mrs. Denfeld, Mrs. Simonds, Mrs. Spalding, Mrs. W. S. Woodbridge, Mrs. Salter, Mrs. John McLeod, Mrs. Suffer, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Fred Reynolds, Mrs. Dr. Weston, Mrs. Shannon, Mrs. Norton, Mrs. W. C. Sherwood, Mrs. A. Bailey, Mrs. J. W. Miller, Mrs. John Drew, Mrs. M. J. Carpenter, Mrs. Hoover, Mrs. Sherwin, Mrs. W. C. L. Bradley, Mrs. Dutton and Mrs. Mee.

Progressive Conversation.

Mrs. Moore and daughters of 502 East Third street gave a progressive conversation party last evening. This is something rather new to Duluth people and very interesting, therefore destined to become popular. A list of subjects were given on a dainty program card, and each gentleman was obliged to converse with every lady for three minutes, after which a vote was taken by each party, writing on a card given for the purpose the name of the gentleman or lady by whom he or she had been most entertained. A prize was given to those receiving the most votes, flowers for the lady and a satin, hand-painted bookmark for the gentleman. Miss Willis and Mr. Duncan McLeod won the prizes. The party was in honor of Miss Willis, whose home is in Maryland.

Among the guests were Dr. and Mrs. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. John MacLeod, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Brace, Messrs. Armstrong, Staples, Burke, Gibson, Peyton, Barker, Messrs. Duncan, S. Allen, Peyton, Lieut. Fitch, C. C. Thayer, Brindley, Merriam, Dabney, Baker and Barker. There were refreshments and later an informal dance.

Unity Club Dancing Party.

The dancing party given by the Unity club at the Spalding Tuesday evening was very fully attended and one of the most successful social assemblies of the season. Hoare's orchestra furnished the music very acceptably and the well chosen list of dances admirably conducted by Professor Evans, whose services were kindly given to the club. The buffet and all the appointments of the Spalding were perfected in every detail for the pleasure of the guests, and the management throughout was gratifying to every one in attendance.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Totman, Barnard, Mosher, Volentine, Leland, Greenwood, Kingman, Brace, Fuller, Anneke, Wigginton, Moles, Mrs. Sutherland, Mrs. Bailey, Misses MacCallin, Willis, Collins, Dwyer, Boyce, Cullyford, Richmond, Leland, Sutherland, Wheelock, Kingman, Barnard, Gilbert and McLean, and Messrs. Friends of the Poor.

The annual meeting of the Ladies Relief society was held Monday. Owing to the absence from the city of the treasurer, the reports were not all presented and the business was somewhat impeded. Ways and means for raising money for the coming year were discussed and the following officers were re-elected: Mrs. A. M. Miller, president; Mrs. Edgar Markell, vice-president; Mrs. Dr. Collins, secretary; Mrs. Geo. Greenwood, treasurer; Mrs. D. E. Little and Mrs. Charles Allen, directresses. Mr. Nathan Ford of St. Paul, and probably Dr. Smith Baker of Minneapolis and others speakers from abroad will be here.

Social Notes.

Among the guests were Messrs. Chapman, McGorrick, Cash, Shannon, McLaren, Marvin, McLaren, Ames and ladies. Refreshments were served and all the guests enjoyed the evening although it was very stormy.

Sunday night at Edgion Baptist church, the children of the Sunday school will give an entertainment appropriate for Bible day. Whitton, secretary. The club will give a dance soon.

The Silver Star Social club had one of its regular pleasant dances at Ingalls hall Thursday evening.

At Edgion Baptist church Wednesday evening Rev. Geo. H. Kemp and wife were tendered a very pleasant reception. The church was tastefully decorated with potted plants, and during the evening delicious refreshments were served. To the ladies much credit is due for the success of the occasion. Between 200 and 300 people were present.

The first annual ball of the Coopers union took place last night at the Normanna hall, corner of Superior street and Twenty-first avenue west.

This exhibition will take place at the Free Mission hall next Tuesday evening. The ladies of the First Presbyterian church give a supper next Wednesday evening, from 6 to 8 o'clock, at the church. Buying Railroad Tickets.

There are a good many people who do not know how to buy a railroad ticket for a journey of over 100 miles. Think not? Well, it's true. We knew an editor, an intelligent man, who was going from an interior Illinois town to Manchester, Vt. He bought to Chicago—could do better there, you know—let an agent sell him to Manchester, N. H., got into Montreal Saturday night, couldn't get away till Monday morning, then had no ticket to his destination, and paid fare Montreal to his Vermont town. He simply didn't know how to buy a ticket. Your local railroad agent may not look like a very smart man; he may not have a front pew in church; he may not rank high in the town's social circles; but he knows more about railroad rates and connections than you do. If you are contemplating a trip, just call at his office, tell him where you want to go and where you want your tickets to read over "The Burlington," then take his advice about all the rest. That is the way to buy a ticket. For any particulars about "The Burlington," which your agent cannot give write to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, C. B. & N. R. R. St. Paul, Minn.

THE NEW INTERNATIONAL YACHT CUP.

News of the Yachtsmen; O'Connor Talks of Australia and the Oarsmen.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—A. L. Johnson, the Cleveland baseball magnate, arrived in Chicago yesterday and left last night. He came on a twofold mission; first, to see Mr. Spalding and talk over the matter of a compromise, and second, to see Mr. Addison and find out what he means to do with the club.

He came, it is said, in response to a telegraphic invitation from Mr. Spalding. He was seen, and when asked what his ideas of a compromise were, said: "I say frankly that I do not think there will be a compromise. My idea of one is for the clubs to get together, each to have 30 per cent of the stock. This does not seem to suit, however. We are in shape now to go on with the fight."

Sporting News.

No event of recent years has aroused yachtsmen on this side of the water so much as the action of the Royal Victoria club of England in deciding to offer an international cup to be sailed for next summer at Cowes.

The arrangements are not all completed yet, but everything will be made ready in time for a series of races in August, 1891. The terms of the contract will be very simple, and the deed of gift will be as brief as the original document which accompanied the celebrated cup won by the old yacht America over thirty years ago in English waters. If Boston's amateur skippers bring that new cup back it will be a sad blow to yacht racing about New York harbor.

The action of the Royal Victoria Yacht club is nothing more than could have been expected. In fact, such a movement on the part of British yachtsmen was looked for last spring, when the latest revised edition of the new Schuyler deed of gift was put on record. The terms of this document have been declared so unfair by the English gentlemen sailors that no more challenges will ever be sent here by them and thus the new Royal Victoria Yacht club's cup will take the place of the old America's piece of silverware. All appearances indicate that there will be lively competition for the Royal Victoria's emblem next season and interest in the matter has caused a revival of the old enthusiasm over international racing.

Mr. August Belmont, Jr.'s, new forty-six-footer Minicola has advanced as far as the completion of the plans by Designer Burgess. She will be exclusively a racing machine, and will show some important modifications from the models of the cup winners of the past season. Minicola will have a beam 12 feet 6 inches, which is less than his present Marquitta, and about six inches wider than Gossoon, the champion of this class. Minicola will have a larger bilge than Gossoon and a midship section with curves not so easy as that famous sloop. She is also designed to be a boat of less power than Marquitta in proportion to dimensions, and will require less sail to drive her through the water. She will be a keel boat, and will have an enormous amount of lead in her keel.

Mr. Burgess is also to build a forty-six-footer for Cornelius Vanderbilt. William O'Connor, the champion oarsman of America, who arrived home at Toronto last week from his Australian trip, speaks highly of the treatment he received while away, says The Sporting Life. "I found Australia very hot when I reached Sydney in March," he said, "and went to the mountains for a week or so. During the remainder of my stay the climate agreed with me perfectly, and I was in the best of health. I was a long time there and had much difficulty before I could get a race. They were rowing and making matches with each other, and didn't pay any attention to my challenge until the newspapers and public opinion forced them to. I was very near coming away without a race; a few days more would have settled it that way."

"At last I got on a race with Stansbury, as you know, and that was not for the championship. He's a big, strong fellow, and a great sculler, though he has a peculiar style. He can strike very fast. He rowed one trial there, going thirty-three in the first minute and finishing at thirty-four strokes. The high rig, of course, aids in fast striking. I took to that style when I went there, and when I got into condition it was too close to race day to make a change to my old style, though I could have done better and felt more at home in the old way."

"The high rig," said Hanlan, who was one of O'Connor's callers, "calls into play different sets of muscles, and a man can't get the full benefit of it in months. You would have done better to stick to your own style of rig."

"The Parramatta," continued O'Connor, "is a poor course on account of the tide that rushes out of its bays. You can't see half a mile ahead of you at any place in it. I was in good shape when I rowed. I never did more work for a race, and I never had better boats or more of them. They haven't much to learn out there about sculling, building or rigging boats or making oars, and nobody can go there and beat Kemp or Stansbury. I think Peter Kemp is the better of the two. He certainly has more pace."

An Exciting Trap Shoot.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Great interest is manifested in trap-shooting circles in the coming matches between the picked teams of Chicago and Kansas City, which takes place at the latter city next week. Much rivalry of a friendly nature has been developed between the two cities, and since the defeat of the Chicago team last March this feeling has increased until gun circles of both cities are worked up to a high pitch. The Chicago teams will leave here tomorrow morning, and elaborate arrangements for their entertainment have been made by those in charge at Kansas City.

Concerning the Trial.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—Lord Lonsdale, Richard K. Fox and George Pease have signed an agreement to bear all the expenses of the forthcoming trial of McAuliffe and Slavin. The total will not fall far short of $20,000. They have had two conferences this week with Sir Charles Russell regarding the line of defense to be taken. The eminent jurist is sanguine of securing their acquittal.

THE TWO P'S.

A Small Democratic Boom for the Presidency.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.—When Murat Halstead, in an interview at Baltimore yesterday, predicted that Robert E. Pattison of Pennsylvania, who defeated Delamater for governor, would be the next democratic candidate for president, he struck the key note of the intentions of those who have Pattison's interests in charge. Ever since the young democrat last filled the gubernatorial chair he has been carefully boomed as a presidential possibility by such veteran moulders of public opinion as Col. Alexander McClyre, William M. Singlerley, and some of the representative democrats of this state.

Senator Quay's course in the recent campaign, the manner in which he forced his candidature upon the party in the face of the fact that Gen. Hastings was the favorite and the personal unpopularity of Delamater gave the friends of Pattison an unexpected and unlooked for opportunity of again bringing their man to the front. How well their judgment was vindicated is shown by the fact that while Pattison heads the poll, all his associates on the same ticket are republicans.

Nothing but Pattison presidential talk is now being heard in democratic circles, and not only is the young governor-elect now formally regarded as a presidential possibility, but it would be almost safe to prophesy that a solid democratic delegation in his interest will go from the Keystone state to the next democratic national convention.

"The two P's," said an old experienced democratic politician today, "Pattison of Pennsylvania and Palmer of Illinois, would make a powerful running team, and would take both of those states out of the republican column in the next presidential campaign."

And Republicans Kick.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—A good deal of comment, more or less unfavorable, has been created locally by the action of Mayor Cregier in telegraphing his "personal and official" congratulations to Mayor Grant upon the victory of the latter and of Tammany hall in Tuesday's election. There is a very strong expression of feeling to the effect that, while the mayor was perfectly at liberty to wire his own congratulations, it was hardly proper for him as the municipal head of a great city, in which the two political parties are about equally divided, to offer his official congratulations upon a political victory.

Fine box trade a leading feature. Chamber of Commerce cigar store. LEWIS & SWAIN.

MAYOR PECK TALKS.

Governor Elect Says the Bennett Law Will be Repealed.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—George W. Peck, Wisconsin's newly elected governor was interviewed here yesterday. "The defeat of the Bennett law," he said, "was the will of the people and as such must be taken as final. The passage of the law was all wrong and it will be repealed."

"Do you think a similar one will be enacted?"

"I do not. Nothing is needed to take its place."

In reference to Senator Spencer, Peck said he would in all likelihood be succeeded by Col. William F. Vilas.

Vilas' Ambition Realized.

MADISON, Nov. 8.—Ex-Postmaster-General Vilas will be the next United States senator from Wisconsin to succeed John C. Spooner. He will have no opposition in his own party. Vilas' ambition has filled his mind by day and soothed his dreams at night. "Not now but some day," he replied to a correspondent, who while he was presiding over the national democratic convention of 1884 in Chicago, had inadvertently addressed him as "senator." Even the postmaster-generalship did not begin to fill the measure of his ambition. His one aim in life has been to shine in the senate chamber, and the hurricane of Tuesday has blown the prize within his grasp.

One More Found.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 8.—The remains of a lady were dug out of the ruins of the Leland hotel yesterday. Only the skull was intact. The bones of the other parts of the body were found lying separate on a mattress. The remains are supposed to be those of Mary Doyle, one of the servants of the hotel. From their position it is believed that the girl sought refuge from the fire in the bed after the flames burst upon her.

The Recount Possible.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Secretary Noble has so far refused to commit himself respecting the published statement that he would eventually order a recount of the population of New York. It can be stated positively, however, that Mr. Noble will not order a recount as the case now stands; but there is an even chance, in the event of new evidence being adduced, that the application will be granted.

Could Not Stand Success.

EAU CLAIRE, Nov. 8.—Isadore Cook, elected sheriff Tuesday on the democratic ticket, died this morning from colic following the excitement caused by success of his party. He was far gone with pulmonary consumption.

It would make a stone image turn green with envy to observe the expression of profound disgust that settles down on the doctor when he hears his patient praising Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

CITY BRIEFS

The board of health held its monthly meeting at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Its chief business was to listen to the report given in The Herald yesterday.

W. N. Smith, lately in charge of the 500-barrel flour mill at Fergus Falls, is now head miller of the Duluth R. R. mill at Duluth, succeeding Wm. Fee.

The following variations in temperature were recorded at Pioneer Fuel company's office, Hotel St. Louis, 335 Superior street: 12 m. 15°; 3 p.m. 19°; 6 p.m. 18°; 9 p.m. 17°; 7 a.m. 8°; 9 a.m. 9°; 12 m. 15°; maximum 19°; minimum, 8°; daily range, 11°.

By a topographical error yesterday the number of deaths for October, 1896, was placed at two. It should have been twenty-five.

A. Bourbonniere, representing The French Guide, a publication, is interviewing French residents in behalf of it. The third edition, which is now being prepared, will contain the names, descriptions of business and addresses of business and professional men, papers, schools, societies, etc., in the United States that are essentially French.

Two births and one death were reported at the health office today.

Registered at the St. Louis today are: Frank Stowe, St. Paul; E. T. Thayer, Omaha; H. M. James, Milwaukee; E. W. Eastman, Chicago.

James R. James, formerly with the St. Louis Abstract company, is now connected with C. E. Lovett & Co.

Mrs. A. C. Batchelor is visiting friends in the East.

The Hartman Electric company expects another engine from St. Paul this week. It will be used in increasing the capacity of the West End circuit.

Business has not yet recovered from the effects of the election.

Guests at The Spalding today are F. E. Rice, J. M. Lawyer, H. C. Hope, St. Paul; J. H. Loefer and wife, Louisville, Ky.; J. T. Wicks, Rochester; W. S. Emery, Grand Rapids; Frank Baldwin, George H. Bellows, New York; Albert Hamburger, Newark, N. J.

Mr. Ernest Lachmund started his fifth free harmony class for the benefit of his pupils this afternoon. There was a good attendance.

The Vaudeville matinee was well attended.

Daniel Cox left this morning for Mexico, where he will spend the winter.

Henry Truelsen has begun attachment proceedings against Joseph Hagin, camp, the missing contractor to recover $28,000 for material furnished in the building of the new Turner hall.

First citizenship papers were issued today to Emma Halmer, Sweden, and Dortha Gulbranson, Norway.

Dr. McComb and Alden examined this afternoon the injuries of Mr. Braden, hurt in yesterday's wreck, but were unable to find out their character. They think he is not seriously injured.

Marriage licenses were issued today to Martin Wert and Annie Johnson, Luss Azinick and Jennie Yosef, Wilhelm Johnson and Maria Olson.

The largest upright Gabel piano, second hand, but in good condition, for $222. Price new, $450.

DULUTH MUSIC CO.
Not an Avenue on Which the Boys Can Slide.

Chief McQuade has issued orders to the different officers to stop all persons, old or young, male or female, from sliding down hill on any of the avenues of the city.

This is a wise move and one that will be appreciated by pedestrians. Later in the season the chief will probably designate an avenue in the East End and one in the West End of the city for coasting purposes.

Weekly Grain Movement.
Several large vessels are at the elevators today for grain cargoes, if they complete loads it is estimated there will be shipped today 135,000 bus of wheat, making the total shipments for the week 540,000 bus of wheat, 43,000 of barley, and 36,000 bus of flax. Estimating that our receipts of wheat today will be 95,000 bus, receipts for the week will aggregate 580,000 bus, of which probably 50,000 went direct to the mills, thus reflecting a small decrease in our stock of wheat in store during the past week.

The Dry Goods Trade.
B. Silberstein today denied the report that he was to enter into a copartnership with a Minneapolis house. "There will be a big dry goods store here and I will be in it," said Mr. Silberstein. "Mr. Bondy has not made up his mind yet as to the future, but he will not open a store in Superior as a morning paper has said. He is anxious to go to Europe for a year and I presume he will go, but he will probably retain an interest in the business. No definite plans have yet been made."

Transactions in Northwestern Wheat Markets.

THE WEEKLY GRAIN MOVEMENT.

Causes Which Tend to Influence Outside Points; Prices on the Duluth Board Today.

We close the week here today with a decidedly lower and declining wheat market. Opening about steady at last night's closing figures, the market ruled dull with a brief period of firmness when an advance of $\frac{1}{4}$ was secured on May wheat, after which the whole list of cash and futures was weak and heavy. Several round lots of spot No. 1 hard and No. 1 northern wheats changed hands. An unfavorable bank statement and tight money matters in New York and failures among some of the Chicago grain operators, were given as the cause of the weakness in other markets.

Cash No. 1 hard opened unchanged at 99 $\frac{1}{2}$, declined $\frac{1}{2}$; several round lots changed hands, closed at 99. Cash No. 1 northern opened $\frac{1}{4}$ off, in demand at 95 $\frac{1}{2}$. No. 2 northern dull, a few cars of No. 2 grades selling at 83. Regular closed at 83 $\frac{1}{2}$. November 1 hard neglected, no transactions, closed at 90 nominal. November No. 1 northern no trading, closed at 94. December No. 1 hard opened unchanged at 100 with fair trading at 95 $\frac{1}{2}$, declined to 90 bid. December No. 1 northern dull, no transactions, closed lower at 92 $\frac{1}{2}$ bid. May No. 1 hard ruled dull, closed lower at 100 $\frac{1}{2}$ bid. May No. 1 northern dull and neglected, no transactions, closed to sell at 90 $\frac{1}{2}$ bid.

Local Stocks.

Owing, probably as much as anything to the elections, local stocks have been quiet this week and few sales are reported. Among those were twenty shares. Highland Improvement company at 40, and fifteen State Bank, Duluth, at 110.

QUIET WEEK IN REALTY.

Not Very Much Doing in the Local Dirt Market.

A TALK ON UNIFORM PRICES.

Which Would be a Most Excellent Scheme if it Could be Brought About.

There has been but one all-absorbing topic of interest this week, election, and although real estate has not been neglected, there has not been such a heavy movement as might be desired. There has, however, been a good inquiry and prices remain firm and steady. Real estate men generally are confident that the market will remain firm and they have no fear of a setback from the recent flurry. Across, that commodity which has been the delight of the amateur real estate dealer, and those amateurs who are anxious to make a quick turn on a small investment have been in only fair demand; the past week, still quite a number of good sales have been made. It is not because investors do not want more acres that more sales are not made, but because it is extremely difficult to secure them in desirable locations. Several sales in 40-15, one a $10,000 deal, have been made, and a few acres near New Duluth and front on have changed owners.

Duluth proper has been a good place for investment during the week. In the Second Division two $10,000 and one $15,000 deals have been closed and in the Third Division one $10,000 and several smaller deals. Inside property is always good stuff to buy and prices are advancing steadily. Endion, Portland and Harrison divisions are regarded as gilt-edge property and a number of sales have been made.

Since the Clover Hill addition was put on the market nearly $50,000 worth of property has been sold and nearly the entire plot has been sold. Other property on the motor line is in good demand. In West Duluth realty has been the most active in the Fourth and Fifth divisions and Grassy Point addition.

"People who deal in any extent in real estate," said an old broker, "often wish it had a fixed value, like dry goods or some other staple article. One of the greatest drawbacks to the business is this uncertainty about a price. A man owns a piece of property which he wants to sell. Naturally he wants to get as good a price as it is possible for him to get, and in self defense is obliged to name a figure higher than the actual value of the land, simply because almost everybody does the same. It is so common in Duluth for buyers and sellers to haggle over a price that everybody who is accustomed to buy real estate here insists upon a reduction of the price named, even if it appears to be the actual value of the property. I have a deal now pending which illustrates the point which I wish to make. A customer of mine has a piece of property which is extremely anxious to sell and set a figure $1,200 in excess of the amount he wanted to get for the property, expecting to shade down to the price demanded by a buyer. I found some one who wanted to buy and, just as was expected, he insisted the price was too high, and the owner threw off the $1200 as a compromise. The buyer would get a bargain at that figure, but he is not satisfied with that and refuses to pay any more than an amount, which is less by $100 than the value of the property. All this time is wasted and we will have to hunt for another buyer."

"Such is the experience of every real estate dealer. We are all anxious for some reform in the matter of values, which are estimated differently by everybody who has anything to do with the business. Different localities on the same street are worth more money than others, but owners do not take this into consideration. A sale may be made at $100 a foot, and come to the knowledge of a man who owns on the same street half a mile away. He at once values his property at $100 a foot, when it may be worth only $50. Because the surroundings may be such as will injure the salable value of his property, while in the first instance the surroundings are such that there is an active demand for it. If there was only some way possible for making an exact value of property it would be a great boon not only to the real estate dealers but to the owners and buyers of property as well. With some fixed standard there would be less possibility for unprincipled persons to cheat inexperienced buyers and sellers by the use of the schemes which are too frequently practiced. It would be a grand thing for our business if, when we gave a price, it would be generally understood that there would be no deviation, and the same condition would exist as in other lines of business, where a price of the same article of any classification remains at a certain figure, and the buyer knows he can either take it or leave it alone."

HOW YOUNG MEN PROPOSE.

Words of Wisdom From a Woman Upon an Important Subject.

Mary Gay Humphreys, in an article on "The Wedding Season," in Harper's Bazar, has this to say regarding the first preliminary step toward a wedding:

For almost all the conventionalities of life the forms are prescribed, but no one has ever presumed to issue a handbook of proposals.

The terms in which a young man asks a young woman to be his wife he must formulate for himself. To it he brings all that his love, hope and imagination and a touch of fire can give. Of this eloquence and ardor there remains no echo, except in the heart of his bride.

Now and then in after years we learn how such an understanding has been arrived at, and the reminiscence is alive with interest and novelty. In Queen Victoria's diary she tells of the wooing of Princess Victoria by the Crown Prince of Germany, which the blushing girl at once hastened to confide to her mother; and it is as heartfelt and natural as if

THE CHESTER TERRACE.

One of the Finest Rows of Dwellings Duluth Has.

A FEW LATE BUILDING NOTES.

Methodist Church Plans Decided Upon; A Duluth Flour Warehouse in Buffalo.

The Smith row of apartment houses on First street and Thirteenth avenue east is the most complete in modern convenience and costliest of any of Duluth's fine rows. The row was built by H. A. and F. W. Smith, its cost being about $90,000. There are fifteen separate houses in the structure, which extends for 300 feet on First street, cornering on Thirteenth avenue east. The architecture is of the Romanesque type, the first story being of brownstone, the other two of red pressed brick, with facings and trimmings of brown stone. Staircases and closets are numerous, and each apartment is provided with bathrooms. The arched front entrance opens into a large hall—which is really a sitting room—while a parlor, diningroom and kitchen make up the plan of the first floor. Light to the hall comes from a well, windowed with colored glass. The other two floors contain three chambers and large hallway each.

The interior finish is in hardwoods of different kinds, and carved mantels grace each hall and parlor. The houses are furnished with modern conveniences, and the latest improved electric appliances. The heating is done from boilers situated under the row at Thirteenth avenue, from which steam pipes carry heat to all the apartments.

Clover Hill Division.

A FEW LATE BUILDING NOTES.

Methodist Church Plans Decided Upon; A Duluth Flour Warehouse in Buffalo.

Comparatively few people in Duluth realize what a revolution in values will occur when we have our electric street car service. When a business man can board a car on Superior street and in twelve minutes get off at

CLOVER HILL,

Will he not prefer to build there on fifty-foot lots, costing $700 or $800, to walking up to Fourth or Fifth street where lots will cost him $3000 to $4000 each?

Will he not buy two lots, having then a nice lawn, and put the money he saves on the purchase of a site into a better house than he could otherwise afford to build?

Everyone who has seen and examined

CLOVER HILL

Pronounces it unexcelled for location.

It commands a good view of the Lake, the City, the Harbor, the Superiors, while Spirit Lake shimmers in the distance.

The property is platted topographically, and every lot is staked.

Woodland Avenue is eighty feet wide, is nicely graded and has a good sidewalk.

Colorado Avenue is now graded up to

and we have a force of men now grading other streets in the division.

It is convenient to the Endion school, which is the best in the city.

We would like to have you see it, whether you want to buy or not. Come in and we will gladly drive out and show it to you.

Notice.
That cold weather is coming and that we are now prepared to send to your house (free of charge) and take measurements for storm, sash and doors, and houses, make them and put them up on the shortest notice, guaranteeing a good fit, at the lowest prices.

Everything regarding Chicago will be doubly interesting to the general public for the next two or three years, and it is therefore natural that the varied features of the young giant should be more or less discussed both at home and abroad. That is just what Chicago wants. That suits her. That is what she puts her various millions into an exposition for. (I should have referred to her as a giantess above instead of a giant, for I see that I have fallen into the feminine pronoun since. However, we will let that pass.)

The stranger should go at once from the depot to the Auditorium. He will save time by this, for then he can answer those who ask him if he has seen the Auditorium and answer affirmatively, and be done with it; but if he should wait until he has done something else he will be more or less broken in upon this by inquiry. Later on I may speak of this great structure, with the unfortunate name, but I shall not have space at this time, owing to the fact that I purpose speaking a word or two regarding the stock yards.

IN THE ABATTOIR.

All sorts of honest and successful industry are honorable, whether it be through the avenue of literature or dressed beef. Success is the mark of public approval, and continued success the certificate of integrity. It was honorable for Gen. Grant to canvass for a book or tan skins. It was honorable for Vanderbilt to farm it or run a ferry. It was honorable for Gould to survey Delaware county with a wheelbarrow and a fine-tooth comb. It was honorable for the older Astor to skin muskrats and swap brass collar buttons to the Indians for beaver skins if the noble red man suffered for collar buttons. What I dislike is for the descendant of Mr. Astor to cultivate such a big robust and malignant one of hunter. He visited Chicago some time ago and stated in an interview, which he had arranged for as soon as he could attend to it, that the people of Chicago frequently sat on the front steps and that visitors were met at the door by the housemaid. Thereby covertly intimating that Mr. Astor is in the habit of answering the door himself.

Possibly, however, Mr. Astor keeps a man who answers the door and does nothing else hardly. That may be, but it is only a few brief autumns since the brave and sturdy mother of the Astor race came around from the spring house to greet the guest in her stocking feet, and the greeting was none the less cordial eyer for a' that and a' that. We should not be held responsible for the errors and acquired snobbery of our grandchild, but the deep recesses of the unborn future there may come some day a great-grandchild who will inherit my wealth and name, and while I squirm about in my close fitting tomb he may have a valet to dress him in the morning and train up his whiskers on a trelis, and he may visit Chicago, where his ancestors had been so generously and so hospitably treated years before, and when he goes home to England or Tuxedo he may send for a reporter and tell him how his refined nature was shocked all the time he was away.

Glancing hastily from Mr. Astor to the Chicago stock yards, I will say that few realize, or can do so, the magnitude of this one institution of Chicago. We can hardly imagine 1280 acres of ground covered with meat, to speak plainly; 1280 acres almost covered at least with the business of converting live stock into food for man. I had never before visited this institution, and so I went there all dressed up, in order to make an impression on the working classes.

Shortly after my arrival it came on for to rain, and having come on for that purpose it removed its coat, suspenders and hat, and rained more earnestly and more vociferously than anywhere else I ever saw it outside of Ireland. I wore a frock coat, patent leather shoes and a silk hat. After a while the mud, mire and hair, to say nothing of lard and disarranged liver, gave me a blasé look that attracted attention when I got back on State street. One man whom I did not know asked me if there had been any trouble or a strike at the stock yards.

The visitor is apt to go first to the slaughtering department. I remember butchering day at home when I was a boy. It was different from this. We had generally about three shots to kill, and we waited most always until the weather was so cold that we could not plow. Then we butchered. We began about daylight to heat water for scalding purposes. Then we climbed the fence and began a series of uncalled for yet bitter and personal attacks on the elder maternal hog, while her ear piercing squeals rent the sky and her hot blood splattered our neat little overalls. All day we alternately scorched ourselves or froze to death, and at night three flabby, waxen remains perfectly devoid of bowels of compassion or other viscera, piled open so that the November wind could sough through their pulseless forms or dally with their leaf lard through the long and frigid hours, hung in a row. Then came the days when all through the dear old homestead the smell of nice hot lard sought out every corner and even pervaded the beautiful brown linen Sabbath school suit, which caught and retained the ravishing fragrance for years after.

Here you hear in the distant and the somber depths of the building a smothered wail ever and anon. You go toward it and find a brisk young man in tall rubber boots standing in a bloody stall with a flashing blade in his hand, while near him a big pan to which is attached a long handle catches the hot, fresh tide of life as it spurts with a purple impulse following the long, keen blade. About every fifteen seconds, while we stood there, a new subject came up heels first out of the big slaughter pen, as a log is pulled out of the pond of a big saw mill, and with a plunge of the knife as it passed on another swung into position head down, and the unerring steel struck the same point forward of the shoulder and to the left of the windpipe. No experiments were made. The young butcher's style of vaccination always took. I remember once, years ago, my father went away on business, to serve on the petit jury, I think, and told me to kill the pig.

It was easy to say that. He might also have included other friends of the family, but he did not think of it perhaps. However, I began the most elaborate preparations and tried to nerve myself up to it by frequent recourse to hard cider, for I had never personally shed innocent blood before. The pig would probably weigh about 160 pounds, and was not fierce until he found out that I seemed set on mutilating him without any apparent cause. Then he broke down the fence, ate up a small goddess of liberty which I had once had tattooed on my leg, so that I could be identified in case I should run away and go to sea and stumble against a watery grave, as I had intended to do at that time.

The animal wandered away into a corn field and we tracked him by his bloody footsteps. We overtook him along toward noon and my younger brother held him down while I made an incision in the neck that proved fatal. As we started to drag the animal home his head fell off. I state this in order to show that sincerity and inflexibility of purpose had already begun to show themselves even at this early age.

WITH MY FRIEND M'ALLISTER.

After some delay we succeeded in removing the bristles also some of the pelt and I began the delicate operation of prying into and exposing the animal's complex works. I guess it would not be best to describe this, for it gives me great pain to recall it. I only know that I cannot see yet what he had ever done with so many of them or who could have ever arranged such a large assortment in such a little space. They came pouring out like a cataract of new and strange vitals, with crotched borders on them, and altogether I felt saddened and depressed. I went over to a neighbor and got him to come and assist me. I told him I had operated once or twice on a hen but a hen travels light. She does not overburden herself with vitals that way. Just give a hen two or three little fixings of that kind and she will go around perfectly contented. But it is not so with a hog. I never saw a hog that knew when he had enough of anything.

In the early days they used to assess people here at the stock yards for beer money, and then if they did not get it they would pelt the visitor with fragments of liver and such little testimonials of respect as that. So it was a custom even among temperance people to give them the money. It was so until one day an English capitalist, who owned a large share of one packing house got a steer's lung down the back of his neck and eighteen feet of sausage wound around his silk hat, and he spoke of it in terms of resentment to the superintendent. Then it was changed.

The sausage machine is one of the most intelligent that I ever saw. The Havana wrapper is pulled on over a metallic spout, and then by a terrific force exerted above the sausage meat reservoir the whole thing is pushed through this spout into the bivalve, and yard upon yard of this delicious bivalve is reeled off while you wait.

One house takes the lives of 2400 pigs per day, and they are chilled and ready for the table by night. Mr. Armour personally killed 1,500,000 hogs last year, not in a spirit of revenge, but in order to improve the condition of mankind and keep the rude and disagreeable wolf from his own door.

Prying a little into his business affairs yesterday, I found that a business of $35,000,000 last year. He also paid out $3,500,000 in wages. With a piece of chalk I figured on the back of an oil painting in Mr. Armour's pleasant office that, allowing each year the same number of animals killed last year, say 1,500,000 hogs, 650,000 cattle and 350,000 sheep at a low estimate, in five years Mr. Armour, single handed, could encircle the globe with a continuous girdle of intestines!

What a thought! What food for thought also!

But as Mr. Armour said in our talk, when I asked him for a little recipe for becoming a millionaire: "Here is the secret of the success of the Big Four. It is our system of carefully utilizing everything. Here is a glass jar containing hoof meal. That is valuable for its ammonia. It is made from the despoiled hoof of the animal after the neatsoot oil and other toilet articles have been removed. Here is a jar of white phosphates, made from the pith of the horn. This industry will decrease if the de-horning of cattle grows, but probably it will not appreciably. Here is a sort of glue made from the tips of the ears and nose of deceased cattle which dies a violent death at our house. Here is a substance used in great quantities by the brewers. Some time in the old days before your reformation you have noticed when you pulled your beer glass off the top of the table that it had a tendency to stick. That is a gelatinous substance which we furnish the brewers in great quantities. It is made from the thin white film which lies between the bone and skin of the head, for instance, and if nothing more harmful goes into the beer it will never kill people off at a big rate. Then there is a jar of dried blood. Some is used for purifying sugar and considerable is sent to New Orleans, but more is used in making buttons. So you see we make our money by saving it. Not long ago a Frenchman came to me and told me that I was losing a million or so unnecessarily. I froze to him till he told me how. We found that our big reservoirs containing water, and in which we give the beef a bath to sort of cool it and close up the pores, had been emptied into the Chicago river for years, carrying with it the bouquet of the beef. We now condense and compress this nutritious juice till we get the most stimulating and the most delectable extract of beef that ever gladdened the fortifying stomach of an invalid or a child."

And so it goes. It seems that an adult steer can afford more real, pure joy by his death than any other animal, unless it be the wife-beater. I am told that when a wife-beater sits for his death mask, on a still day, you can hear the angels applauding.

At Swift's establishment they have two old animals, one a steer called Judas and the other a sheep called Iscariot. Each of these animals has a winning way with his set, and is utilized for the purpose of leading his fellows into the slaughter pen even against their better judgment. They have done this for years, and though the smell of blood naturally repels them, they listen to the siren voices of these two heartless brutes who preserve their own lives at the sacrifice of thousands of others, and death is their portion.

Some day I will again visit the stock yards. I hope to select a rainy day, and shall hope also to take my friend Ward McAllister with me by the hand, dressed in his best suit of clothes.

Skipping gently through the ruins of former beef creatures and the tottering relics of nude hogs that have been snatched from the glad sunlight and yielding mud of Illinois to deluge the abattoirs of this great commercial town, with their bright young blood, I would like to yark the great parlor ornament clothed in a white flannel suit and his unwavering admiration of himself, while these young butchers, pinned to his coat-tails and upon yards of the future home of the sausage. It may be a cruel wish, but when a man outshines me socially I cannot help it; I almost hate him.

Doctoring at the Drug Stores.

Chicago Tribune: There is a new way of doctoring in the city. I don't mean that there are new remedies and treatments. There are young doctors whose business is not such as warrants an office, and they go about like doctors in the olden times, from pillar to post. Take it in this store, for example. I know of four young doctors who come in here at different hours and meet patients. Then the doctors go from here to other drug stores, so that by the time the day is over they have traveled a good many miles. The patients they see do not pay much individually; they can't afford it. But they are sick and must be healed, and they are not the sort of people who go to hospitals. It is a good thing for the sick who can't afford to have doctors come to the house; it is a good thing for young doctors who are not able to pay office rent, and it is a good thing for the drug store, for they almost invariably get to sell the medicines that are prescribed.

Oil For Hardwood Floors.

Katherine Armstrong in The New York Observer gives the following suggestions: "If the housekeeper prefers stained floors, the following is an excellent recipe and easily applied: Take one-third of turpentine and two-thirds boiled linseed oil with a little 'Japanese dryer' added. Buy a can of burnt sienna. This gives a rich, reddish brown. Mix it very gradually with the paint, having it quite thin, so it will run readily. Lay it on with a good-sized brush, stroking the brush the way of the grain of the wood. Put on several coats, allowing each to perfectly dry. Lastly, give the floor a good coat of varnish, and when well dry it will be found as satisfactory as a stained floor can be, and easily kept clean. The varnish gives it the appearance of real wood polished. It only requires to be dusted and wiped off with an oily cloth."

Miss Lillian Blanche Pearing, whose magazine articles and poems are well known, is entirely blind. She is a graduate of the Union College of Law in Chicago and has been admitted to the Illinois bar.

Lifeboat Models.

Testing the various kinds of lifeboats by means of models of reduced size has been proposed by J. Corbelle, an English naval architect, who has spent twenty years in collecting drawings and valuable information concerning the chief types of boats now in use. By his plan an ordinary self-righting lifeboat, 34 feet long and 7½ feet wide, would be represented by a model 1½ feet long and 3½ feet wide, weighing 500 pounds. The cost of half a dozen such models, representing the most important and diverse forms of lifeboats, would be about $1000, and $500 more would remunerate the crews.

THE WAYS OF WOMEN.

News and Notes of Interest for the Feminine World.

SOME OF REDFERN'S LATEST GOWNS.

Gossip of Various Natures for the Ladies; A Pretty Idea in Trimming.

NEW YORK streets are now filled to overflowing with a bustling throng of shoppers and promenaders, arrayed for the main part in their newest fall toggery; and of course in such a crowd there is every variety of wrap as well as great diversity in the gowns. The trim Newmarket retains its popularity with those women who have in reality or in their own complacent imaginings, fine figures, and it is certainly a shapely and becoming garment. The long dolman that merely suggests the feminine curves and contours is still in favor for evening and carriage use and for elderly women. Then there is the revival of the little, dressy wrap with the short dolman back and the wide sleeves, but with long tab fronts. This and the handsome Henri Deux capes are for calling and afternoon receptions, and for the theater. Lastly we have the short cloth coat, which although universally worn, is pre-eminently the thing for girls and very young women. And of this variety one encounters a dozen to every one of the other style of outside garments. Some are very elaborate with braid and embroidery and fur, or with velvet sleeves and vest, but the majority of them are of the plainer more serviceable sort, such as the original Redfern tailor coat first launched into popularity some years ago. The first is a three-quarter coat of seal brown faced cloth opening over a very long, plain waistcoat of mastic cloth or corduroy. The cuffs are bordered with a band of the light material.

This other coquettish damsel has attired herself in a tight double-breasted coat of hunter's green melton, with a double row of large horn buttons down the front and smaller ones on the cuffs. The collar is wide and rolls over on to the breast. Convenient slit pockets are on the hips.

Whist Becoming a Ladies' Game. Whist was never more fashionable than now. It used to be a man's game, now it is a girl's game. At the New York Ladies' club special teachers are hired to instruct whist parties. The lesson is taken in the morning between 10 and 2, and on practice days the novice pays $5 an hour and plays under the teacher's supervision. A special study is made of finger, hand and elbow athletics for grace effects. Frills of lace are nicely gathered in the sleeve to get a shadow dance on gleaming white arms; bracelets are set well up between wrist and elbow, but not a tinkle of a bangle is permissible, and instead of the flash of diamonds and the glint of pearls the very loveliest hands are decorated with a single ring of—guess what—narrow red ribbon tied in a butterfly bow.

A LATE ROSE.

[By Julia C. R. Dow.]
I sent a little maiden
To pluck for me a rose,
The sweetest and the fairest
That in the garden grows—
A blush-rose, proud and tender,
Swaying in dainty splendor
Where yellow sunshine glows.

Back came the little maiden
With drooping, downcast head,
And this is what she said:
"I find no sweet, blush-rose,
In all the garden closes.
There are no summer roses,
It must be they are dead!"

Then bent I to the maiden
And touched her sliding hair—
Dear heart! in all the garden
Nothing but to fair!

"Nay," said I, "let the roses
Die in the garden closes
Whenever fate disposes,
If I this rose may wear!"

The Latest Painting Fad.

The amateur girl artist, who must work off her impulses at the end of a paint brush might resort to the painting of candles which are very much used just now and have advantage of being consumed in a night, instead of being hung about the walls like plaques to barrow the souls of beholders with their crudeness of coloring and falseness of drawing. Oil paints are used, and some simple floral design is selected which requires but a few strokes of the brush to produce. The colors selected harmonize with the general scheme of decoration. Sometimes spiral ribbon of color is produced by winding a tape about the candle and painting the interstices by means of color deposited on a pad of wadding.

A Man's Ideal of Woman.

Said an Eastern man of fashion the other day: "To my mind the ideal woman is like the face of the universe. We don't want women who can reason and work things out. We want dear, delightful, frivolous things who float by us in butterfly fashion, making us no end of trouble and inducing us to be willing to kill each other for their sakes. The time when woman was at her best, to my way of thinking, was in the middle ages, when she sat up in the window of a turret castle, threw her handkerchief down to one knight and a hated rival rushed at him as he grasped it, and they flew at each other and knocked their tin hats off, the hated rival was stretched out stiff and cold, and the maiden in the turret applauded her gallant knight and believed that he had done well. The ideal female is a mental hermaphrodite."

Empress Elizabeth's Despondency.

The Empress of Austria, before starting on her recent yachting trip, distributed to her most intimate friends all her court costumes and her light-colored dresses. She remarked with pathos that she would never feel gay enough to wish to wear colored dresses, nor did she intend to go to any more court festivities, now that her daughter is married. Many of the dresses were very elegant, and the fortunate possessors declare they will not wear them, but keep them as mementoes of their beautiful empress.

The Fault of the Typewriter.

Chicago Tribune: I must tell you how my typewriter came near losing me some of my best friends. He had written me asking me to do a certain thing if I could do so without too much trouble. He assured me in the letter that he didn't want to put me out in the least. It happened that I could not do what he asked me to do, although it was not on account of any lack of disposition on my part. In addressing him a reply I did so on my typewriter. I met him a few days after, and he said that I had not disguised the fact that his request was annoying and he desired to apologize. I saw that he was hurt and upon my pressing him for the reason he pulled out my letter and handed it to me. He addressed him "My Dear Brother." That typewriter had dropped out the "r" in the address. I had meant to address him "My Dear Brother." It was a long time before I could make that man believe that I hadn't considered him a brother instead of a brother.

Jealous Femininity.

Chicago Herald: There are two rival "salons" in town, one of which is presided over by an autocrat and martial little dowager who does not hesitate to tell her guests that if they go to her rival's parlors they will find her's closed to them. One night, having spread her wings over a band of young people, much as a motherly hen gathers her chickens together, she smiled into a drawing room with great empressment. Suddenly she caught sight of her rival comfortably seated on a sofa, and eyeing her with quiet amusement. The tail of the little procession was not yet within the drawing room, the dowager had scarcely grasped her hostess's hand when she discovered the presence of her enemy. "Children," she said in tragic tones to her charges, "this is no place for us. Good evening, Mrs. [Name], and turning she swept her protégés into the hall and out of the house, leaving her rival in possession of the field.

An Experiment that Failed.

A few years ago two well-known writers in the neighborhood of Harvard college endeavored to evince a practical turn. They lived near each other—so near that when the water in the supply pipes in the house of one was frozen they conceived the idea of introducing the much-needed fluid before the plumber arrived by conveying it from the house of the other in an ordinary rubber hose. The weather was of the zero kind, and the same cold that froze the water in the leaden pipes within the house froze the water in the rubber hose which lay upon the snow without. It is hardly necessary to add that a mass of icy snow and a broken hose were the only results of this novel aqueduct.—San Francisco Argonaut.

Where Manners Didn't Count.

Fond Mother—John, dear, I was told today that our daughters had the most engaging manners imaginable. Aren't you glad?
John (grimly)—Humph! The engaging seems, so far, to be entirely confined to their manners.

DULUTH MINISTERS MEET

Elect Officers and Begin Business for the Year.

THE STATE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Duluth Methods in Iowa; Some News of the Religious Field in General.

THE Ministers' association met for the first time since June with Rev. E. M. Noyes last Monday. The paper by Rev. Dr. Ringland was a scholarly discussion of the Book of Malachi. Rev. Dr. Weston of Pennsylvania was present and Rev. F. T. Rouse of West Superior was also a guest of the association. The officers for the new year are: President, Dr. Ringland; secretary and treasurer, Rev. G. H. MacClelland; executive committee, Revs. Noyes and Barker. The association meets once a month at the home of some member, and a lunch is served after the papers and discussions. Five new members were elected at this meeting.

It was decided to hold a union Thanksgiving service at the Congregational church, and Rev. G. H. Kemp of the Endion Baptist church was invited to preach the sermon.

The W. C. T. U. are urging the pastors of the various churches to preach, on the subject of "Sabbath Observance." That, or something which will stir up Duluth a little in this respect is certainly needed.

The missionary rally of all the women's societies at the head of the lake, promises to be an interesting occasion. The session will begin at 9:30 next Friday morning at Pilgrim Congregational church, and continue all day. Lunch will be served in the parlor at noon. There will be music by a ladies' quartet, and several interesting addresses are promised.

It is said that Chaplain McCabe has recently written to Col. Ingorsoll as follows: "My Dear Colonel: Ten years ago you made this prediction: 'In ten years from today there will be two theaters built to every church.' The time is up. The Methodist church is now building four churches a day, one every six hours. Please make a prediction for next year."

Appropos to this in Mr. Moody's remark to a Boston reporter last year: "I do not find as much infidelity now in a month in questions which are asked by the young men after a meeting as I used to find five years ago in one day. Then the young men were full of Ingorsollism and thought that Christianity was worn out. But they have found that there is nothing to infidelity. It tears down, but does not build up. It does not give anything. This is part of the same movement which we see in France. The men there are going back to the churches."

The Y. M. C. A. is making arrangements for its annual conference, which comes the latter part of this month. It is hoped to secure either Dr. Wayland Hoyt or Dr. D. J. Burrell of Minneapolis, to make the address of the evening. Either would be gladly heard here on such an occasion.

Dr. Dunn, formerly of the First M. E. church here, is said to be arranging for the publication of a parish paper in connection with his new charge in Burlington, Iowa, which he will doubtless make as successful as The Church News was here.

Rev. B. Fay Mills, the evangelist, has been holding a series of meetings in Oberlin, Ohio, with remarkable results. Nearly a thousand have sent their names to the pastors as desirous of beginning a Christian life, and the interest is unabated.

The new pastors in Duluth churches are taking hold of their work with commendable vigor and are making most favorable impressions.

Active preparations are beginning for the fourth annual state convention of the Christian Endeavor societies, which will be held in Rochester, Nov. 14, 15, 16. The number of delegates expected to be present is larger than the attendance upon any former convention, as during the last year the society has been making a very rapid growth. Free entertainment will be provided for all delegates, and the committee is making plans to entertain about 500 in this manner. General Secretary J. W. Baer, of the national society, and also the state officers will be present. The convention sermon will be preached by Rev. E. N. McKaig, D. D., of Minneapolis, on Saturday morning, Nov. 15, and on the evening of the same day General Secretary Baer will address the Minnesota endearers. Reduced rates will be secured by the state secretary on all the principal railroad lines.

Women Doctors.

Exchange: This is the pleasant way in which an eminent English physician, Sir William Gull, speaks of medical women: "I think one ought always to help women studying medicine in every possible way. I have the greatest respect for the ladies now practicing in London and feel sure that they must fill far more satisfactorily than the average medical man could pretend to do certain posts. A young child at first would always rather be attended and opened upon by a woman than by a man, though they get wonderfully soon accustomed to 'the doctor.'"

"Co-Jock: Co-Jock!"

Boston Transcript: The ordinary call to horses is "Co-Jock! co-jock!" It is explained that many horses were formerly named John, which, in peasant English is "Co-Jock," then, simply means "Come, John." It is said that the use of the word "jockey," meaning a rider or driver of race horses, comes from the frequency with which horses were once named Jock, the word passing in time from the animal to his rider.

THE CAPTAIN'S DREAM.

[Andrew Lang in Longmans's Magazine.]
He looked somewhat crazed, the captain,
With his singular rap face;
And his eyes had a strange luster,
Which was the result of grace.

He was very safe for glory,
But he didn't seem to care,
Said he wouldn't be contented
If the whole world wasn't there.

For his watchword was salvation,
And he seemed to find a spark
Of a soul in every sinner,
Though they strove to keep it dark.

Till one day death's hand upon him,
His fierce ardor sought to break—
Laid him low in the poor attic
He had lived in for our sake.

Came a night when we stood watching,
Two or three shut him there,
Suddenly he bid us bear him
Just to breath the cool night air.

So, we took the dying captain
To the window, moving slow;
For we feared his heart would fall him
At the evil sight below.

For 'twas drawing on to midnight,
The New Year was at its worst,
Just a maze of drunken clamor,
God-forsaken and accursed.

And the yellow lamps were flaring
High through that strange market place—
But there fell another luster
On the captain's wasted face.

Aye, and from the garret window,
As he looked into the town,
He beheld another city,
Where the stream of life ran down.

And he murmured, looking downward:
"In fine times, clean times, now,
Multitudes which none can number,
And the Lord God is their life!"

Buying His Own Coffin at a Discount.

Rome (N. Y.) Sentinel: A man worth his thousands of dollars, living in Ellensburg, came to town recently and went to the undertaking rooms of Overton & Fish and asked if they had any old fashioned coffins and if they would sell them at the old prices. Being answered in the affirmative he chose one, for which he paid $5 and took it home with him.

A Sole Leather Calculation.

St. Louis Republic: There are 300,000 of people that walk about the streets of London daily, and in so doing they wear away a ton of leather particles from their boots and shoes. This would in a year form a leather belt six inches wide and one-fourth of an inch thick long enough to reach from London to New York. The amount of disintegrated leather and twenty-five cents a pound would amount to $25,000. Reduced to a strap one inch in width it would reach more than once around the world.

Some very careful and successful housekeepers insist that a frying pan should never be washed. Their method is to scour it thoroughly with salt the moment it has been used and set it away for the next service.

By Return Mail.

Just after Andrew Johnson had vacated the presidential seat the managers of the Simpson County (Ky.) Agricultural & Mechanical association decided that it would be a great advertisement to have the old gentleman attend the fair. "We don't expect him on Saturday," said the manager, "for on that day we shall have a pretty big crowd anyhow. Wednesday will be the day. I will write to the ex-president."

The following letter was sent to Mr. Johnson:

"GREAT SIR—The people of the wonderful county of Simpson, feeling a great interest in one of America's most gifted sons, have decided to invite you to be present at our fair grounds on Wednesday, the 6th day of October, where they wish to shake your hand. Please let me know by return mail. He let them know by return mail. The old gentleman turned the letter over and wrote the following:

"I am no menagerie. A. JOHNSON."

A Sudden Move.

Munsey's Weekly: Stranger (in Iowa)—Does a man named Stackhouse live here?
Resident—No. He moved into the next state.
Stranger—Well, I never. Told me he had settled here for life. Must have moved on an impulse, didn't he?
Resident—No. On a cyclone."

Bonds of Brotherhood.

Van Dorn's Magazine: "Do you know the prisoner?" asked his honor of a witness in a Western court room.
"Know him!" was the response. "Why, judge, him an' me is like brothers; we've shared the same cell many a night."

Aerating Milk.

The New York dairy commissioner says that milk can be sent further and will be in a better state for use when aerated by the temperature of the atmosphere than when chilled and sent on ice. The process is very simple, and consists in allowing the milk to run from one receptacle to another in fine streams, so as to come thoroughly in contact with pure air. It should not be done in the air is purest. If nothing better is at hand, let it run through an old collar or two or three times. A better arrangement is a set of perforated pans one above the other, through which the milk may run in fine streams. It is held that tyrotoxin poison is generated in cream for the want of proper aeration, and that un-aerated milk is the great enemy of infants and the great cause of cholera infantum.

THE ITALIAN METHOD

How a Minneapolis Fruit Dealer Punishes Children.

NEWS OF THE GREAT NORTHWEST.

Minneapolis Census Cases Postponed by the Government; Other Northwest News.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 10.—[Special to The Herald.]—Sergeant Gustafson of the third precinct station, yesterday brought a 7-year-old boy, named Johnny Braco, to the Central station. The boy has been living with his uncle, Charles Braco, a peddler, 1415 Eleventh avenue south, and neighbors in the vicinity charge that he is guilty of gross cruelty to the boy. The little fellow's legs and body show the marks of the horse-whip, which it is charged Braco uses to administer punishment. A complaint has been preferred against Braco. If all accounts be true, it is one of the most terrible cases of cruelty to children that has yet been exposed. The father of the S. P. C. A. worked on it all day yesterday, getting the witnesses and evidence. "Braco is a fruit dealer," said he this morning. "He gave this boy a lot of fruit to pick over and sort in a given time. The boy failed to accomplish the task and was horribly beaten in consequence. Braco with a sharp knife cut off the lad's fingernails below the quick so that every finger bled and covered his body with blood. Then he tied the boy fast and gagged him so that he could make no outcry. Braco then ordered his wife to beat the boy. She did so lustily, and when she grew tired he took the whip and completed the flagellation. Then he turned the boy out of doors and threatened if he ever came back to cut his heart out. That night and for three succeeding nights he had slept in the brush, afraid to go back home. Friday night was bitter cold, and he was in a terrible condition when we found him Saturday. The neighbors had fed him but he had slept out doors. His body was black and blue from head to foot, and in many places the skin had been broken by the beating he had received. Braco had also beaten an older boy badly but this was the worst case and we brought the prosecution on it."

The Census Cases.
ST. PAUL, Nov. 10.—[Special to The Herald.]—George M. Baxter, special United States attorney for the prosecution of the census cases, says that the cases will not be called at the December term at Winona, as expected, owing to governmental reasons. The cases will probably be heard at the January term in St. Paul or the March term in Minneapolis.

PRACTICAL RETALIATION.
British Columbia Follows the Fool Example Set by Montana.
SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 10.—Great indignation is expressed among traveling men now in this city at the retaliation of authorities at Victoria since the passing of the McKinley law. Every American drummer doing business in Victoria has been required to pay a license of $50. This only allows him to sell goods by sample until Jan. 1, when every foreign salesman must pay a fee of $100 for the privilege. Drummers who have been returned from Victoria report business dull.

THE TRAVELED INDIANS.
Not Much Pleasure Derived From Their European Trip.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Painted Horse, one of the Indians from the Red Cloud agency, who were with Dr. Carver's show in Europe, has arrived here on the Augusta Victoria today. He made a long statement, in which he charged both Carver and Buffalo Bill with great cruelty toward Indians under their charge. Painted Horse said he was repeatedly tied up until he could endure no further suffering; that he was fed upon "stinking meat" and other things wholly unfit for food; that his money was taken from him, and when he asked its return he received only $5. He said the other Indians were also shamefully treated, and were frequently fired upon with both blank and ball cartridges, and badly wounded. They were permitted to have all the whiskey wanted, and when under its influence they often fought among themselves. Gen. O'Brien has a copy of the agreement entered into by the Carver combination, in which good treatment to Indians is specified particularly as one of the conditions of their engagement. A copy of Painted Horse's statement will be forwarded to the secretary of the interior and to the Indian commissioners. According to the latest advice Buffalo Bill's Indians will arrive in Philadelphia next Thursday.

The River Closed.
There is now nearly two inches of ice in the upper bay and passage up the river would be difficult for any but the largest craft. Ice is also forming about the Superior docks and West Superior will be looked in the arms of winter in a very few days. Duluth harbor will probably not be frozen over for a month or two. This is early by a week at least for the river and Superior harbor to be impeded.

There was much illegal voting in the iron district about Ishpeming country, and if the vote is thrown out, as is probable, John Seimer, democrat, will go to congress, and from what formerly was the strongest republican district of Michigan.

BOB LINCOLN STAYS.

He Will Not Resign His Place as Minister to England.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Hon. Robert T. Lincoln, minister to England, reached the city this morning from Chicago. He called on Secretary Proctor, and held quite a reception among his old official friends. He looks exceedingly well, being somewhat stouter than he was while in the best of health. To an associated press reporter he said in a most positive manner: "The stories that I intend to resign my post and that I shall remain henceforth in America are absolutely false. I came here on a leave of absence and shall remain for about forty or fifty days, after which I shall go back to England and resume my work. He visited the state department and made a brief call on Secretary Blaine.

WILL HURRY IT.

The Mitchell-McClure Plans Changed and the Big Mill Will Be Ready in April.

E. G. Pake, the Saginaw mill contractor, arrived in the city this morning. With Tom Dickens he visited the site of the Mitchell-McClure mill, which he is to build. The McClure company intends to rush matters this winter. Plans are now being taken out for the dock and mill foundations, and driving will begin soon. A large force of men will be given employment at once. The company will erect a boarding house for its men, besides other buildings for machinery, engines, etc. It was, until recently, the intention of the Mitchell & McClure company to have its mill ready for operations some time in the fall of next year, but recent developments have arisen that have entirely changed this plan. The Marinette and other sawmill machinery manufacturing companies have orders to build the Mitchell-McClure saws etc., and those will be ready to go into the mill by the last of April. Part of the mill will be put up this winter, and completed early in the spring. The company wishes to begin sawing by June.

Merriam's Plurality.
ST. PAUL, Nov. 10.—Merriam's plurality, as now figured, reaches 1930 votes. Fifteen counties are reported unofficially.

At Westminster Sunday.
LONDON, Nov. 10.—Thousands of persons were turned away yesterday from Westminster Abbey where Canon Farrar preached a sermon on Gen. Booth's philanthropic scheme, after having made a tour of the Salvation army centers during the previous week. Canon Farrar made a fervent appeal in behalf of the scheme, but he wished it to be understood that he alone was responsible for the views he expressed on the subject.

Detectives Spoil a Case.
NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Walter Willard, alias "Big" Walter, who was arrested yesterday on a charge of having decoyed Mrs. Angeline Conrad here from Brookville, Bracken county, N. Y., for the purpose of selling her counterfeit money, was arraigned in court today. Mrs. Conrad was also present and told her story. The detectives were too hasty and spoiled the case. They saw no money passed out and the magistrate said there was no law on which the man could be held.

On a Reef.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Nov. 10.—The steam barge Bruno, Capt. Peters, and her consort, the Louise, were lost on Lake Superior Friday. They were loaded with coal for the Canadian Pacific to Algoma Mills, and were wrecked on the Magnetic reef, sixty-three miles southeast of Algoma Mills. The Bruno is cut completely in two and going to pieces. The Louise pounded on the reef and is fast going to pieces. They were owned by the Matthews line of Toronto, and carried about 900 tons of coal each. The vessels and coal will be a total loss, amounting to about $110,000.

THE JURY CHOSEN.

A Dozen Who Will Adjudge Brennan for His Life.

THE CASE LOOKS BAD FOR HIM.

A Plea of Self-Defense Will Doubtless be Brought by the Defense.

The trial of Mike Brennan—alias New Orleans Murphy—was begun this morning before Judge Stearns in the district court. A large crowd of spectators brought together out of morbid curiosity to see the prisoner, was on hand long before 10 o'clock, the hour set for the opening of the trial.

The story of the crime for which Brennan is being tried is well known to the people of Duluth. On the evening of July 23, an unknown boy, apparently about 20 years of age, was brutally stabbed on the St. Paul & Duluth dock. Nothing more was known of the boy than that he was called "Little Billy." He had been seen in company with Brennan in various saloons on Lake avenue and the two were seen to go together behind some box cars a minute before the murder was committed. Several witnesses who were on the dock at the spot where the murder was committed, saw "Little Billy" run out from behind the car and heard him say, "Murphy has stabbed me." Murphy or Brennan disappeared and for some time no trace of him could be found. The coroner's jury fastened the crime upon him, and interest in the case had nearly subsided when Chief McQuade received a message from Chicago that Murphy was under arrest in that city. He was brought back to Duluth on Sept. 23, and at the preliminary examination was held to the grand jury on the charge of murder.

Promptly at 10 o'clock Judge Stearns took his seat upon the bench and the work of empaneling a jury from the special venire was begun. County Attorney Sherwood appeared for the state, and Tankham and Potter conducted the defense. The latter, when he was brought into court appeared a trifle nervous, but aside from this seemed to take but little interest in the important proceedings. Of course he had grown paler during his confinement, and his beard appeared a trifle whiter than when he was first brought back from Chicago. He was neatly dressed, and his hair and beard were carefully combed and brushed. Altogether he looked anything but a desperate criminal. J. P. Johnson, Judge Davies and Attorney Schmidt were appointed triers.

The first name drawn from the box was Nick Young. He said he had heard a great deal about the case and had formed an opinion. Challenge for actual bias was allowed and he was excused. Wm. Thompson had read the papers and heard the matter discussed, but had never formed an opinion. He resides on the Swan Lake road, and is a farmer. He was accepted as the first juror.

Jeff Daniels said he lived at Pike Lake. He had heard but little of the case and had formed no opinion. Peremptory challenge by the defense. Thomas Butler also lives at Pike Lake. He had heard a little about the case and had read the papers, but he believed he could try the case impartially. He had no prejudice against hanging, in fact he would hang a man if he thought he was guilty. He was sworn.

Bill Fisher had lived at Pike lake seven years. He had never heard much of the case. He said he was a German and could not read the newspapers much. Peremptory challenge.

Wm. Fritz had heard of the case, but not enough to form an opinion. Challenge for actual bias was denied. Peremptory challenge by the defense. Amund Anderson had read about the case. He had formed no opinion. He had no prejudice against hanging. He made the third juror.

Frederick Krause lives at Hermantown. He had heard about the case, but thought he could try it impartially. He seemed to be opposed to hanging and the state challenged, but when the matter was explained he stated most emphatically that he would hang the prisoner if he found him guilty. He was sworn.

Thos. Spellman had read about the case, and appeared to have formed an opinion. Challenge for actual bias was allowed. George H. Cannon was also challenged.

Matthew O'Meara had simply a newspaper impression of the affair. He was accepted.

T. M. Lee had formed an opinion which would require evidence to remove, but was not prejudiced. He made the sixth.

formed an opinion. Challenged for bias admitted. John Birmingham had heard about the case. Challenge for actual bias.

Charles L. Avery is a Hermantown farmer, had read a little about the case, but had formed no opinion. He was accepted as the seventh juror.

August Tollefson and Harry Randall had also heard Miller talk about the matter. Matthew Gundy had formed an opinion from Miller. Otto Witt had read and heard of the case, but had formed no opinion. Peremptory challenge by the state. W. C. McCrimmen was excused on account of the serious illness of his wife.

Ell Lebeux had heard of the case, but had no opinion. He believed in hanging. He was sworn as the eighth. Peter Christopherson of Hermantown, kept no newspapers, and had heard but little of the case. He made the ninth juror.

James Rooney and O. G. Reitan had formed opinions. Geo. Randall had talked with Miller. They were excused. G. G. Grierson had formed no opinion. He was sworn and set in the tenth place on the jury.

John P. Larson had heard Miller talk. He was excused.

This exhausted the venire and a special venire of eight was ordered after which a recess was taken until 2:30 o'clock.

F. T. Little, the first man called upon the opening of the court at 2:30, was accepted. John T. Russell said that he had shunned the Miller boy and had not formed an opinion. No challenges were made and the jury was completed by the addition of Mr. Russell's name.

Edward Burns was the first witness called.

TERROR IN CHINATOWN.

Two Bands Arrayed Against Each Other to Kill.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—Terror reigns in the Chinese quarter. The members of the Suey Ong Tong company and of the Hop Sing Tong society are on the lookout to take each other's lives. The gauge of battle was thrown down the first when Wong Fook Choy was shot and killed in the Washington street theater by Dick Ah Ting while defending an actor from blackmail. The murderer who was a member the Suey Ong Tong, escaped.

Bah Guy, of the latter society, was shot and killed on Washington street, the third and a comrade, Hi Choy Pu, was set upon and badly beaten at the same time. Not content with taking a life for the one which they had lost, the Hop Sing Tongs exacted another, and the night of election day Hark Ah Yee was shot and now lies at the receiving hospital in a dying condition. With the exception of the first murderer, the detectives are at sea as to who did the shooting.

The Chinese consul has addressed an order to the warring organizations, commanding them to refrain from quarreling, but detectives who have charge of the Chinese criminal service believe that several more shooting affairs will result before the two societies will consider that full justice has been meted out.

JUDGE THURSTON TALKS.

An Off Year and a Few Other Considerations Did It.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—The Hon. John M. Thurston, the president of the republican league clubs of the United States, arrived this morning from Omaha, fresh from the Nebraska campaign.

In response to the query as to what were the causes which lead up to the recent upheaval in Nebraska Judge Thurston said:

"Several causes lead up to the so-called defeat, viz: The apathy of an off year in politics, and the principal thing among voters being the McKinley bill. The natural tendency of prices were upward, among which can be named boots and shoes, iron, lumber and other commodities although the tax was reduced upon these and other commodities. Theorists endeavored to explain but nobody knows why. We struck a rising market with the passing of the McKinley bill and all of this is laid to it."

"Nebraska has not gone democratic as the entire republican state ticket is elected except the election of Boyd for governor. Boyd ran 6000 votes ahead of his ticket in Omaha on the prohibition issue, and had Richards received his party vote in Omaha he would have been elected."

"Of course the Farmers alliance is just now at the height of its power. It is organized and bound together as closely as any secret organization and this party cast a surprisingly large vote. I think there will be a revival of stalwartism in the republican party, such as to make 1892, the coming presidential election year, a great republican year. The republican workers all over the country did not take an active part in this campaign just passed. They felt as though their services for the republican party had been undervalued."

"The result of the recent elections has not put an end to the Presidential chances of either Wm. B. McKinley or Thomas B. Reed, but it has probably postponed their dates. Blaine or Alger will be winners at the head of the ticket in 1892."

Mrs. Delia Parnell, mother of Charles Stewart Parnell, left Bordentown, N. J., this morning for New York. After spending a day or two there she will leave for Chicago.

A RELIGION FOR MEN.

Meat of an Excellent Sermon Delivered Last Night.

CHURCH CONVENTIONS THIS WEEK.

A Missionary Rally; The Sunday School Convention; Children at Endion Church.

At the Pilgrim Congregational church last evening Rev. E. M. Noyes spoke upon the theme "Is there a Religion for Men?" The substance of the sermon was as follows:

A stranger, studying social institutions in America, might conclude that religion was largely given over to women and children. He would find the women outnumbering the men in the membership of the churches nearly two to one; missionary activity committed to the women in constantly increasing measure; audiences usually containing a majority of women on Sunday and always at a mid-week service, and other indications that the men of America were content to show toleration or only a patronizing interest in religion, and to yield the place of enthusiastic service largely to their wives and sisters.

Such a hasty impression would not be far from the idea that prevails to a large extent among young men. Religion is to be treated with outward respect, it is to be sustained in its orderly services; but beyond such respectful interest men cannot be expected to go. It is worth while to study the causes of such a false impression and consider whether they are local and temporary or permanent. Is the difficulty in Christianity? Is it a religion which fails in any respect of adaptation to men and their needs? If we are to construct a religion for men we would consider essential that it should satisfy the reason, both in its doctrines and its demands. The religion of Christ meets this test. Men are not neglecting it because of skeptical difficulties. Our colleges have undergone a great change in their religious life in ten years. When I graduated from Yale the leading men of my class were skeptical; now the leading men of all the classes are leaders in Christian work. There is far less Ingersollism today among young men than there was five years ago. And the demands of religion are not fanatical, but it is a reasonable service.

A religion for men must speak with a divine authority—from above humanity. It must present a sufficient motive for enthusiasm. It must present its justification for being in its historic effects. It must be no bar to progress nor curtail human possibilities of development. In all these respects the Christian religion is not wanting. The failure is not on its side.

Is the explanation to be found in the lack of higher qualities among modern men? Is the failure here? The answer must again be negative. Men are still appealed to by the highest motives; they are still capable of self-denial and consecration; they are still capable of response to the highest appeals.

Can we find the explanation then in local causes? Partially, at least. One cause is a social one. It lies in the mania for being in the highest society, the chase after wealth, the speculative fever that has infected all society. He who has seen the scenes lately enacted in a public building in this city on a recent sale of real estate, can hardly call the word "mad," exaggeration. Where, outside of an insane asylum, would you find a parallel? We take our boys out of school at 13 and put them in an office. The man remains and graduates, and you know the result. As a consequence you know a hundred women in this city who are vastly superior to their husbands in general culture. We can find a hundred ladies here studying English literature, history, science and art, who would have to search with a fine tooth comb to find one man. Not only religion, but culture of all the higher qualities of mind, is largely given up to the women of this day. They outnumber the men two to one in co-educational institutions and crowd the many colleges devoted to them. Where the girl of the next generation is to find a husband is a hard question. A woman is bidden to respect her husband and how can a cultured and refined woman learn to respect a mere money-getting machine is hard to understand. Another cause is found in some mistakes of the church. It used to be considered that a man must sow his wild oats before conversion. Now the church has a place for Christian boys and believes in Christian nurture. Another cause has been in the decay of family life and household religion.

There are many encouraging signs in the future. The growth of the Y. P. S. C. E. with its army of boys; the rapid spread of the Y. M. C. A. and its enlarging work; the increasing attendance of young men at church services; the increasing ratio of men in church membership; the growth toward unity in the churches, all these things point to the time when the church of today shall, like Israel of old, be delivered by the "young men of the provinces." The sermon closed with a stirring passage read from one of Beecher's lectures to young men.

Bible Day at Endion Church.
Last evening there was a crowded attendance at Endion Baptist church. The Sabbath school children gave a very interesting service entitled "The Light of Life." About twenty-four numbers were rendered, consisting of songs, recitations, dialogues, etc. The superintendent, W. B. Patton, gave an encouraging report of the Sunday school and the pastor gave a short address. A collection was taken for the distribution of Bibles among the needy.

Sunday School Program.
As heretofore noted, the Duluth district convention of the State Sunday School association will be held tomorrow and Wednesday. An interesting program has been prepared, including Tuesday afternoon and evening and three sessions Wednesday.

Prayer for Young Men.
The annual week of prayer for young men was observed yesterday in most of the city churches, and will be again dwelt upon in the weekly prayer meetings. The Y. M. C. A. observed it by a general consecration meeting in the morning and a mass meeting for young men in the afternoon. Special meetings will be held in the building each evening this week (except Thursday) from 8:45 to 9:30 o'clock.

A Missionary Rally.
Friday, morning, noon and afternoon, there is to be a missionary rally of the women connected with all English-speaking evangelical churches at the head of the lake. The rally will take place at Pilgrim Congregational church, this city, and a lunch will be served at noon. A large attendance is expected.

The Methodist Ministers.
The Methodist ministers held their regular semi-monthly meeting in the study of Rev. Dr. Stocking, pastor of First church, this morning. A constitution was adopted and officers elected as follows: President, A. F. Thompson of Grace church; vice-president, L. F. Merritt of Opea; secretary, W. A. Shannon of West Duluth; treasurer, John Seaberg of West Duluth Swedish church. A district convention of the Epworth league will be held in First church, Duluth, Dec. 9 and 10. The program will be published later. The next regular meeting of the preachers will be held in the same place two weeks from today when a paper will be read by Rev. A. J. Davis of East Superior.

The Mill Shut Down.
The big Imperial flour mill has shut down for this week, during which time the work of putting the new touches to the additional machinery will be completed. The mill will probably be able to start up the first of next week, when instead of grinding 10,000 to 11,000 barrels a week as heretofore, it will turn out 15,000 to 16,000 barrels. This change is an important event in the history of flour milling in Duluth.

The Eight-Hour League.
The Minnesota Eight-Hour league holds its first session since July in St. Paul this afternoon. The election excitement having quieted down, there will probably be no attendance of delegates. There will be a new president and probably other officers to elect, and plans for the future will be discussed and decided on. Several delegates from Duluth are present.

A Disease Unaccountably Prevalent.
The prevalence of ailments attributable to miasmatic poison in the air that people breathe, and the water they drink, is well nigh unaccountable. Not alone in pestilential swamps, badly drained suburban districts, and marshes exposed to the sun's rays by the receding tide, is this scourge of humanity found. Even in great cities, healthfully located, skillfully sewered, well looked after in every respect in a sanitary way, we find malaria. Its presence is often inexplicable. The protector is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The eradicator bears the same name—a name known to the thousands throughout our broad land and elsewhere as a synonym of relief, prevention and cure of the innumerable disorders in its abominable phases—chills and fever, bilious remittent, dumb ague and ague cake, as well as others. Nor is the Bitters less effective for indigestion, kidney complaint, biliousness and rheumatism.

Some people agree with The Sun's opinions about men and things, and some people don't; but everybody likes to get hold of the newspaper which is never dull and never afraid to speak its mind.

Democrats know that for twenty years The Sun has fought in the front line for Democratic principles, never wavering or weakening in its loyalty to the true interests of the party it serves with fearless intelligence and disinterested vigor. At times opinions have differed as to the best means of accomplishing the common purpose; it is not The Sun's fault if it has seen further in to the distance.

LOOKING FOR QUARTERS.

A Nail and Specialty Concern Wants to Locate.

WITH THE BUZZ OF A YOUNG SAWMILL.

Duluth's First Electric Cars Make Regular Runs Over the Street Line.

A Pittsburgh wire nail company is looking for a Duluth location. The company has been working through C. E. Richardson, but Mr. Richardson has turned the matter over to the Chamber of Commerce for its action. The company manufactures not only nails, but several patent specialties. The concern is financially solid and employs a large force of workmen.

The Electric Cars.

Lighted by electricity and bowling along at a rate of speed that made the eyes of the mules turn green with envy, sparks occasionally being emitted from the trolley, the electric cars Saturday evening were a novel but pleasing sight to the people of Duluth.

The first regular car containing Manager Chase and representatives of the press left the western terminus at Twenty-fourth avenue west at 6:35 p. m. Mr. Southwick, the representative of the Thomson-Houston company who is in charge of the construction of the plant was in charge of the brakes and he expressed himself as entirely satisfied with the first trip. "It is the smoothest and best road bed I have ever ridden over," remarked Mr. Southwick. Manager Chase was also well pleased with the initial trip.

Although the power is hardly adequate for the service, being located at the Hartman electric plant, still the hill between Sixteenth avenue west and the point of rocks was surmounted without any difficulty. The trip to Eighth avenue east was made without delay, and the subsequent trips of this as well as those of the two other cars which were put into service were not attended by any accidents or delays of any kind.

Three cars are now running regularly between Twenty-fourth avenue west and Eighth avenue east, and it is safe to say that the patrons of the line are not at all sorry.

Veteran Judge Dead.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 10.—Judge Orlando Simon died yesterday afternoon. He came here as a carpenter from New York in 1849. Subsequently he studied law, became justice of the peace, police judge, and in 1882 was elected district judge, a position he has held ever since, being the oldest in service as well as in years.

THE POPE'S LETTER.

He Sits Down Very Heavily on the Masons.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—An official translation of the recently issued encyclical of the Pope is to be read to the dioceses. "The letter lays particular stress on the evil influence of the Masonic order and blames it for nearly all the indignities and abuse which have been heaped upon the Pope by the Italian government. The Pope says he is not saddened by personal offenses, but by the universal ruin toward which he sees Italy going forward. The Masonic order is declared to be 'animated by the spirit of Satan, whose instruments they are.' In Italy, and especially in Rome, this war is to be waged more than elsewhere.

A LONDON HOLIDAY.

Fun, Frolic and a Big Procession End With a Banquet.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—The people of London are reveling today in the enjoyment of their annual lord mayor's show. A quarter of a million people have poured themselves into Chapside, Fleet street, High Holborn, St. Martins le Grand and the Thames Embankment, and the usual scenes of fun and frolic are being witnessed.

As usual, the lord mayor's coach was a magnificent affair in blue and gold, and was drawn by eight cream-colored horses ridden by postilions in red. All the municipal departments turned out in force. The firemen's contingent, at the head of which the now noted dog "Rob" which has saved the lives of twenty children in as many fires, sat in state upon an improvised throne in an open carriage. The new lord mayor, Mr. John Savory, received an enthusiastic reception all along the route. The usual state banquet was given at the Guild hall this afternoon.

Better Contributions Bred.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien will be tendered a reception at the Metropolitan Opera house tonight during which they will speak upon the plans of the Irish parliamentary party. It is expected that the fund for the separatists' propaganda will reach $100,000 in this city alone. None of the funds collected by Dillon and O'Brien will be used for the relief of the victims of the present famine but will be devoted to political purposes. The famine fund is in the hands of a number of prominent residents of this city, who will inaugurate their work of charity after Dillon and O'Brien have departed for green fields and pastures new.

The Buyer of the "Angelus."

BOSTON, Nov. 10.—Edward Brandus has received a dispatch authorizing him to disclose the name of the purchaser of Millet's painting, "L'Angelus," which is now exhibited in this city. He is M. Chauchard, one of the proprietors of the Louvre stores in Paris. As M. Chauchard is more than 70 years old it is more than likely that the "Angelus" will find its permanent home in the museum of the Louvre before long.

Thanksgiving.

Do you know it is less than two weeks to Thanksgiving? If you have forgotten it, your wife and children have not. "She" has already made up a mental program for the dinner that day, and interviewed frequently the butcher, baker and grocer, while the "kids" have nightly dreams of pie and pudding in mountains. This is on the supposition that your Thanksgiving will be spent at home. But if you have an old father and mother somewhere, why not visit them then? Your wife would like to go to the home of her girlhood and sit with father and mother, brothers and sisters, in the evening firelight from the old hearthstone. Why don't you drop business for a few days and take her to a family reunion? Do so, and remember that wherever you may wish to go, "The Burlington," either by its own line or its connections, reaches any city, town or village you can name. It is the fast line, the best line, the comfortable line, the vestibuled line, the dining car line, the direct line. For any information, apply to nearest railroad agent, or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, general passenger agent, C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

The Home Truth of a Foreign Proverb.

The Spanish have a proverb—denasido es peligroso—"too much is dangerous." If "brevity is the soul of wit," this means a great deal. Excess and other imprudences in eating and drinking are productive of one tremendous evil—the progenitor of many others—and these are among the follies to which this pithy saying has direct application. The evil to which we allude is indigestion, to the relief and cure of which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has contributed more than any medicine which science has given to the American people. This invigorating stomachic and corrective is the means not only of reforming a disordered or enfeebled condition of the digestive organs, but of renewing healthy action of the bowels and the liver. Besides this, it counteracts a tendency to rheumatism and kidney complaint, extirpates and prevents malarious disease, is a potent restorative of strength which is failing, hastens convalescence and mitigates the infirmities of age.

UNLIKE TEA & COFFEE—GOOD FOR THE NERVES.

The claims of cocoa as a useful article of diet are steadily winning recognition. Unlike tea and coffee, it is not only a stimulant but a nourisher; and it has the great advantage of leaving no narcotic effects. Hence it is adapted to general use. The strong may take it with pleasure, and the weak with impunity.

VAN HOUTEN'S COCOA
"BEST & GOES FARTHEST."

VAN HOUTEN'S COCOA ("once tried, always used") leaves no injurious effects on the nervous system. It is a wonder, therefore, that in all parts of the world, this Van Houten's Cocoa is recommended by medical men instead of tea and coffee or other cocoas or chocolates for daily use by children or adults, hale and sick, rich and poor. "Largest sale in the world." Ask for VAN HOUTEN'S and take no other.

HOW EASILY BORNE!

A great election. A convulsion in politics. The party in power thrown out. The party that was out borne in with an overwhelming rush. And how easily the country bears it all! 'Tis true that both parties are somewhat dumb-founded, and the natural upstirring of feeling is suppressed in a measure by the shock of surprise. The victors forget to shout, and the beaten lose sense of the bitterness of defeat in the thump of the fall. But even if there had been ten times as much powder and rub-a-dub as there is, the political whirl would have come and gone without any convulsion in the every day business affairs of the country. No earthquake of any kind attends any political revolution in a country secured as ours is within the elastic steel tire of its well-tempered constitution.

How wisely the sovereignty of the people was safeguarded and carefully ordered in our American constitution is once more strikingly apparent. Again has it acted for this nation, in the words of Sir Henry Maine, "like the dikes and dams which strike the eye of the traveler along the Rhine, controlling the course of a river which begins amid mountain torrents, turning it into one of the most equable water ways in the world." Suppose that the lately determined business policy of this nation had been suddenly wrenched away by the waves of popular sentiment. Suppose that the result of the late election carried with it the probable smashing of the tariff in a jiffy and the opening of the flood gates of free trade! How nervous would established American industries be then! What a curbing of home production! What a stinging of credit! What a certain business prostration and financial crisis!

Not only does the institution of our senate or upper house reflect and maintain in a measure the original political equality of the several states, but in its powers of restraining and supplementing the work of the lower house it has proved in practice one of the happiest creative strokes of our forefathers. Again and again has it stood, as it stands today, a shield of assurance to the business interests of this country against hasty and inconsiderate popular legislation. Hence invested capital dreads today no imminent convulsions of stock. Business in every department of industry runs on with a full tide in its accustomed channels, and nobody anticipates any serious disturbance in the business or money market.

The new legislation under the safeguard of the senate is assured of a trial. If the trial shows, as protectionist republicans believe it will, an extraordinary and prosperous expansion of the industries of the country, and a certain reduction in the selling price of all manufactured products under the pressure of home competition and the improvement of mechanical appliances by the brains of high paid labor, then the patent results of the legislation will be submitted to the people for judgment along with the whirling words of today, and the protectionist vote will surely profit by the comparison. But if this anticipation is disappointed, the way will be gradually and considerably cleared for the tariff reductions demanded, and the changes, when it comes, will have been long anticipated and provided for. This rational disposal of the vexed question we owe to the framers of our constitution.

There is a big scheme on paper or on foot for the construction of a ship railway from Georgian bay to Lake Ontario. The proposed cut off would be about sixty miles long and save about 400 miles of the way from Duluth or Chicago to Liverpool. It is reported that Erasmus Wiman and prominent capitalists of Canada and Great Britain are behind the plan, that a franchise worded to permit execution has been obtained from the Dominion government, and that it is likely to be actively pressed. Subsidies will be asked from the Canadian and our own government, and the endeavor made to raise in various ways the $12,000,000 necessary. We believe in the ship-railway plan of transportation, except where canals can be cut without locks, and think it will be a feature of the immediate future, but it is scarcely worth while to discuss the plan reported, until it is definitely known whether it has any existence outside the mind of the reporter.

Anybody who is fond of speculation will find a bucket full fresh from the well in the contribution of "Van," the political correspondent of The Minneapolis Journal. There is some fanciful and fine wire-pulling in it, but it is a heap easier to set up wires and make them work in fancy than in fact. The successor to Senator Davis ought to be Senator Davis, and will be, if the great body of the republicans of this state controls the succession. How much truth there may be in the alleged grooming of other republicans for the race we do not profess to judge, but it will take more than good grooming and pats on the back like this to keep anyone named within reach of Senator Davis when it comes to actual running. Unless the republicans of Minnesota are distracted, and the opposition united, Senator Davis will succeed himself when the time comes for a call of hands and the cards, after all the shuffling, are laid on the table.

Everybody likes to see the wheels go round of Duluth's new electric street railway cars. There is a temporary make-shift in the supply of power, but when the company's power house is fitted, as it soon will be, for the purpose, no city in the country will have a better running equipment than Duluth, and few as good. No change in the city was so urgently needed, and now that it is made, and so well made, the company should have full credit for its good work and every encouragement to keep it up. Duluth wants no sign of a mule and all the electric service she can get.

SEEN AND HEARD.

There has been within a few years a prodigious growth of the habit of taking oatmeal at breakfast. The meal is now sold by nearly all grocers who have a brisk demand for it, and well-off people are their best customers. Porridge is a wholesome, nutritious, pleasing, and a cheap article of diet, and any person who has a big bowl of it in the morning gets along with very little else for breakfast. Those who dislike it may find mush and milk to their liking, or they can make a very tasty and healthful porridge, which, like cornmeal and oatmeal, is always cheap. In Duluth the most popular substitute—with perhaps the most popular substitute—is those who can get it is a by-product of the flour mill, the wheat directly after it has been stripped of the bran and is broken to lumps about the size of a pin head. It is the result of the third break of the rolls and is about as nutritious a food as one can well find. It is a very pleasing change from oatmeal or cracked wheat.

And this leads to the thought—it is hard to get this or any other of the like by-products of wheat, many of which make excellent food. Why wouldn't it pay some miller to make a feature of producing the stuff. It actually costs not quite so much as flour, while it can be sold at a higher price. Of course it costs a little to put up small packages and to sell it at retail, but not much. This suggestion, by the way, is free.

I want to say right here that it was not a Herald reporter who the other night, when he found a despondent young man, belonging to the best known walks of society, accompanied him to the lake side with a promise to assist him in committing suicide. It came near being a scoop, but the despondent y. m. thought better of it.

Railroad men are usually caustic and sour in their comments on each other's actions, but I have yet to hear an adverse criticism on C. B. Hibbard, general passenger agent of the South Shore-Soo combine. Said a well-known railroad man, an official of a Chicago-St. Paul road: "The passenger department of the railroad is usually supposed to be—and sometimes rightly—the disreputable office of a line. Much has taken place to make this opinion general, and the sometimes disgraceful fights that take place at the association meetings by no means show up the general agent in a creditable light. Mr. Hibbard isn't that kind. In all his dealings with his fellows he has been honest and above board; and above all he has been a gentleman at all times. He has won the respect and esteem of all who know him, and no man is better liked among railroad men in St. Paul than he."

THEIR INNERMOST THOUGHTS.

Rev. E. M. Noyes, in sermon last night: You'll find a hundred women in this city who are studying English literature and you'll have to hunt with a fine tooth comb to find one man. What's the reason? Why, the men are not in the greed for gain, and what do they care for English literature or any other cultivating thing? I sometimes wonder who our daughters will marry, they are increasing every generation in culture while our men are not. A woman won't marry a man she doesn't respect and who can respect the men we're bringing up?

R. S. Munger: I expect, in four or five years, to see Duluth grinding at least as much flour as Minneapolis, and a couple of years more full 40,000 barrels of flour a day. It'll be the biggest milling point in the world.

A Flat Contradiction.
Some one has told you that your catarrh is incurable. It is not so. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will cure it. It is pleasant to use and it always does its work thoroughly. We have yet to hear of a case in which it did not accomplish a cure when faithfully used. Catarrh is a disease which is dangerous to neglect. A certain remedy is at your command. Avail yourself of it before the complaint assumes a more serious form. All druggists.

STATE PRESS.

Mankato Free Press: Everybody will now stop lying and settle down to business.

Winona Republican: The republican voters seem to have raised their voices against every objectionable personal and political condition in their party and sworn to have a general house cleaning. Not even God's sweet sunshine, nor else the McKinley tariff bill, sufficed to soothe their ruffled tempers or to fill their hearts with content. The result is shown in a very surprising manner by the returns of the election from all parts of the country.

Fergus Falls Journal: It is a good deal easier for the party out of power to find fault with the one in power than it is for the one in power to explain why all things do not go just as people want them. The people will have a chance to try the democrats for two years. If the reforms talked about don't come, the pendulum will swing the other way.

Minneapolis "Times": Almost invariably one or both houses of congress are given to one party and the presidency to the other. This is a curious phase of our politics which is worth noting. It should serve as a warning and suggestion to the democrats. Under this rule a democratic congress this year insures a republican victory in 1892. If the democrats desire to see another exception to this almost universal law of our politics they must be on their good behavior.

Ought to be Ashamed of Themselves.
Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin: The returns from the entire state indicate that there were 50,000 less votes polled in 1890 than at the presidential election in 1888. Inasmuch as the number of voters has increased at least 10,000 during the past two years, it is safe to say that there were 60,000 voters, probably most of them republicans, who did not come to the polls on Nov. 4. This circumstance shows clearly how the democratic party lost the full farming vote. But it certainly did not; and that is the cause of the defeat of the republican state ticket.

Out of an Asylum.
Church News: The eagerness to secure choice lots at the opening sale of the New Duluth Land company led to ridiculous devices. When men hire representatives to spend sixty hours in a day, and fortify their spirits with bread and beer, in order to get an early chance to buy lots, it reminds one of Shakespeare's oft quoted line, "What fools these mortals be." Whichita and Win-nipeg have offered no more amusing commentary on the contagion of the craze for the almighty dollar. How sharp the contrast between this eagerness and indifference so commonly shown to the true riches, and yet every farmer admits, in his better moments, the incomparable value of the "gold that is tried in the fire." Truly man is a bundle of inconsistencies.

INDIAN SUMMER.

(Lucy E. Tilley in Harper's Weekly.)
The land does not forget its ancient ways. Nor those little hunters who went to and fro within its borders in the long ago. For ere the coming of the winter days, a little space it holds in sacred-wise, in which 'tis said the hunters all return unto the hunting-grounds for which they toil rise.
The smoke from unseen camp fires; 'neath its shield
Spirits of spectres come and go, and all the land
Is held and leagured by the old-time band,
Who pluck the ripened maize adown the field.
Kne then by all the haunting smoke and haze
The land does not forget its ancient ways.

End.

The corner on Grand and Central avenue opposite the city hall is the place for it.

The West Duluth Union band of sixteen pieces was organized yesterday, and Mr. Freiberg will be the teacher. A. Blix was chosen president, Martin Gilbertson vice-president, J. Ohmstad secretary, Andrew Casper treasurer. They meet two evenings each week, and as there is much musical talent among the members they expect soon to become a rival of the West Duluth band which is already one of the best.

West Duluth Notes.

The editorial in Saturday's Herald on "A Straight American Ticket" was very favorably commented on in West Duluth. One of our oldest and most beloved pastors, himself not born on American soil but a thorough American, says that it ought to have a wide circulation, as it touches up a vital question and is just correct.

Mr. Svendsen has done business in two countries of the Old World, and says of all places in the world for a business man or laborer, protected American is best.

THE INDIAN CRAZE.

Gen. Miles Gives More Particulars About The Supposed Messiah.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Gen. Nelson A. Miles, commander of the department of the Missouri, has been further interviewed regarding the Messiah craze among the Dakota and Nebraska Indians. He says many of the Sioux and Cheyennes now assert that they have already seen the Messiah. Among others, Old Porcupine, a prominent Cheyenne chief, who last winter made a trip with a large party of braves to Wyoming, and said he had been taken to the Messiah by some Bannock Indians, who came over the mountains to act as guide.

"Old Porcupine reports that the Messiah is the white man's Christ returned after 1800 years to visit the red men. The Messiah is white and wears his head muffled so his face cannot be seen. His hands still bear cruel scars from the wounds inflicted by the white men centuries ago. These scars serve to remind the Indian of his duty to the Messiah who will bring all good things if he is only faithful to his old traditions and customs."

Poles to Brazil.

WARSAW, Nov. 10.—For some time past, large bodies of Polish emigrants have left Russia, bound for Brazil, where it is their intention to found colonies. NEWS OF THE PROFESH.

Edwin Booth and the Rest Who Are Laid on the Shelf.

THE TOLE-MEYERS BILLIARD MATCH.

Mrs. Carter and Her Duckling; The Fine Engagement of the Duffs.

New York, Nov. 10.—There have been indications during the past few months that the health of Edwin Booth is rapidly failing. This may be attributed to the fact that his system is completely saturated with nicotine. He is a tremendous smoker, his weekly consumption averaging 200 of the strongest imported cigars. He has followed this practice a score of years, and it has been a matter of surprise that he has maintained his physical and intellectual powers as well as he has.

As it is, one side of his body is in a condition of partial paralysis and he walks with difficulty. He has been advised to retire to private life at the conclusion of the joint engagement of Lawrence Barrett, which opens this week, but counsel has been of no avail, and like Edwin Forrest, John McCullough, Dion Boucicault and many other eminent professionals who have gone before him, he proposes to die in harness. There is an unusual amount of illness in professional circles, although hardly as much as prevailed during the grip epidemic. Julia Marlowe, who has been at the point of death at Philadelphia, has taken a turn for the better. Her ailment is a combination of brain and typhoid fever.

George Drew-Barrymore is also seriously ill in the Quaker city, and her friends fear that she is going into a rapid decline. Frank McKee, the well-known theatrical manager, who was taken ill recently in one of the Western states, has managed to reach this city in an enfeebled condition. Mrs. J. H. McKee, wife of the veteran theatrical manager of Chicago, is lying very ill at the Windsor hotel. She is a victim of inflammatory rheumatism.

Mrs. Carter's Ugly Duckling.
New York, Nov. 10.—An event of dramatic interest occurs tonight at the Broadway theatre, when Mrs. Leslie Carter makes her debut on the professional stage as a star in "The Ugly Duckling." Her appearance on the professional stage is not of her own seeking. Born in the lap of luxury, surrounded in her earliest days with everything that money could furnish, her every whim gratified—married to a man who for a time surrounded her with the conditions to which she had been accustomed—she found herself a few months ago absolutely penniless and compelled to rely upon her own exertions. In this emergency one of the richest merchants of the Garden City, who was convinced that she was the victim of a combination of unfortunate circumstances and entitled to sympathy, came to her aid, and she has been enabled not only to take a complete course of training but also to organize and equip the company with which she makes her debut. "The Ugly Duckling" is a kind of society comedy-drama, which, it is said, deals to a large extent with society personages, and Manager Price says that the first appearance of Mrs. Carter will signalize the smoothest, first-night performance ever seen in New York.

Society will turn out on the Broadway in force tonight for the omnipotent four hundred gathered in all the seats in the house many weeks ago.
Duff's Opera.
On Thursday, the 13th, the first operatic engagement of the season begins at Temple Opera. Duff's company is hardly so well known in Duluth as either the Bostonians or the Ideals, but their excellence is known to occupy as high a place. Several among the people are favorites in this city, among them being Charles O. Bassett, Clement Bainbridge, of the old Ideals. Others of the company are Louise Beaudet, the charming mezzo soprano, Lenore Snyder, Letta Gilman, Edith Edwards, Cornelia Bassett, Minnie De Rue, Laura Joyce Bell, Digby Bell, William McLaughlin and Joseph Fay.

The company is singing Gilbertian opera this season almost exclusively. The chorus made up of sixty voices. Julian Edwards being the conductor. The Duff repertoire for Duluth is: Thursday, "Iolanthe;" Friday, and Saturday matinee, "Pirates;" Sunday, "Pirates of Penzance." Says "The Chicago Herald": "Digby Bell, as Lord Chancellor in 'Iolanthe,' was more than ever amusing and his jokes and songs were received with laughter. The Iolanthe of Miss Louise Beaudet is an excellent bit of work. Charles O. Bassett was heard in the part of Earl Toller to advantage. Wallace McCreery who is the possessor of a good tenor, sang the romantic role of the Arcadian shepherd and William McLaughlin's deep rich basso lent dignity to Private Willis. Laura Joyce was very cordially received and ably filled the part of the Fairy Queen. Clement Bainbridge has a baritone not unusually strong but of excellent quality."

The Tole-Meyers Match.
It is perhaps unfortunate that the Tole-Meyers billiard match is fixed for the same night as the last of the Duff engagement. Yet there are enough enthusiasts in town to make a good crowd to watch the game, and The Spalding parlor will probably be crowded. A large number of Meyers' men will come up from St. Paul and their money will be met by friends of Tole, who think he has a sure thing. The Duluth man is playing a strong game, and the 8-inch balkie proves simple under his touch.

The Brotherhood Discredits It.
Chicago, Nov. 10.—The report that Chief Arthur of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers is in training for the next presidential nomination is generally discredited, by the engineers of the Trunk lines entering this city. It is the policy of the organization, they say, to keep aloof from politics.

A CHICAGO INCIDENT.

Policemen Have a Tussle With Colored

Chicago, Nov. 10.—Thomas Coates, a farmer from Indiana, arrived in Chicago early Sunday morning. He left the train at the depot and had gone about two blocks when he met two colored men named Sam Wilson and Eugene, alias "Honey" Hall. The negroes proceeded to rob the countryman, and had secured his watch and chain and pocket book when Officer O'Malley heard the farmer's cries.

The officer attacked the two negroes. Wilson drew a revolver and placed the muzzle against the policeman's breast. Before he could pull the trigger O'Malley hit him by the throat, and the gun discharged in the air. After fighting for several minutes against the two burly negroes, the officer received a blow that rendered him unconscious. Just at this time two others came up. It took both of them to overpower the colored men. Officer O'Malley lay unconscious in the mud with blood streaming from wounds. He is in a critical condition.

AN OFFICIAL INTERVIEW.

Premier Whiteley Talks of Reciprocity

With Newfoundland.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—The Chronicle this morning publishes an interview with Premier Whiteley of Newfoundland prior to his departure for home. The premier said that the counter proposals indicated in a telegram from Nova Scotia had not emanated from the Newfoundland government. The suggestion that England should pay a bounty on fish exported by Newfoundlanders he considered absurd.

In regard to America, he believed that both sides would profit by the acceptance of Newfoundland's proposals to give American fishermen the same privileges in Newfoundland harbors in regard to bait, etc. as the Newfoundlanders enjoyed, in addition to the privilege of the winter frozen herring fishery, in return for the admittance of Newfoundland fish products and crude minerals duty free. He declared there would be no fear of distress in Newfoundland once the questions were settled.

Announcement.

Within the next four months there will be employed at West Duluth in the various manufacturing institutions located there and in process of construction at least 800 operatives more than are now employed.

All dwellings now ready for use are occupied, and at least 250 more houses must be erected in order to provide these incoming people with homes.

To assist in meeting this exigency the West Duluth Land Company will put upon the market for purposes of improvement only, a considerable number of lots in the Third and Seventh Divisions of the Plat of West Duluth upon extremely easy terms of payment.

These lots are all located between Central Avenue and the Bay of St. Louis, and will constitute the business portion of West Duluth. This affords a good chance to invest in inside property.

Prices, terms and further information may be obtained at the office of the company, Spalding House Building, Duluth, Minn.

ARE LAYING WIRES.

Minnesota Politicians Forecasting the Future.

WHO AND WHAT MR. HALVORSEN IS.

Nelson and Heatwole as a Strong Team for Senate and Governorship.

The Minnesota politicians have already begun to lay the wires for the campaign in 1892. That this campaign will be as interesting as any in the history of the state, goes without saying. And it is a certainty that some very prominent gentlemen are going to be in the race for the republican gubernatorial nomination. And it is apparent that upon the result of this fight will hinge the selection of a successor to Cushman K. Davis in the United States senate.

Today says "Van" in the Minneapolis Journal, there are no less than four very prominent gentlemen mentioned in connection with the republican gubernatorial nomination. Joel P. Heatwole has resolved to try for the nomination. Knute Nelson will also try his chances in the gubernatorial race. This would simply be to him—a stop-ping-stone for something higher. And Minnesota is likely to have a very popular candidate in 1892. He is probably ignorant of the movements of his admirers in the interest of his candidacy at the present time. He is Robert G. Evans, member of the national republican committee for Minnesota. And, last but not least, Governor W. K. Merriam has a man upon which he deems to allow his gubernatorial mantle to fall. He is also a resident of the Flour city, Henry F. Brown, considered a royal good fellow among his acquaintances.

Governor Merriam will be satisfied with his second term. At least this is the way the thing is generally understood among the republican politicians. It has been expected that the present executive would only be satisfied, politically, when permitted to occupy a seat in the United States senate from Minnesota. During the past campaign his friends have claimed that he would not try to defeat Mr. Davis in 1892. Stress was laid upon the fact that the governor and senator had reached an agreement in this respect as early as last May, and that the governor had pledged himself to support Mr. Davis for reelection.

This story was not generally credited, however, and Merriam is still regarded as a probable opponent to Mr. Davis. And if Governor Merriam still has some senatorial ambitions, his chances in 1892 are better than at any other time in future.

But to return to the gubernatorial nomination. Heatwole left for Europe Wednesday night with the intention of returning to Minnesota in January to inaugurate his canvass for the republican nomination. His friends are very confident that he will develop strength enough to capture the nomination. He has hosts of friends in the country that he can count on to aid him during the next two years. No one can dispute the fact that he is one of the most popular men in this state, in the country districts.

The average country editor regards Joel as an ideal candidate. If Knute Nelson is a candidate, the Northfield editor will find him a dangerous competitor. One interesting feature of the candidacy of these two men is the fact that a warm friendship has developed between them. This is one of the things that tend to mystify the politicians, who are cognizant of the political ambitions of the two men. There are those who want a political alliance between them.

It can be seen how they could form an offensive and defensive alliance. For instance: Nelson and Heatwole could both enter the race for the gubernatorial nomination. It seems certain that between them they could secure nearly every county delegation. In addition to this, Nelson could be sure to develop strength in the Twin cities that Heatwole could not. With the allied strength of these two the nomination of one would be a certainty, if a mutual agreement could be reached. Then suppose it should be agreed that Heatwole should have Nelson's strength for the gubernatorial nomination. Then Knute Nelson would be a senatorial candidate. The power that Heatwole would wield as governor-elect could be thrown in the interest of Nelson. That this power would be a potent factor in the outcome can easily be seen. Heatwole would have the entire state patronage to trade in the interest of Nelson. Now to reverse the combination. Nelson might be decided upon as the safest man for the governorship. In this event his interest as governor could be used to further Heatwole's candidacy for the senatorship. Now, in the event that Heatwole's candidacy does not develop the required strength to make him a formidable candidate for either the governorship or the senatorship, Nelson could capture the governorship and use the power it would give him to further his candidacy for senator. In the event of his election as governor and his elevation to the senate by the vote of the legislature of that year, he could resign as governor and allow the governor's mantle to fall upon the shoulders of the lieutenant-governor. And why shouldn't this mantle fall upon the shoulders of Joel P. Heatwole?

The average Minnesota politician will pooh-pooh this story. It is not to the interest of these politicians or to their friends to admit its authenticity. Developments during the next two years, however, will show that there is "more truth than poetry" in this strong political alliance.

Nelson and Heatwole may fail in carrying out their plans. Bob Evans, the candidate that a good many Minnesotans gentlemen have in view for the next republican gubernatorial nomination, may win support enough to prevent its consummation. Under ordinary circumstances, Mr. Evans would be an ideal candidate. He has an enviable record in politics. He is a clean man politically, a brilliant speaker and a successful lawyer. All this has tended to strengthen him both in the city and in the country. During the past campaign he took the stump for the party and made hosts of friends by his fair-minded utterances in leading political issues. He has hundreds of admirers, who will work hard in his interest for the governorship, provided that he consents to become a candidate.

WHAT HALVORSEN IS.

An Old Associate in the Legislature Tells of the New Representative.

Ex-State Senator J. O. Milne, who was in the senate when Knute Halvorsen, now elected representative to congress, was in the house, gives The Herald the following interesting interview on Halvorsen and his capabilities:

"Yes, I have known the Hon. Knute Halvorsen for a number of years. He is a man of medium size, dresses very plainly but neatly and is a pleasant man to meet. He is a man of strong personal convictions, with moral backbone enough to stand by them, rather retiring, but not easily confused, not a brilliant speaker, but a clear thinker and a strong hitter, a hard worker and one who makes his work count."

"He is not a politician by profession, but I believe him to be the peer of any man in the Fifth district in the study of political economy, and he will be able to judge of the bearing any question may have upon the interests of his constituents as a whole. He will make a good congressman, who will faithfully serve his constituents, whether they live in Duluth or Stearns county."

"No, I am not one of those who believe the district would be better served by either of the other candidates. Neither am I one of those who believe that the McKinley bill is altogether to blame for his election. I should charge the blame more to the unwise and unpopular manner of controlling politics by a few self-appointed would-be leaders in every town, who have been able to control public patronage in their own interests until the people have said no further shalt thou go. This is the case in Polk county, where every member of the ring is left, from McGuire down."

"Halvorsen served in the state legislature in 1887. I was also in the senate at the time and know him well. I had occasion to look up his record pretty closely at one time there, and was surprised at it. It is good."

The Cry of Fraud.

The usual cry of fraud in the range vote is again being raised by the democrats. The only difference this year is that the state as well as the county committee is interested in the matter for if this vote can be thrown out it would go a long way toward electing Thomas Wilson. For this reason the leaders of the democratic party are making strenuous efforts to prove their claims. They allege that the poll lists at Tower were made up from the pay rolls of the Minnesota Iron company and that not only were a number of voters naturalized after the last day of registration, but that a great many were naturalized who had no right to be. These, in brief, are the claims, but the leaders of the republican party do not seem to be at least frightened over the ability of the democrats to prove them.

county's vote is 39 republicans and 12 democrats. There is talk of a contest by the democrats because of Indian votes.

The Way Made Clear.

One of the most serious obstacles to success in the way of man is planted right in the middle of the road to health. How to restore and to maintain a regular habit of body and digestion is too often a source of needless, and, unhappily, of vain inquiry. It is not necessary to inveigh against drastic purgatives. They who have used them continuously know the consequence. A remedy which unites the action of a regulating machine for the bowels with that of a tonic both for those organs, the liver and the stomach, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, sanctioned by the best medical authority, and receiving daily the endorsement of our fellow countrymen. With this effectual, though gentle, laxative at hand, it is possible to defy those changes of temperature productive of constipation, as well as constitutional attacks of biliousness, which beset even people naturally healthy. Malaria, dyspepsia, rheumatism and kidney troubles are remedied and prevented by the Bitters.

His Feeling Tribute. Indianapolis Journal: A tired-looking man with a deep band of crease on his hat came into the office of The Journal.

"Well?" said the editor. "My cousin Jim is dead," said the tired man with a deep-creased sigh; "my only cousin, whom I loved as a brother—or more."

"That's too bad." "Isn't it, though? And I—I have wrote a few verses of poetry on him, or rather about him, and I didn't know but what you might be inclined to print 'em."

The editor found on inspection that the poetry was not so bad as it might be—in fact, for obituary poetry, it was rather a superior article.

"I think we can find room for this," said the editor. "Ah, if you only will. My poor, poor cousin! If this little tribute to his memory —" Here he either got stuck in his sentence or broke down in emotion, and gave away to tears. Then he put on his hat, and stood on one foot and then on the other, and finally said: "Oh, er—do I get my check now or wait till publication?"

"What check?" "The check for my poetry, of course. Do you expect a man to sit up till 3 o'clock in the morning writing poetry for the fun of the thing?"

The tribute to cousin Jim has not yet appeared.

Ancient Jewish Cemetery. Upon a barren hill, apart from human habitation and public roads, near the village of Jugholz, Alsace, is a Jewish cemetery, the oldest in the country.

Numerous grave stones from the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries testify to its age. In the sad times of middle ages the dead from all parts of Alsace were brought here as a secure where the mobs did not disturb them. Even to this day many Jewish congregations from the neighborhood use it as a cemetery. In accordance with and old custom, Israelites visit the graves of their relatives in the month of Elul. During last month numerous strangers came to the village and from all parts of Alsace.
